PASS COURT BILL! ROOSEVELT

Mourns Necessity of Breaking 'Truce.'

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—Denouncing opponents of his proposal to pack the Supreme court for discussing "political and legislative matters" during the period of mourning for Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, who died yesterday, President Roosevelt tonight insisted that the court bill must be passed at this session of congress.

Senator Barkley.

By making his announcement in a letter to Senator Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] the President also took a direct hand in the bitter fight between Barkley and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, chairman of the finance committee, for the leadership post vacated by Senator Robinson's death.

The leadership battle, into which senate Democrats plunged today without waiting for the state funeral tomorrow or the private funeral and burial on Sunday of Senator Robinson, has developed into a showdown struggle for ascendancy between the anti-court packing and conservative elements and the Roosevelt radicals.

Unwilling to Abandon Pet.

In his letter to Senator Barkley, Mr. Roosevelt said that "to abandon any reform of the judicial processes at this session of the congress means an abandonment of the objectives."

In this he had reference apparently to the movement in congress favored by some former supporters of the court packing scheme to end the controversy for this session and send the bill back to the judiciary committee immediately upon the resumption of legislative business next Tuesday.

The President told Senator Barkley that "the objectives of the President, and, I believe, of the great majority of our citizens, remain the same, and . . . it is the duty of the congress, and especially of the members of the majority party in the senate and the house of representatives, to pass legislation at this session to carry out the objectives."

The President's letter was adroitly calculated to embarrass the court packing foes by accusing them of trying to make political capital out of Senator Robinson's death.

Opponents Reply in Kind.

Senators leading the fight against the proposal to subjugate the Supreme court immediately replied that Mr. Roosevelt himself, at noon yesterday, when the body of Senator Robinson was scarcely cold, broke the period of mourning by telling Senator Key Pittman [D., Nev.], president pro tem., that the fight must go on. Pittman emerged from the White House saying there would be a truce until next Tuesday, when the "shooting" would be resumed.

Leaders of the opposition had made plans for a motion to recommit the court bill as the most graceful way to end the violent controversy which has split the Democratic party wide open. However, after Pittman's return to the senate, and after the word was passed around that the President wanted to continue the fight, the opposition leaders were indignant.

"If the President hasn't had enough and still wants to fight, we'll give him more than he ever bargained for," one of them said. "We haven't even begun to fight."

Some Anxious for Issue.

The President's attitude determined some of the opposition leaders to abandon the plan to send the bill back to committee and fight it out to the bitter end. They are convinced that the bill can be defeated on a straight-out vote.

The opposition leaders were all the more astonished by Mr. Roosevelt's letter tonight because it was released by the White House a few hours after four freshmen Democrats had urged the President to abandon the court

FURCH INSANITY PLEA RIPPED BY STATE ALIENIST

Experts Testify at Murder Trial.

Victim's Letters

The fate of Frank J. Furch, on trial for the slaying of his second divorced wife, hung yesterday on the conflicting testimony of alienists, experts on the strange mental quirks which determine the slender border line between sanity and insanity.

After carefully laying the basis of defense that the chiropodist killed Mrs. Norma Schmidt on Feb. 26 in a burst of emotional insanity to which her conduct had goaded him, the defense produced Dr. Alex S. Hershfield, former state alienist and now in private practice as an expert on neuropsychosis.

Alienists' Views Conflict.

Through his testimony, Defense Attorney Samuel A. Hoffman sought support for his plea that Furch was insane when he fired the shot killing Mrs. Schmidt. Dr. Hershfield said this concept was correct.

Then came Dr. Harry A. Hoffman, chief of the Criminal court behavior clinic. He was called by the state as a rebuttal witness before the jury and Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Criminal court.

The state contends Dr. Furch murdered his former wife well knowing the difference between right and wrong, and that he even premeditated the killing. In support of this view, Dr. Hoffman declared Dr. Furch was completely sane at the time of killing, although he is subject to "temporary rages or furies."

Defense Closes Case.

Dr. Hoffman testified after the defense closed its case at noon with the interrogation of Dr. Hershfield and Dr. Furch's small son, Buddy Furch, born to his first wife, Mrs. Myrtle Tash Furch.

For twenty minutes Assistant State's Attorney Eugene Wachowski, who is assisting Prosecutor Morris G. Meyers, propounded a hypothetical question to Dr. Hoffman dealing with the mental condition of Dr. Furch and his relations before, during, and after his second marriage. Six specific instances of brutality were mentioned.

"From this hypothetical question and from the testimony you heard given by the defendant in this case," Mr. Wachowski asked Dr. Hoffman, "have you an opinion as to whether this hypothetical person knew the difference between right and wrong when he fired the shot that killed his second ex-wife?" "I have," was the reply.

Sane! Says State Alienist.

Q.—What was that? A.—That he knew the difference between right and wrong.

Q.—Have you any opinion, doctor, as to whether he could choose be-

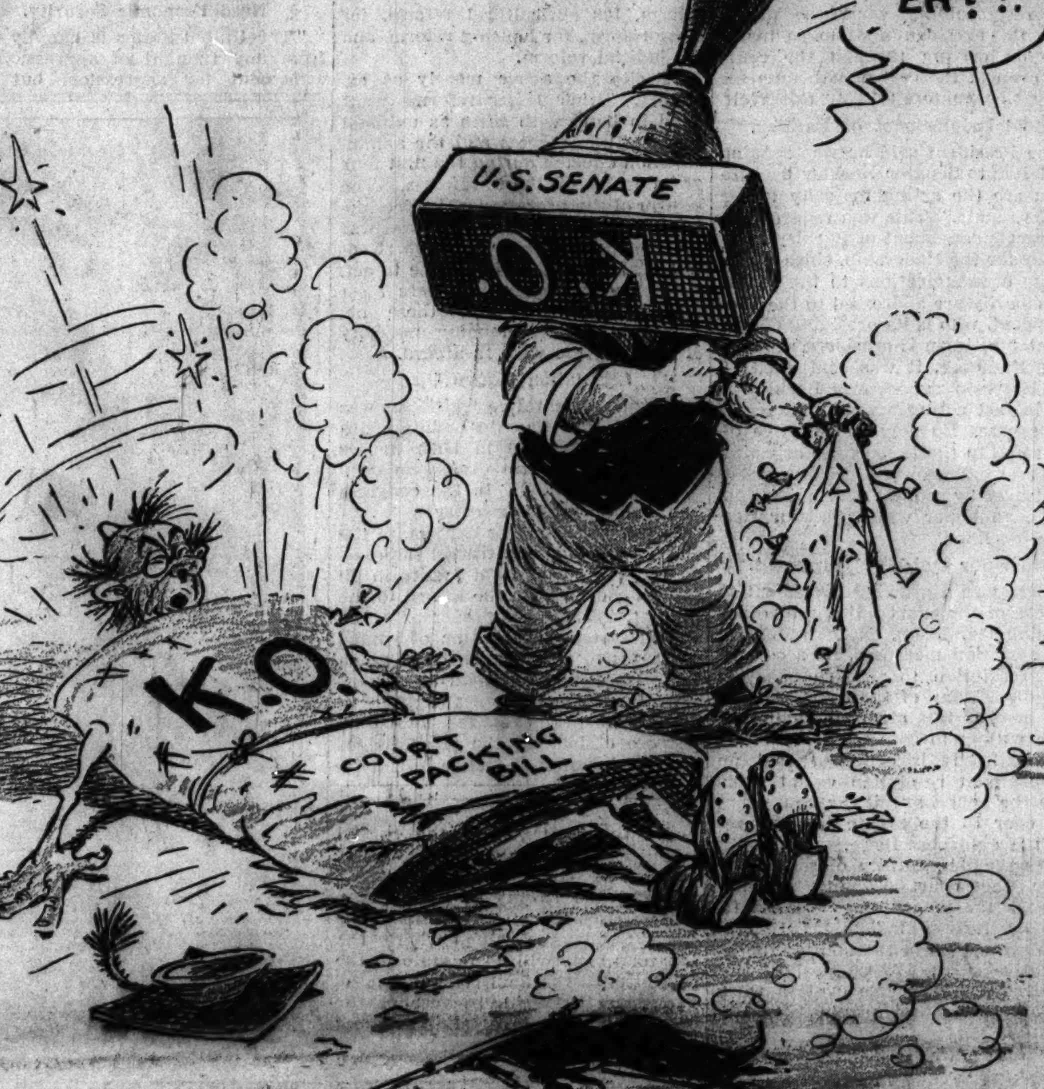
"I Beat Her to Death," Pastor Confesses

THE REVERSE OF WHAT THEY EXPECTED



Mae West Now His Only Love, Wallace Says

New York, July 15.—[Special.]—Guess who is the new attorney for Frank Wallace, the man who says Mae West done him wrong in 1911, and wants his heart balmed? [Wallace said today she was the love of his life.]

John J. McNaboe.

The man is State Senator John J. McNaboe, who achieved legislative fame with his anti-heart balm bills in New York state.

Wallace said he had retained the senator as his "counselor." His lawyer, Wallace said, still was Samuel J. Siegel, in whose office he received interviewers.

Wants Wedding Admitted.

The senator was first to declare that Wallace was not in the least interested in the fact that the curve queen has piled up a lot of money in California. He said, though, that under California law, a man is entitled to half of his wife's property.

"All we want is a declaratory judgment," the senator said, "the judgment to declare that Wallace is indeed Miss West's husband.

"Why do we want it?" the senator continued. "Why, because of all the things she [Miss West] said about her husband, that's why."

Won't Talk of Love.

Thereupon the senator and Mr. Siegel announced that Mr. Wallace was ready to be interviewed. The interview went thus:

"Do you still love Mae West, Mr. Wallace?"

"That's out," hollered Mr. Siegel.

"That's out," hollered the senator. "You ask us the questions, and let us pass on them."

"When did you last see Miss West—do you recall, Mr. Wallace?"

"No," answered Mr. Siegel, "he can't recall."

Mae Is Wallace's Choice.

A couple more questions went the same way, but finally Mr. Wallace shot in an answer to "Who is your favorite movie actress?" before he could be stopped. He answered quickly:

"Mae West. There's only been one love in my life, and that's her."

After that he subsided and let his lawyer and his counselor do the rest.

"If Mr. Siegel says it, it's true," Wallace announced. "If he doesn't say it, it's not true."

La Mae Listens.

While his lawyer and his counselor bared Wallace's soul to the interviewer, Miss Trixie La Mae, surmounted by a mass of platinum curls, stood demurely by, saying also nothing.

The lawyer and the counselor explained that Miss La Mae is Mr. Wallace's vaudeville dancing partner and that the team has been resting at her home in Henderson, Ky.

BRITISH PEERS PASS BILL TO LIBERALIZE GROUNDS FOR DIVORCE

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 15.—A. P. Herbert won one of his greatest triumphs today in his long battle to liberalize the British divorce laws and end what he himself has called the state of "holy deadlock."

The house of lords finally approved Herbert's marriage bill which broadens the grounds for divorce in this country and sent the bill back with a number of amendments for final approval of the house of commons.

One amendment changed the original proposal in the bill that there should be no divorce for five years after marriage. By a vote of 91 to 67, the lords decided the time limit should be reduced to three years, and that hard cases could be dealt with at the discretion of the judges of the high court.

Manna from Heaven! Fish Rain on South Bend

South Bend, Ind., July 15.—(AP)—Aftermath of a heavy rain storm, hundreds of silvery minnows littered streets and yards in the northwest part of South Bend today. The phenomenon is believed to have been caused by waterspouts which lift small fish high into the air where wind currents carry them long distances.

U.S. Flags, 'Big as a House,' Mark Liner to Pass Spain

GENOA, Italy, July 15.—(AP)—The Dollar liner President Garfield, in port here today, had two enormous United States flags, the size of a house, painted on each side, so as to be easily identifiable in passing through Spanish waters en route to New York.

Paris Waiters Riot; Hurl Ink on Americans

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 15.—Americans and other foreign visitors sitting on cafe terraces for pre-dinner aperitifs or after dinner coffee were the victims tonight of violence done by striking garçons.

The strikers squirted methylene blue and ink, shattered great plate glass windows with bricks, smashed siphon bottles and glasses and broke tables to hurl the pieces through windows.

Sporadic violence in the cafe and hotel workers' strike became today a wave which hit very nearly all this capital's cafes familiar to American globe trotters.

Drive Against Holdouts.

It was an effort by the waiters, who appear to be losing the strike, to drive off the customers of the principal cafes which are holding out against the newest demands instead of yielding as a few have done.

The famous Cafe de la Paix, traditional hangout of Americans visiting Paris, suffered several bricks hurled through its windows as well as several smashed tables and broken glasses.

Among the familiar places smashed up, or whose customers were given an ink or methylene blue bath, were: the Cafe d'Angleterre; Wepler's in Montmartre; the Tour d'Argent restaurant, renowned among gourmets; the Cafe-Restaurant de la Rotonde on boulevard du Montparnasse, venerable artists hangout, newly reopened after renovation, and the Chope Latine in the student quarter.

Terraces Suffer Most.

The squirting of methylene blue was perpetrated mainly at the big terrace cafes, in the Place St. Augustin and in the vicinity of the army and navy club.

The federation of labor issued a formal disavowal of the acts of violence, attributing them to agents provocateurs, but this had no effect in diminishing the attacks. The Radical Socialist organ L'Oeuvre, in its Friday morning edition, is printing a front page appeal declaring: "It is not only the labor movement which is compromised, but the arrival in France of thousands of Americans now crossing the Atlantic headed for Europe."

20 Killed in Mine Blast at Sullivan, Ind.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Sullivan, Ind., July 15.—[Special.]—The bodies of twenty coal miners killed early today in a terrific gas explosion at the Glendora Coal company's Baker mine, six miles northeast of here, were brought to the surface tonight by rescue crews. Shortly afterward exploration parties descended into the shaft to determine the cause of the blast, most tragic mine accident in this region in recent years.

In addition to the twenty dead, nine other miners were injured, three of them seriously. While the sorrowing families of the dead followed the bodies to the undertaking rooms in Sullivan, the injured were removed to the Mary Sherman hospital here.

Only 29 in Blast Area.

The explosion was confined to one section of the mine floor, 212 feet below the surface. This section, where the twenty-nine victims were working, is a mile and three-quarters north of the mine entrance. One hundred and seventy-four miners working in adjoining sections and rooms were uninjured, although many of them were knocked off their feet by the blast.

Members of an exploring party, who included representatives of the Federal Bureau of Mines and the Indiana State Department of Mines, advanced the theory tonight that the flame from one of the open carbide lamps that miners wear on their hats, ignited a small pocket of coal gas which had formed just below the ceiling of the section.

This caused a short, popping blast which apparently ignited a larger layer of the gas, escaping through a leak in sealed and abandoned sections nearby. The second and stronger explosion followed the first almost immediately.

Tested for Gas.

The mine had been tested for gas two hours before the explosion by Rollie Fair, a fire boss, one of those who perished in the blast.

The explosion occurred soon after the 7 o'clock shift of 203 miners had gone to work. The mine is worked 24 hours a day, in three eight hour shifts.

There was a sharp blast at 7:06 a. m. and an instant later a more powerful and louder blast. There was

PITCHES BODY INTO RIVER ON WAY BACK HOME

Pittsfield, Ill., July 15.—[Special.]—The Rev. C. E. Newton, 51 years old, veteran Baptist minister, confessed tonight that he slew Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45, for many years his friend and parishioner in Paris, Mo., early last Tuesday and threw her body into the Mississippi river.

The stolid minister made his confession to State's Attorney Merrill Johnston of Pike county after steadfastly denying for two days that he had any connection with the crime. He was brought to the jail here from his Paris home after Mrs. Kelly's bruised and battered body was recovered late Tuesday from the river.

His Story of Crime.

"Mrs. Kelly and I were riding along in my car," Prosecutor Johnston quoted Newton as relating. "I wanted to turn back home but she didn't. We began to scuffle in the car and she fell out, striking her head and injuring herself. Trying to get her back into the car, I fell out, too.

"I got panicky and struck her on the head with a hammer, and then drove back to the bridge [the Mark Twain bridge across the Mississippi at Hannibal, Mo.] and pushed her over the banister."

Wants to Catch Train, He Says.

The minister then explained that Mrs. Kelly had persuaded him to drive her to some point where she could catch a train or bus "because she was leaving her husband." In a note to her husband she had stated she was "leaving and he never would find her."

"When we got to Hannibal, Mrs. Kelly insisted on going on," said Newton. "We asked the bridgetender on the Illinois side about Hull, Ill. He said we could make no connections there, but we drove on anyway."

Then he related the quarrel and scuffle, the blows by the hammer, of driving back to the bridge. "I knew she was dead," he said.

Authorities who heard the minister's statement said they were not satisfied with his explanation of the crime and planned to question him further regarding his motives.

New Evidence Piled Up.

Newton's confession followed a succession of swift developments today in which circumstantial evidence was pyramided against him. These developments were:

1. The contradiction of the minister's alibi—that he was at home during the time fixed for the tragedy—by his wife's story that he left at 11 o'clock last Monday night and did not return until after dawn.

2. The recovery from Newton's adopted daughter, Miss Myra Hanan, 36 years old, of $1,930 presumed to be part of the $1,950 Mrs. Kelly had withdrawn from a bank.

3. The statement of Prosecuting Attorney Walter Stillwell of Marion county, Mo., that Miss Hanan had told him that her foster-father admitted to her that he had "done away" with Mrs. Kelly.

Clews Found at Home.

Newton was first connected with Mrs. Kelly's disappearance when it was learned she mentioned his name in a 14 page farewell note to her husband. A search at the minister's home revealed wisps of hair and stains under the floor mat of his freshly washed automobile, four loaded revolvers, stained clothing, and a deep, long hole, resembling a grave, dug in his garage. He was arrested by Sherif Russell Wilkes of Monroe county, Missouri, and brought here because it was believed the crime was committed in Illinois.

The money was turned over to Prosecuting Attorney Tom Proctor of Monroe county today by Miss Hanan. Proctor said Miss Hanan told him the money had been given to her in an envelope by Newton as "valuable papers" to keep for him.

Asked by Prosecutor Johnston about the money which Mrs. Kelly had with her, Newton stated:

"She had put the money in the pocket of my car. I didn't think any more of it until I got home. Then I gave it to Myra Hanan. She and my son, Noel, took the luggage belonging to Mrs. Kelly from my car and burned it up."

The charred remnants of Mrs. Kelly's luggage, Proctor said, were found by a roadside in Shelby county, Mo., 31 miles northeast of Paris, where Miss Hanan and the minister's son, Noel, had admitted burning two suitcases they recognized as Mrs Kelly's.

Newton and the red-haired, attractive church worker who was the mother of two sons had long been friends. Mrs. Kelly championed the pastor in a church controversy here last year that resulted in his resignation after 13 years' service. Proctor said Mrs. Kelly's husband and friends "were well aware of the strong bond between his wife and the minister."

Questioned yesterday, Newton said Mrs. Kelly had told him she was discontented at home and planned to leave. He also knew she had withdrawn close to $2,000 from the bank, he said.

Newton, who was a former mayor of Kahoka, Mo., has been a Baptist minister for thirty years. He is the father of two children.

ANNOUNCE NEW 'PAIN KILLER' IN TOOTH DRILLING

Atlantic City, N. J., July 15.—(AP)—A new "pain killer," described as the most effective anesthetic yet devised for tooth drilling, was announced before the American Dental association convention today by its discoverers, Drs. Harold A. Osserman and Abraham Taub of New York City.

The new chemical, developed at Columbia university's college of pharmacy, has been named "tabesthesin," and was said by Dr. Osserman to be "100 per cent effective" in 80 per cent of the cases in which it has been tried so far, and totally ineffective in only 4 per cent.

It works on much the same principle as the anesthetic brought out two years ago by Dr. Leroy L. Hartman of the same university. Dr. Hartman's preparation was reported effective in only 32 per cent of the cases in which it was tried in a special test.

WIND RIPS OFF THEATER ROOF; 50 ARE UNHURT

Monroe, Mich., July 15.—(AP)—Fifty persons in the Majestic theater escaped injury when a wind, rain and electric storm ripped off the roof and tossed it against a grocery across the street, caving in the front.

The Detroit Edison company's plant was damaged extensively. Residence and street lights were out and factories with night shifts closed because of lack of power. Lightning struck a few buildings, and the storm blew in the side of an old section of the Consolidated Paper company's south side plant. Streets were blocked by débris.

The storm struck a section from Monroe to Detroit, and Wyandotte was partly without lights. In Belleville a man was killed by lightning, and in Detroit ten passengers were taken to a hospital when lightning struck a street car.

16 Couples Gets Chicago Licenses; 10 at Crown Point

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn announced that marriage licenses were issued to sixteen couples yesterday under the new marriage law which requires filing of a three day notice of intention to wed, and also requires medical certificates showing that applicants are free from venereal disease. At Crown Point, Ind., where none of these regulations is observed, ten Chicago couples applied for licenses during the day. A total of 42 licenses have been issued in Cook county since last Saturday when the three day notice law became effective.

Begin Testimony in Tate Ambulance Chasing Trial

Testimony was begun yesterday before a jury in the Criminal court of Judge Peter H. Schwaba in the ambulance chasing trial of Attorney Murphy O. Tate, two other laywers, and a physician. The four are charged with conspiracy to defraud the surface lines company in connection with alleged fake accident claims. Street car officials testified that a Clark street car in which twenty-three persons claimed injuries as the result of a collision with another car last November at 18th and Clark streets was empty at the time of the crash.

Nancy Hoyt in Seclusion After Foiled Elopement

Bar Harbor, Me., July 15.—[Special.]—Mrs. Nancy Hoyt Curtis, 34 years old, twice married society novelist, who almost eloped with James Baker, 27, a taxicab driver, was in seclusion at her home here today. Her mother, Mrs. Henry Martyn Hoyt, was understood to be seeing that she had plenty of quiet. Police helped to foil the elopement by taking Baker into custody. He was held only temporarily. Mrs. Curtis is the daughter of the late Henry Martyn Hoyt, former U. S. solicitor general.

ROOSEVELT RAPS CONGRESS FOR DELAY ON COURT

Stop Bickering Over the Methods, He Orders.

packing scheme and told him flatly that they would vote for a motion to recommit.

The freshmen senators at the White House conference were Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, an opponent of the bill; Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, heretofore noncommittal; Charles O. Andrews of Florida, heretofore noncommittal, and Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan, committed in favor of the compromise.

The senators told Mr. Roosevelt that to continue the fight for the court packing measure would result in bitterness and dissension even more violent than the eight days of debate that preceded Senator Robinson's death yesterday morning. That death would be made a principal issue and responsibility would be placed upon the President's stubborn insistence on driving through the court bill, even at the cost of wrecking his party, the senators told Mr. Roosevelt.

Held Indorsement of Barkley.

The President said he was sending his letter to Senator Barkley because "you are the acting majority leader in the senate." This was regarded as a direct indorsement of Barkley's candidacy for the leadership, since White House communications to the senate customarily are addressed to the Vice President, who is its presiding officer. Senator Pittman is president pro tem.

Furthermore, it was contended by the Harrison supporters, Barkley is not in fact acting majority leader of the senate. He holds no elective office at all in the Democratic organization and has merely served as assistant leader by request of Senator Robinson, an honor which Senator Harrison declined.

Move for Quick Adjournment.

There was a growing movement to dispose of the court bill and all other pending legislation, except necessary appropriation measures, by a concurrent resolution to adjourn congress sine die. Many of the court packing foes favored this plan, although they were willing to vote for a motion to recommit. It is conceded that an adjournment resolution would stampede the house, and if the house sent one over to the senate the chances are it would pass there.

The seeming futility of seeking to drive the court packing measure through the senate was enhanced today by further indications that it hasn't a chance in the house. Representative Scott W. Lucas [D., Ill.] received a tumultuous ovation when he delivered a speech urging abandonment of the project as an unnecessary and "utterly dangerous measure."

Capitol Funeral Today.

Senator Robinson's body will be placed in the senate chamber at 10 a. m. tomorrow. Banked with flowers, it will rest in the "pit" where the majority leader delivered his last speech in defense of the court bill. Mrs. Robinson and other relatives will be given the seats closest to the casket, while officials and diplomats will be grouped about the President's dais. There will be scripture and a short sermon by the Rev. Zebarney T. Phillips, senate chaplain, and choristers from a nearby church will close the service.

Immediately after the funeral the body will be taken to the special train, scheduled to leave Washington at 10 p. m. On it will be some fifty senators and twenty or more representatives. It will arrive in Little Rock Sunday morning, where the senator's body will lie in state in the capitol until the final rites at 4 p. m. President Roosevelt, because of the press of international affairs, is not expected to accompany the funeral party to Arkansas.

ROOSEVELT'S LETTER TO BARKLEY ON COURT

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's letter to Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, acting majority leader, on his plans for changes in the Supreme court and other federal courts follows:

"My dear Alben:

"I am glad you called my attention to certain events of yesterday and today. Lest there be any misunderstanding in regard to judicial reform, please let me clarify the situation.

"Since the untimely death of our majority leader I had hoped, with you, that at least until his funeral services had been held a decent respect for his memory would have deferred discussion of political and legislative matters.

"It is, therefore, with regret that I find that advantage is being taken of what, in all decency, should be a period of mourning.

"Because of this situation, however, I am compelled in the public interest, though against every inclination, to write to you. I do this because you are the acting majority leader in the senate.

Needs Seen Four Years Ago.

"Over four years ago it became apparent to the American people and to the leadership of the new administration of the national government and to the newly elected congress that grave problems of many kinds called for great reforms. The American people, in an overwhelming majority, recognized the need for bank reform, for agricultural reform, for labor reform, for housing reform, and for judicial reform.

"I cite the above merely as examples. Other lesser reforms went hand in hand with them as national needs. The congress and the administration effected during the first four years many of these reforms. The reform of the processes of justice, the need for which was nothing new, was recommended by me on Feb. 5 of this year. The time had come to act.

"In my message to congress I set forth objectives. With these objectives the overwhelming majority of the congress were in accord.

Legislation Drawn Up.

"Proposed tentative legislation was drawn at that time to facilitate discussion of methods in both houses of the congress and discussion commenced immediately in the congress and throughout the country.

"Let me make clear once more the objectives. They constituted improvements in the process of justice in all federal courts, from the lowest to the highest. These improvements included systematic addition of younger judges to all such courts in which there were judges beyond retirement age who had not taken advantage of retirement privileges for the dual purpose of helping the older judges give a maximum of justice in a minimum of time and of keeping the social viewpoints of the courts abreast of changing conditions. Those improvements also contemplated adequate machinery for supervision by the Supreme court of the expeditious dispatch of business by the lower courts and for getting constitutional questions to the Supreme court without delay.

The Methods Not "Sacred."

"These were the objectives. At no time have I or any member of my administration insisted that the method or methods originally proposed be sacred or final except to point out that action was of immediate necessity and, therefore, that the process of constitutional amendment was an impossibility if the objective was to be attained within a reasonable time. It is, of course, clear that any determined minority group in the nation could, without great difficulty, block ratification by one means or another in at least thirteen states for a long period of time.

"Objectives can be obtained by constitutional legislation and both the original bill and Senator Robinson's bill were clearly constitutional.

"There was the other reason for action by legislation rather than by constitutional amendment. The situation of the civilized world has been, for several years, at a point of extreme danger. This has been caused by three factors—aggression and armament, economic crisis, and major social needs.

Need Economic Security.

"The United States is happily free from any thought of aggression or armament for aggression, but the people of the United States have called for economic security and for major social improvements. National safety demands them.

"About a month ago Senator Robinson advised me that some new form or forms of method were called for if the objectives of judicial reform were to be attained. I told him that in my judgment the bill he proposed would be a satisfactory method of attaining such objectives. I told him further what I had told to all others who have asked my opinion—that on the congress of the United States falls the primary responsibility for the adoption of methods but that on the President falls the responsibility of recommending objectives. This is in accordance with the constitution.

Refuses Abandonment.

"To abandon any reform of the judicial processes at this session of the congress means an abandonment of the objectives.

"An abandonment of judicial reform, including, of course, all the federal courts, because of the inability of a majority of senators or a majority of representatives to agree on method and reach a vote, places the responsibility squarely on the congress of the United States.

"May I, therefore, tell you very simply once more that the objectives of the President, and, I believe of the great majority of our citizens, remain the same, and that I believe that it is the duty of the congress, and especially of the members of the majority party in the senate and the house of representatives, to pass legislation at this session to carry out the objectives."

WOMAN TELLER JAILED FOR YEAR FOR BANK THEFT

Mrs. Althea Ferne Dennis, 45 years old, former receiving teller for the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge William H. Holly in federal court to embezzling approximately $15,000 of the bank's funds. She was sentenced to a year and a day at a woman's federal prison. According to Assistant District Attorney Thomas B. Hart, Mrs. Dennis said she lost most of the funds in betting on horses with two women bookmakers. Hart indicated that action may be taken against the bookmakers. Mrs. Dennis lived at 921 Eastwood avenue. She had been employed at the bank for eleven years.

STRUCK BY TRAIN; KILLED.

A man identified through cards in his clothing as Dwight Mason, 45 years old, 700 West 61st street, was killed early yesterday when he was struck by a train along the Chicago Great Western railroad tracks in Proviso township.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Death Cancels Pledge to Robinson.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—The death of Senator Joseph T. Robinson has left the Supreme court vacancy, caused by the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter, wide open to a field of candidates.

Robinson's elevation was regarded as certain. He desired to end his career by serving on the highest bench of the land and was reported to have had the promise of the first vacancy from President Roosevelt.

Robinson's nomination would have brought no contest in the senate. It was granted that he was preëminently entitled to the appointment through his long years of service to the party and for the loyalty and energy he displayed as majority leader in steering administration programs through the senate.

Free to Make Choice.

His death leaves President Roosevelt complete freedom of choice in the selection of an associate justice. No Democrat in congress is considered entitled to the seat by ability or service.

Considerations of party harmony and geography would impel the selection of a southerner or a midwesterner. In the face of these considerations Felix Frankfurter, professor of law at Harvard university, whose bright young pupils [Hot Dogs] hold key legal positions in the administration, is conceded to have the inside track at the White House, even though he is an easterner.

By appointing Frankfurter to the bench the President would pave the way for the retirement of Associate Justice Louis Brandeis, 80 years old and liberal, who is, however, reported against the court plan.

Would Satisfy Jews.

Brandeis' retirement was stayed by the court plan and pleas of Jewish organizations that he remain on the bench. The appointment of Frankfurter would satisfy the Jews. Frankfurter also is reported to be against the court plan, but his liberalism would outweigh this fault in the eyes of his friend, President Roosevelt, administration leaders feel.

The south has one representative on the court, Justice James C. McReynolds. The fourth and fifth judicial circuits, covering most of the south, are unrepresented. The southwest and Pacific coast are unrepresented.

The populous central states are also unrepresented. Senator James Hamilton Lewis [D., Ill.] has announced that Illinois should get the vacancy and has put forth Chief Justice Forman Jones and Justice Warren Orr of the Illinois Supreme court. Either one will be satisfactory to him, Senator Lewis said.

Gov. Murphy Mentioned.

Most frequently mentioned midwesterners in the administration are Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan, former NRA Administrator Donald Richberg of Illinois, Dean Lloyd K. Garrison of the Wisconsin law school, and Joseph P. Devaney, president of the American Lawyers' guild. On the possibility the appointment may go to a woman the name of Judge Florence E. Allen of the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals at Cleveland, is mentioned often.

There is considerable sentiment in the administration for a liberal Catholic on the bench to offset Justice Butler, conservative Catholic. Gov. Murphy and Devaney are considered as measuring up to this need.

South Has Candidates.

In the south Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson Jr. of the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals in Texas and Judge Sam C. Bratton of the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals in New Mexico, a former United States senator, are the outstanding candidates. Senator Hugo Black of Alabama, the most radical southerner in the senate and the equal of any northern radical, is a strong candidate.

Few of the southern and western candidates are liberal enough to suit the President, observers feel. The east has, in addition to Frankfurter, Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson of New York, SEC Chairman James M. Landis, Judge Learned Hand of the First Circuit Court of Appeals and such young radical lawyers as Thomas Corcoran and Ben Cohen.

Lund was injured and the auto damaged. Lund walked to an ambulance and was taken to Henrotin hospital.

PAY LEVY PART OF PENSION LAW PUZZLES HORNER

Springfield, Ill., July 15.—[Special.]—Gov. Horner and representatives of the other state officers conferred tonight, seeking a legal way to make pension deductions from state payrollers' salaries, as required by a bill which became law last Monday.

The question as to the proper person to make the deductions of the three and one-fourth per cent from women employés' checks, and four and one-fourth from the men, was the problem. The pension bill, introduced by Representative Benjamin S. Adamowski, simply states the deductions shall be made by "the proper officials."

That was being variously construed as meaning Auditor of Public Accounts Edward J. Barrett, department heads, or the constitutional officers themselves. That the latter should was the opinion of Attorney General Kerner.

Truck Manager Killed by "L" Train in Evanston

Albert H. Brereton, 30 years old, 822 Hamlin street, Evanston, a plumbing company truck manager, was killed early today when he was run over by a Rapid Transit Lines train on the Lincoln street bridge in the suburb. Motorman Charles Kungas, 4719 North Leavitt street, told Evanston police that Brereton was lying on the rails and that he did not see him in time to stop. Brereton's wife is out of the city. They have one child.

SLIPPERY SKIPS HIS TRIAL AFTER FIXER PALS FAIL

Pickpocket's $1,500 Bail Ordered Forfeited.

Joseph [Slippery] Harris, a pickpocket with a record of 33 arrests since 1919, lived up to his nickname yesterday. He failed to appear in Felony court to answer a charge of attempted larceny brought by William L. Porter, 4741 Malden street, who found Harris' hand in his pocket on June 28 on a street car at Lawrence avenue and Broadway.

Judge Frank M. Padden ordered Harris' $1,500 bond forfeited and issued a capias for his arrest. Assistant State's Attorney Joseph O'Connor told the court the prosecutor's office had received several telephone calls from persons interested in getting the case fixed, and he recommended the bond forfeiture.

Judge Forgets Case.

Harris' bond was signed by Maurice Goldstein, 3614 Roosevelt road, who scheduled property at 1305 South Peoria street, said to be worth $3,500. The bond was approved by Judge Eugene L. McGarry of the Municipal court. Judge McGarry said last night that he did not remember the case.

Summerdale police who arrested Harris were interested in the outcome of the case because extraordinary efforts were made to gain his release. Immediately after Harris' arrest the station received many calls from persons who represented themselves as politicians and asserted that Harris was a man of fine reputation.

Record Shows Arrests.

But his record at the detective bureau showed arrests in Richmond, Va.; Pittsburgh, St. Louis, New York City, Newark, N. J.; Cincinnati, Albany, Troy, and Poughkeepsie, N. Y.; Louisville, Minneapolis, Boston, Kansas City, and Winnipeg, Canada.

He served one prison term in New York and in 1927 served two months in the Bridewell here on a charge of petty larceny. When arrested he gave his address as 1217 South Kedzie avenue and said he was 32 years old. If he had been in court yesterday it would have been his 24th appearance there in the last ten years.

Farm and City Forces Join for Fight Against All Weeds

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Ragweed warring forces are spreading their activities into every nook and corner of the state. Agencies that are directing the fight against weeds as a means of preventing hay fever from pollen reported yesterday that an increasing number of individuals, farm and city organizations, and business concerns are joining the campaign.

Thousands are in the army of weed cutters working on vacant lots, farms, highways, railways, forest preserves, play grounds and waste lots throughout the rural and urban sections of the state.

Weed Committee to Meet.

To aid in cleaning up weeds in every corner of Chicago, the citizens' weed control committee appointed by Mayor Kelly will meet at 2 p. m. next Tuesday in the offices of the Association of Commerce. At the mayor's request the meeting was called by C. L. Rice, member of the committee and president of the association. Rice said the purpose of the meeting is to elect a chairman and other officers and to organize a weed control program.

A. C. Korsgard, chief forester of Cook county, reported yesterday that crews are at work with power mowers in the forest preserves. Men with scythes are cleaning up the odd corners that cannot be reached with the big mowers.

Health authorities have urged land owners in this part of the state to begin cutting weeds promptly. Ragweeds are in many cases more than 2 feet high on some of the city's vacant lots. Experts say the weeds should be cut within the next few weeks to prevent the development of pollen which causes hay fever.

Cutting of All Weeds Urged.

Dr. Irving S. Cutter, dean of the school of medicine at Northwestern university and health editor of THE TRIBUNE, said yesterday that it is not necessary for city property owners or farmers to definitly identify weeds. He advises cutting all weeds instead of attempting to single out ragweeds or other plants that cause hay fever. There are so many weeds that cause hay fever and related diseases that land owners should cut every weed they find, he added.

Louis Niccum, weed commissioner of Waukegan township, was out with his crews yesterday mowing neglected vacant lots where some of the giant ragweeds were more than 6 feet tall. Cost of cutting the weeds is being added to the property owners' tax bills. In Waukegan a lot 200 feet square at the northeast corner of Glen Flora avenue and Chestnut street, and another, 200 by 300 feet, at the southwest corner of Ravine and McAllister avenues, were mowed.

Rescued by a life guard after he stepped into water over his head at the Foster avenue beach yesterday, the first words of James Dumphy, 8 years old, 3743 Berteau avenue, were: "Where's Philip? We were wading together."

The children's mother, Elsie, cried for help and bathers and policemen joined life guards in a search for her younger boy, Philip Jr., 5½ years old.

As fire department rescue squads arrived, all life guards as far north as Howard street were mobilized. While some dropped grappling hooks from boats, forty-two guards made a chain, submerging under water in the search. Early last night Guard Joseph Kukula brought up the body. Mrs. Dumphy collapsed and was taken home.

Edwin Glod, 17 years old, 2445 California avenue, and Herman Sledge, 14, colored, of 538 Market street, both of Waukegan, drowned yesterday while swimming in different parts of Fox Lake.

NEWTON BAKER IS BETTER AFTER SLIGHT PARALYSIS

Saratoga Spring, N. Y., July 15.—(AP)—Newton D. Baker, Cleveland, O., lawyer and secretary of war under President Wilson, is suffering from a "slight cerebral thrombosis," an attending physician said today. That condition was said to be "clearing up rapidly."

"Mr. Baker's condition is not alarming and, unless something most unexpected happens, he will leave for home by the first of the week," the doctor said. "He has had the use of his arms and legs since he was stricken last Monday."

Earlier Mrs. Baker had said her husband had suffered a "slight stroke of paralysis."

Calls Jackson's Position "Utterly Untenable."

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—The verbal war over the propriety of exempting Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's radio income from taxation continued today, with Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] assailing Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson for the "utterly untenable, indefensible, and illegal advice" he gave the wife of the President.

"Mr. Jackson takes the blame for advising Mrs. Roosevelt that she could contribute the income from her radio broadcasts direct to charity without payment of taxes," said Fish. "I have the highest regard for the charitable impulses of Mrs. Roosevelt, but not for the advice of Mr. Jackson.

Reviews Facts in Case.

"The facts are simple. In the agreement providing for Mrs. Roosevelt's broadcasting for a shoe company, $3,000 was paid for each radio speech direct to the American Friends Service committee. In addition, $1,000 was paid to Myles F. Lasker, Mrs. Roosevelt's agent, of which he was required to pay $400 to Miss Nancy Cook [close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt] for each broadcast.

"The law specifically requires that all income should be set forth and permits an allowance up to 15 per cent for charity, whether assigned or not. My contention is that the law must apply equally for all persons, men and women, rich and poor alike. The law recognizes no favoritism or special privilege for any individual.

Sees Treasury Losses.

"If earned income can be diverted directly to charity without report for income tax purposes, then the du Ponts, Mellons, Rockefellers, and Morgans can divert their income direct to selected charities and avoid payment of approximately 60 per cent on surtaxes to the federal government. If the principle set forth by Mr. Jackson prevails, the treasury might lose several hundred millions of dollars annually unless this loophope is plugged."

Fish said he did not think the "subterfuge" approved by Jackson of having the money Mrs. Roosevelt earned sent directly to charity would stand up in any court.

"Mr. Jackson stated," Fish continued, "that if I wished to continue the controversy that I should direct my criticism at 'us men.'

Accepts Challenge.

"I am only too glad to accept the challenge, but at the same time I must point out that the treasury department did not hesitate to publish the names of Mrs. Ailsa Mellon Bruce, the daughter of the former secretary of the treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, and Mrs. Nathan Miller, the wife of the last Republican governor of New York state, as well as other well known women.

"I wonder if Mr. Jackson's view of the law would have been the same if Andrew Mellon or some other Republican had been the person seeking the same kind of tax exemption. Was this a ruling of the tax bureau or merely his own personal opinion?"

The special committee investigating methods of tax evasion was to have met today to decide whether to examine the income tax returns of James Roosevelt, eldest son of the President, whose income as an insurance salesman has been subjected to attack. The death of Senator Joseph T. Robinson gave the members an excuse for not holding a session, which was quickly grasped. Members said they did not know when they would meet again.

Boy Sets Girl on Fire; Runs; Burns Kill Her

Boston, Mass., July 15.—[Special.]—Six year old Jacqueline Rollins of Lynn, whose clothing was set afire by a boy this afternoon, died of burns in a hospital tonight. The girl told her mother the boy touched a lighted match to her dress and ran away. She said she did not know him.

TEST NEW AIR MAIL

(Story in adjoining column.)

WELCOME GIVEN SOVIET FLYERS IN SAN DIEGO

San Diego, Cal., July 15.—[Special.]—The three soviet flyers who hopped from Moscow over the north pole to California for a nonstop distance record left today for Los Angeles after a civic luncheon here. Tentative plans call for a welcome from officials of the army and navy, city authorities, and representatives of the aircraft industry.

After Pilot Mikhail Gromoff, Co-Pilot Andrei Yumowsheff, and Navigator Sergei Danilin have bowed to congratulatory speeches that their ignorance of English won't permit them to understand, their plans call for a day or two of leisure looking around the movie studios and airplane factories in Los Angeles and suburbs.

Grigori Gokhman, soviet consul, said the trio then will take an overnight train ride for a day of sightseeing in San Francisco. Their schedule, subject to change, is to ride commercial airlines from San Francisco to Washington and thence to New York, where they probably will leave for Russia July 25.

PLAN AUTOGIRO MAIL TEST FOR SPEEDY SERVICE

May Extend Deliveries to Small Towns.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—The house postoffice and post roads committee today reported favorably on a bill authorizing expenditure of $200,000 on experimentation with air mail pickup service for smaller communities and autogiro shuttle service between airports and the central areas of larger cities.

The bill was introduced by Representative Harry L. Haines [Dem., Pa.], who said he will seek its passage at the present session of congress. The bill was placed on the calendar and may come before the house within the week.

Plan Shuttle Tests.

It would authorize a year's experimentation at $100,000 on picking up air mail from small communities much as through trains pick up mail along their routes. The bill authorizes the postoffice department to award contracts and fix prices for such service if the experiments prove satisfactory.

A second $100,000 would go for experimentation with a shuttle service between airports and central postoffices. The postoffice department also is authorized to let contracts for such service if experiments prove the service is desirable.

"I regard the bill as one of the most important steps in aviation since the submission of the original air mail bill," Representative Haines said. "No greater step could be taken at this time to improve service.

"In Chicago, for example, the airport is miles from the center of town. New York's airport is across the bay in Newark. Air mail between the two cities spends almost half the transit time in trucks to and from the airports.

15 Minute Service.

"An autogiro shuttle service would cut down the time consumed in moving mail to and from airports from one to two hours to less than 15 minutes.

"The postoffice department met with success in experimenting with an autogiro shuttle service between the Philadelphia airport and the main postoffice. Similar experiments were talked of between the Chicago airport and the city's postoffice, but were dropped because there was no enabling legislation. I am bridging that gap in the interests of improving the service."

NAVAL BIRDMEN NEARING END OF AMELIA SEARCH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, July 15. — Tireless naval aviators today neared the end of their forlorn quest for Amelia Earhart and her navigator, Capt. Fred J. Noonan, missing in the South Pacific since July 2 on a projected flight around the world.

For the third day the giant navy aircraft carrier Lexington sent aloft 42 planes, their pilots' faces smeared with grease as protection against the sun's fierce rays. And for the third time no word of hope came back from the searchers.

It was indicated that the Lexington would hold a rendezvous Saturday with the coast guard cutter Itasca, and the naval mine sweeper Swan, if no trace of the famous aviatrix and her companion is found. The two flyers disappeared after leaving Lae, New Guinea, July 1 on a 2,570 mile flight to tiny Howland Island, a mere dot on the Pacific. The last known word from them came through by radio July 2.

Vast Area Searched.

Ships and naval battle planes have covered more than 200,000 square miles in the vicinity of Howland. Before joining the carrier, the Itasca, aided by the Swan and a British freighter searched 104,000 square miles. The battleship Colorado with its three catapault planes, also covered 38,000 miles southeast of Howland, before being recalled.

There remain two slim possibilities. The $80,000 "flying laboratory," forced down without fuel after missing its goal, may still be afloat, although few believe it probable. Or Miss Earhart may have landed the plane on an atoll, one of the numerous tiny coral islets, and in doing so cracked up her radio sending set.

"Just for fun," the aviatrix, who spanned the Atlantic ocean alone, started her first equatorial world flight from Oakland, Cal. After landing successfully at Honolulu, March 18, her ship smashed on the takeoff March 20 for its next stop—Howland Island.

Plane Thoroughly Overhauled.

Undaunted Miss Earhart had it shipped back to the states. At a cost of $20,000 it was thoroughly overhauled and repaired. Her next flight was plotted, this time from west to east. Expert mechanics were engaged to be on hand at every landing point ready to lend assistance.

Here is illustrated the Amelia Earhart drama of July 1, when the aviatrix took off from New Guinea, and July 2, when the last message was received from her as she supposedly neared Howland Island. Shown is the position of navy tug Ontario as it stood midway to lend aid, and of the cutter Itasca, which stood by at Howland on the day Miss Earhart took off on the 2,570 mile hop.

She started again from Oakland May 21, flying across the continent to Miami, Fla. Then by easy stages she continued to Porto Rico, Brazil, across the Atlantic to Africa, across Africa to India, Australia, and New Guinea. Before her, when she left Lae, was the worst stage of the flight.

Stopping at Bandoeng, Java, Miss Earhart and Capt. Noonan took a three day rest while all instruments were checked. The Dutch Air Service gave the ship a thorough examination. Miss Earhart was ready, when she reached Lae, for the long water hop.

Two Ships Put on Watch.

Nothing was done to the plane at Lae except the usual checkover, as far as is known. At Miss Earhart's request the government ordered the Itasca and the Navy tug, Ontario, to stand by lending aid in direction finding.

About half way between New Guinea and Howland the tug took station, ready to furnish aid in taking bearings or any other assistance. The coast guard cutter remained at Howland to send out a radio beam. Its crew also scared away the big ocean flying birds from the newly constructed runways on the tiny American outpost.

When she took off from Lae Miss Earhart had been advised by the Itasca of the cutter's direction finder frequency range. Unknown to her, a high frequency direction finder also was set up on the island and manned throughout the night.

Unable to Get Bearings.

But the Itasca reported it was never able to secure bearings through it on the plane, due to Miss Earhart's very brief transmissions and the use of her voice instead of the dot-dash system.

Repeatedly the Itasca asked her to send on 500 kilocycles so that the direction finder could be used. The cutter reported Miss Earhart neither acknowledged the messages nor complied. It was not known if her radio was equipped to send on a 500 band, it being assigned two other bands of 3105 and 6210.

Operator Recognizes Voice.

At 2:45 a. m. on July 2 Miss Earhart's voice was recognized by the Itasca radio operator, but her message was not clear except for the words, "cloudy weather."

One hour later, at 3:45, she reported "sky overcast," and asked the Itasca to broadcast every half hour on 3105 kilocycles. Her voice was heard again at 4:43 a. m., but the signals were unreadable.

Miss Earhart came through with a message again at 5:12 a. m., asking for bearings on 3105 wave band. She said she would whistle into the microphone to give a sustained signal which could be checked for a bearing.

"Gas Is Running Low."

At 5:15 a. m. the flyers reported their plane 200 miles out [from Howland]. A brief whistle from the microphone was heard on the Itasca.

Half an hour later Miss Earhart reported the plane 100 miles out. Her message said: "Please take bearing on us and report in half an hour. I will make a noise in the microphone."

There came a break in reception, then at 7:30 a. m. Miss Earhart sent: "We must be on you [the beam] but cannot see you. Gas is running low. Have been unable to reach you by radio. We are flying at 1,000 feet."

Anxious operators aboard the Itasca heard the next message at 7:57 from Amelia: "We are circling but cannot see island. We cannot hear you. Go ahead on 7500 kilocycles with long counts either now or on schedule time on half hours."

Another Plea Is Heard.

Immediately the operator changed his frequency and sent the signals as requested. In six minutes—at 8:03 a. m.—Miss Earhart replied: "Amelia calling Itasca. We received your signals but unable to get minimum. Please take bearings on us and answer 3105 kilocyles."

The last known message from the missing ship, a forlorn "Amelia calling Itasca," came in at 8:45 a. m. It said: "We are on line of position 157-337. Will repeat this message on 6210 kilocycles. We are now running north and south."

As time went by and no further word came through, the Itasca steamed to the search, sending a radio alarm which brought the navy into action. Several times operators picked up thin signals, and amateurs on the mainland reported hearing her call letters, but no other known message came in.

This last one to the Itasca was useless. It lacked one of the necessary elements to enable them to locate the plane. That was the point of dead reckoning upon which the line of position was based. Without it the plane might have been almost anywhere in the Pacific.

From the message it was certain the plane was flying north and south along a line of position set up by Navigator Noonan on his chart. To set up this line he had to take a point of reckoning, but unless the Itasca knew where it was, there was no way of telling where to start the search.

Amelia Safe, Says Psychic.

Seattle, Wash., July 15.—[Special.]—From the psychic mists of the ether, Gene Dennis, noted medium, today plucked the message that her girlhood chum, Amelia Earhart, is safe on a south sea island and will be rescued. Fishing boats will find the flyers, possibly near the Gilbert islands, near the end of the week, she said. Miss Dennis said Miss Earhart's husband, George Putman, had asked her coöperation, sending a pair of his wife's stockings and a handkerchief to help.

AMERICAN CLIPPER III. FLIES ON RETURN HOP OVER NORTH ATLANTIC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—Pan-American Airways' Clipper III. took off from Foynes, Irish Free State, at 7:30 p. m. today [1:30 p. m. Chicago time] on the return half of its trans-Atlantic flight to blaze the way for commercial service.

Capt. Harold E. Gray radioed at 10:14 p. m. Chicago time that the Clipper had reached the half way mark of its 2,000 mile flight to Newfoundland. The plane was averaging 120 miles an hour against a 31 mile an hour headwind and most of the time was enveloped by clouds.

British Plane Takes Off.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOTWOOD, Newfoundland, July 15.—The British Imperial Airways' flying boat Caledonia took off at 6:55 p. m. [4:25 Chicago time] on its return flight to Foynes, Irish Free State.

The Caledonia met and passed near the Clipper over the mid-Atlantic about 11 p. m. Chicago time.

SERMON ON SAFETY

By CALEB

VISITORS to Chicago say there is no rhyme nor reason to traffic regulations here. On wide thirty-mile-an-hour boulevards motorists driving at twenty miles per hour take the middle of the road. Unconcernedly, they ignore the horns of people behind them who would use the boulevard to the intended limit of its speed. An ignored and unenforced state law says slow cars must move to the right.

Other drivers on Chicago boulevards weave in and out—some of their apparent heedlessness made necessary by the road hogs who drive as they please, against the law.

In Cook County or in Chicago, as is the case in centers making progress in traffic control, there is no one official charged with responsibility for public safety on our streets and with authority to reduce the massacre.

Yet those who have the will to do so may themselves contribute to public safety and to a lessening of the hazards they themselves risk.

At the close of the year 1934 Marshall Field & Company's delivery division had turned in a twelve months' report of operations which was no better and no worse than that of hundreds of other fleets in metropolitan centers.

For that year our 212 drivers had covered two and one-half million miles and had delivered almost ten million packages. They had had 288 accidents, which the National Safety Council can tell you was not out of line.

Yet a thorough analysis was made of the records. Of the 212 drivers who rolled up that year's mileage, 89 had been involved in no accidents at all. The remaining 123 drivers had incurred the 288 accidents. An accident of some sort had occurred for every 8,600 miles of travel.

A safe driving campaign was immediately inaugurated which is still being carried on. In 1935 accidents had dropped to 199; in 1936 to 102—although during that year we drove over two million miles on busier streets. In the two years since 1934 our delivery division has increased the number of miles traveled per accident by 132 per cent.

For the first six months of 1937, despite the progress of which we are very proud in 1935 and 1936, we have had less than 50 per cent as many accidents as in the corresponding period of 1936.

No one can predict when political, civic, and other circumstances will combine to surround pedestrians and those who drive vehicles with all possible contributions to safety. Meanwhile, everyone can do all within his own power to reduce the hazards.

TWENTY KILLED IN SULLIVAN, IND., MINE EXPLOSION

Rescuers Are Delayed by Monoxide Gas.

Workers in the exploded section were hurled against the walls and then seared by the burst of flame. The twenty killed were crushed to death against the walls and it was believed they were dead before the fire reached them.

Nine Are Burned.

The nine injured miners were burned, but did not collide as forcibly with the walls as the twenty who were killed.

The flame subsided quickly, but an intense heat which reached almost to the mouth of the mine prevented rescuers from entering immediately. When they did enter they had to move cautiously because of the peril of the black damp which followed the explosion.

Rescue crews equipped with gas masks hurried to the mine from Vincennes, thirty-three miles away, and Terre Haute, twenty-eight miles away, reinforcing the company crews. The rescuers went into the smoking shaft while thousands of Sullivan county residents, many of them relatives and friends of the victims, waited anxiously at the entrance.

Identity by Elimination.

At first the dead were identified by elimination of the survivors' names from the mine pay rolls and the families of those still in the wrecked section waited, hoping desperately. But, as one by one, the bodies of the dead were brought up in the cages, their families broke down, the women crying and screaming. As quickly as positive identifications were made, the bodies were covered, placed on cots and taken away.

The dead were Rollie Fair, the fire boss; Oscar Ritchie, a motor boss; Hallie Neidhammer, a section boss; Paul Hughes, Allen Zoyers, John Walter, Charles Kennedy, Warren Hildebrand, and Earl McDaniels, all of Sullivan; Paul and James Burch, brothers; Clayton Settles, Claude Reynolds, and Lester Allenbaugh, all of Cass; Curt Miller, James James, and George Gallagher of Dugger, Harry Mannels of Coalmont, Walter Goodman of Scottstown, and Harry Cutts of Glendora, all neighboring towns.

Earlier Mine Disasters.

The Baker mine has been in operation for 18 years. In the last twelve years there have been two other serious disasters in Sullivan county mines. On Feb. 21, 1925, fifty-one men were killed in an explosion at the City Coal mine, four miles south of the Baker, and on Jan. 29, 1931 a blast in the Little Betty mine, twelve miles southeast, took a toll of twenty-nine lives.

Deerfield Township Relief Roll Lists 133; 5 Year Low

William W. Steele, supervisor and postmaster of Deerfield township, which includes the city of Highland Park in Lake county, reported yesterday that his relief roll now has only 133 persons, the smallest number in the last five years. All those receiving relief, he said, are widows, children and unemployable men. The township has a population of 17,000.

HELD TO JURY ON RAPE CHARGE.

Gilbert Ford, 30 years old, 861 Milwaukee avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday in bonds of $2,000 by Judge Frank M. Padden in Felony court on a charge of raping a girl, 13 years old.

DAD LINKED IN PLOT TO BURN 3 GIRLS TO COLLECT $120,000

Philadelphia, Pa., July 15.—[Special.]—Albert R. Knight of Lansdowne, once wealthy executive of an oil company, was arrested today on a charge of having plotted to burn three of his daughters to death and collect $120,000 in accident insurance he carried on their lives.

He was arrested following an investigation conducted by William R. Toal, assistant district attorney of Delaware county, and agents of the national board of underwriters.

Knight's Lansdowne home was damaged by fire on May 28, and this inspired the investigation. He was held in default of $10,000 bail.

[Copyright: 1937: By the New York Times.]

PANAMA, July 15.—Thirty-five bars of gold, weighing 50 pounds each—and valued at about $980,000 in the current market—have been discovered near the settlement of Piedra Candela in the province of Chiriqui, according to reports to the government from the chief of police of that province.

The discovery was made, according to the report, by employés of a Canadian mining company who are working the mines in the Veraguas district once operated by Spanish colonials. Relics of Spanish colonials also discovered include crude gold-washing equipment.

Police are guarding the gold to prevent disturbances and assert the claim of the government to its ownership. The government's claim is based on the allegation that the company's license does not include buried treasure.

FUGITIVES FROM PRISON KIDNAP, RELEASE YOUTH

Oklahoma City, July 15.—(AP)—Pete Traxler, southwestern desperado and two fellow fugitives from a Texas prison farm, kidnaped a youth identified as Baird Markham, son of Gen. Baird Markham, president of American Petroleum institute, near Atwood, Okla., today. They freed him several hours later at Sapulpa, Okla., unharmed.

The younger Markham, 21, was on vacation, obtaining oil field experience as a scout for the Delaney company, Neville reported.

Officers said Traxler and his companions—who have left a trail of kidnapings and robberies since they fled the Texas prison farm several days ago, held up Markham on a highway near Atwood.

The desperadoes took the automobile in which Markham was riding.

PEACE PERILED IF NEUTRALITY PLAN FAILS, SAYS EDEN

Is Angered by Attack on His Spanish Policy.

LONDON, July 15.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden warned tonight that Europe would approach the "abyss" of war should non-intervention in Spain collapse.

Defending his compromise plan for Europe's neutrality—which no power has accepted—Eden told the house of commons that "the governments of Europe know that if non-intervention breaks down, the risks of European conflict are inevitably increased."

The crux of the debate was the Labor party's opposition to granting "limited" belligerent rights to the Spanish combatants. Labor Leader Clement R. Attlee charged Eden had "surrendered to the Fascist powers" by "submitting to a crude and obvious attempt" by Italy and Germany "to weigh the scales against the Spanish government."

Calls Neutrality a "Pretense."

He called the plan "unjust, ill conceived and dangerous."

Europe faced a definite alternative, Eden answered, either that the proposals "fail altogether or that belligerent rights be granted and foreigners will be withdrawn" from Spain.

Attlee contended the Fascist nations were making a mere pretense of neutrality.

"There has never been an honest intention to carry out non-intervention," he declared. "All the time you have had Fascist dictators laughing at the whole subject and laughing at this country."

Receive No Flat Rejections.

The foreign secretary showed anger that the opposition demanded debate at such a critical time, the eve of presentation of the compromise proposals to the non-intervention committee tomorrow.

The question remained whether Eden would win agreement of the other powers to his effort to find a neutrality formula.

Optimistic British official opinion expressed gratification that none of the 26 other neutrality nations had indicated flat disapproval. Other well-informed sources, however, were frankly pessimistic.

France Qualifies Acceptance.

They feared the plan might be doomed because it hinges on the difficult issue of the recall of all foreign fighters from Spain as a preliminary step.

France was reported ready to give "heavily qualified" acceptance to the plan.

The French cabinet was said to have approved the proposals to restore nonintervention control and withdraw foreign volunteers, but to have invited that adherence to these conditions must be proved before the question of belligerent rights could be discussed "usefully."

Germany and Italy were noncommittal.

100 PLANES STAGE DOG FIGHT ABOVE MADRID; 7 CRASH

Crowds of Residents Watch Battle.

MADRID, July 15.—(AP)—Six rebel fighting planes and one government pursuit ship were reported downed in the outskirts of Madrid today in one of the most spectacular air battles of the Spanish civil war.

Nearly 100 war planes engaged in the fight, watched by Madrilenos crowding balconies and doorways.

Rebel Counter Attack Fails.

In the ensuing dog fight one government pilot escaped by parachute, while his ship spiraled downward with black smoke trailing behind. Occupants of six rebel planes shot down were killed, authorities reported.

Rebel ground forces fought desperately to regain ground lost in the government's offensive west of Madrid, especially in the Brunete sector. Observers saw in this action indication the first phase of the government drive, ten days old, had ended.

Fighting was centered along the Coruna road, northwest of Madrid, at Villafranca del Castillo, twelve miles from the capital, and between Las Rozas and El Plantio.

British Freighter Shelled.

An official announcement said the Spanish rebel cruiser Almirante Cervera shelled an unidentified British mechant ship trying to enter the harbor of Santander, on Spain's north coast.

The British vessel was forced to leave Spanish waters, the communique said.

[Wednesday the Almirante Cervera seized the British steamer Molton while she was trying to reach Santander. The British government has warned British merchantmen not to try to enter Santander harbor. The city, held by the Spanish government, is the next objective of the rebels in northern Spain.]

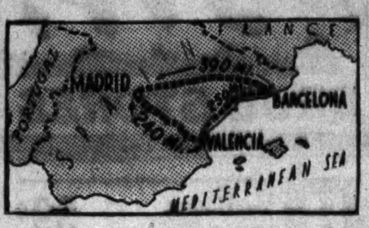
MADRID HUNGERS AS FOOD ROTS ON LOYALIST COAST

Control, Transport Problems Described.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—Thousands of tons of potatoes lie rotting on the quays at Valencia, Spain, while in Madrid they are virtually unobtainable. That is typical of the Spanish loyalist government's whole food problem. Food is comparatively plentiful on the coast. The great problem is moving it inland.



Highway routes to hungry Madrid, over which scant supplies are trucked from Barcelona and from Valencia, where food goes to waste for lack of transportation.

Such was the situation found by this correspondent on a recent assignment to that part of Spain controled by the loyalists.

But transportation in Spain never was of a high standard and the civil war has disrupted it badly.

Rail transportation between Barcelona or Valencia and Madrid has ceased to exist. New links are being built to reëstablish the Valencia-Madrid line, but it is impossible to complete it before late autumn, if then.

The solution is trucks, but there again is trouble. First, although many hundreds of trucks are available—and good ones, many of American make—they are needed for carrying troops, arms, and ammunition.

There is a gasoline shortage. The supply is limited. Only official cars and a few owned or hired by journalists are allowed to circulate. But the number of official cars is astounding and all appear to be on the move all the time.

Barcelona still has taxis. They are controled by the anarchist national confederation of workers, which is powerful in Barcelona and has refused to stop the taxi service.

Valencia has forty taxis, also controled by the anarchist and Socialist union groups. Almost all are occupied continually by union officials, who keep them all day. Even Valencia newspapers complain of the "immoral" spectacle of taxis buzzing about town all day with well fed union officials.

The government so far has been unable to cut down on the taxis, or buses, or "official" cars.

From Madrid to Valencia the road now used is 240 miles long. There are many travelers on legitimate business who must use cars due to the lack of railroad transportation. But instead of the government establishing an official daily bus, except for emergencies, each official continues to get a special car for his trip, using many gallons of gasoline.

Trucks Widely Scattered.

Scores of fine big buses rolling about Valencia and Barcelona would be available for such a service while any old vehicle would do for the present local service.

The result is that, instead of a steady stream of food trucks one would expect to see rolling to Madrid, they are sparsely scattered up and down the long road.

On the way to Madrid there were stretches where, for twenty or twenty-five minutes, we passed no trucks. Of a total of twenty-five vehicles, including those headed in both directions, which passed in a forty-five minute period, three were motor coaches, ten were passenger cars, and twelve were trucks. The trucks included, also, those parked by the road, and the truck average is not always so high.

Madrid is on short rations. Dinner at a hotel where the food was said to be much the best available, consisted of bean soup strongly flavored with green olive oil, a piece of beef which was distinctly strong, and four dry cookies. The cost, $1.

Vegetables, salad, and fruit are unobtainable. Any supplements to the diet must be hunted out and bought privately.

But the people were cheerful, and said: "It is better than last winter."

Prices Limited in Valencia.

Except for an occasional restaurant kept open for those who must travel, eating places have been closed. Hotels serve only their residents and long advance notice is required, in most cases, if they want to bring guests.

Even in Valencia, where food is easier to get, all restaurants and hotels have been limited since last November to table d'hôte "war meals"—two courses with soup or hors d'oeuvres and fruit.

Prices in Valencia are limited by a restriction on profit to 15 per cent profit, and a retailer must display the cost beside the sale price.

But even so, typical prices are: coffee, 95 cents to $1.30 a pound; frozen beef, 30 cents a pound; salt sardines, 22 cents a dozen; eggs, 80 cents a dozen.

Union Control a Factor.

An official statement issued on July 3 by the defense ministry—which the censors refused to pass for foreign consumption—blamed trades unions for the prices and charged profiteering.

Two hundred tons of frozen beef were allotted to the Valencia provincial council by the quartermaster's department at a cost price of 9 cents a pound, the statement announced. This meat was resold to the butchers' union controling all retailing for 15.5 cents, but was retailed to the public at 30 cents.

Eggs sold to unions at less than 25 cents are more than three times as much when sold to the public.

The butchers' defense was that waste made the difference in price, and they offered to sell the meat, including the waste matter, at 13 cents a pound.

GERMANY WILL TRY SUBMARINE PASTOR IN A SPECIAL COURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 15.—The Rev. Martin Niemoeller, world war submarine commander and outstanding leader of the Confessional [Evangelical Lutheran] church, will be tried before an "extraordinary court," against whose decision there is no appeal. This, it was said, is "in compliance with the law against insidious attacks which include malicious attacks on leading personalities of the [Nazi] party and the state."

Charges of "exploiting the pulpit for slandering purposes" have been formulated by the prosecuting attorney, and these will be tried in a regular court. Circles close to the ministry of justice expect the trial for alleged "exploitation of the pulpit" will take place within a week.

The Rev. Mr. Niemoeller was arrested on July 1 by the Nazi secret police and has been in Moabit prison since. He is a militant opponent of Nazi domination of church affairs.

MOSCOW ARREST OF RICH WRITER IS REPORTED IN RIGA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, July 15.—Boris Pilniak, wealthy soviet writer who spent some years in Hollywood, was reported today to have been imprisoned in Moscow on a charge of plagiarism. Pilniak is the author of a book called "O. K.," which ridicules America and which has been condemned by the soviet press.

Diplomats are wondering about the fate of Marshal Vasily Bluecher, chief of the Russian Siberian army. He is reported to have disappeared en route to his command in the far east after officiating at the recent treason trial of Marshal Michael N. Tukhachevsky, vice commissar of war, and seven other high ranking officers who later were executed.

Marshal Bluecher is believed to be a prisoner of the G. P. U. [secret police] which is making a general cleanup of far eastern officials suspected of disloyalty to Josef Stalin's administration. More than 200 of them officially were reported shot.

C. I. O. WEAPONS WIELDED IN RIOT VIEWED BY JURY

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

A trunkful of clubs, iron pipes, knives, and other weapons picked up immediately after the Memorial day strike riot on the South Chicago prairie where the fighting occurred was shown yesterday to the coroner's jury investigating the deaths of ten men in the riot.

The jurors viewed the C. I. O. strike arsenal at the hearing conducted in the Criminal courts building by Coroner Frank J. Walsh, after Patrolman Frank J. Barry had told of picking up the weapons and described the injuries inflicted by some of them on his fellow policemen.

Deputy Coroner James J. Whalen asked Barry to recount his experience on the day of the riot, which followed a march by members of the C. I. O. steel union upon the nearby plant of the Republic Steel corporation.

His Story of Fighting.

Barry was driving a squad car, and told of reporting the approach of the strike marchers and their sympathizers to Supervising Captain James L. Mooney, in charge of the police detail that day, and of his return to the police line which stopped the march, carrying a supply of tear gas. He watched the fighting from behind the police line.

"I noticed 200 or 300 men veering over toward the north gate of the Republic plant," said Barry. "They were shouting, 'What's holding us? Let's go tear down that plant.' Then I saw a police officer knocked down by a brick. Then came a shower of bricks and other missils.

"I was watching a line of 25 to 40 policemen at the time, and none of them had his gun or club out then. They were covering their faces with their arms to protect themselves against the bricks.

Heard Shots from Strikers.

"Then I heard two shots from back in the strikers' ranks. The police then began to fire, and their first shots were fired in the air.

"I saw one officer staggering in circles. I went to him and took his arm. I asked him if he was hurt. He looked at me, but he was dazed and unable to speak. There was a big welt on his temple.

"On the way I saw another officer crouched on the ground. He was holding his hands to his head, and I saw that his eye was covered with blood. He had been wearing glasses and they were broken. I told him to keep his hands away from the wound or he might rub the broken glass into his eye. I took both the injured men to temporary headquarters of the Chicago police at the plant to get first aid."

On his return, Barry said, he saw a number of wounded strikers lying on the field of combat, while police were helping some of them to patrol wagons.

Weapons Are Described.

The strike line had retreated and reformed, he said, and rocks and taunts were still being hurled from it toward the police ranks, which were standing firm, not advancing. Then Barry described the weapons he gathered from the field.

"There were clubs," he said, "two by fours with handles shaped on them, limbs of trees two to five inches in diameter, with the bark stripped to make a better grip, pieces of pipe, and automobile spring lea.es and jack handles.

"I took them to police headquarters at the plant, and on Capt. Mooney's orders made an inventory of them. There were 60 to 75 clubs, 5 or 10 pipes, 50 to 75 placards and empty bottles and rocks. There was one guitar case, with a guitar in it and underneath that a long knife."

Highlights of Morning Session.

Jeremiah Ingersoll, college trained C. I. O. organizer, engaged in a brisk exchange during the morning session with Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coghlan. It was brought on when Coghlan asked Ingersoll why, if the union members felt police were restricting their picketing activities unjustly, they did not seek redress in the courts.

Ingersoll was graduated from Amherst college in 1933. About the time the C. I. O. organized, in 1936, he came to Chicago and got a job as a workman at the Carnegie-Illinois steel plant in South Chicago. He did so to get practical experience in the labor movement, he said. He quit last April to become a union organizer.

Describing the feeling of the union members of the massmeeting on Memorial day, Ingersoll said:

"The men were indignant at the way police had clubbed them on Friday, two days before the fatal riot, when they attempted to go to the plant and form a picket line."

He admitted he had seen some of the marchers pick up rocks and clubs on the way to the scene of the riot, and added, "Apparently some of the people didn't want that to happen again."

Attitude on the Courts.

"You're an educated man," said Prosecutor Coghlan. "You're familiar with our American system of government, and with its judicial branch, the courts. Did it ever occur to you to confer with counsel for the union, who are present here, and get an injunction to redress your grievances from a court of law?"

"No labor lawyer would advise that," interrupted Attorney David J. Bentall, one of the C. I. O. lawyers. "He'd know mighty well that he wouldn't get it."

"Usually it is police carrying out injunctions who interfere with picketing," said Ingersoll.

"Then your faith in the courts was gone?" asked Coghlan.

There was a remark from the C. I. O. lawyers' section and Coghlan added: "Let the record show that Attorney [Ben] Meyer said, 'Right.'"

"In case after case the courts have gone against workers," said Ingersoll.

Q.—Was that the feeling of the Republic workers? A.—Yes.

Q.—Then there was only one avenue open to the workers and that was physical force? A.—No. Pressure of public opinion might have changed things.

Intended to Get Through.

Ingersoll admitted that it was the intention when the march was started to go through the police lines, unless the police yielded and allowed the marchers to pass.

"And if the police did not yield, what then?" asked Coghlan.

"It was hard to predict what the crowd would do," replied Ingersoll.

Louis F. Selenik, member of the strike strategy committee of the C. I. O. union local of Republic employés, whose statement describing the committee's plans for the march on the plant and the use of placards to hide clubs carried by the marchers was read to him at Wednesday's hearing, was a witness again.

Assistant State's Attorney Alexander Napoli read to him a second statement which he made four days after the riot, while he was voluntarily in the custody of the state's attorney's office. This gave further details of the union's march strategy. The meeting of the committee on Saturday, the day before the riot, had opened with a discussion of picketing regulations at the Republic plant, said Selenik. Members of the union were disgruntled at the limitation placed upon the number of pickets by police.

Each member of the strategy committee had been instructed to go out and pick five captains to work under him in the projected march on Memorial day, Selenik had stated. Asked what the purpose of the captains was, he had replied:

"If force was to be used, the strategists were supposed to see that the captains did their duties and passed orders to the men."

C. I. O. Organizer Named.

The statement proceeded:

Q.—Who was the speaker who advised those at the meeting to use sticks and clubs to which placards were attached to batter down the police lines? A.—Weber [Joseph Weber, a C. I. O. organizer].

During the march on the plant, Selenik said, he was running up and down the line of marchers, warning against unnecessary violence and the use of any guns, which he said the committee had forbidden strictly.

Weber and George Patterson, another C. I. O. organizer, were witnesses later in the day. Each made a blanket denial that there had been any violence on the part of the strikers, or any plans for violence.

Weber, a belligerent witness, wrangled constantly with the prosecutors and Deputy Coroner Whalen, finally prompting Coroner Walsh to plead:

"Every time these witnesses are asked a question they have to make an oration. Can't they just answer questions like any other witness would?"

DOESN'T SHE KNOW THE REASON HER WASH COMES OUT SO GRAY, IN SPITE OF ALL HER RUBBING, IS BECAUSE SHE'S USING CHEAP SOAP CHIPS?
IF SHE'D ONLY TRY AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES SHE'D QUICKLY LEARN AS I DID THAT IT IS CHEAPER TO BUY GOOD SOAP THAN NEW CLOTHES.

HERE'S the way to a whiter wash with utter safety to your clothes

EVERY day, women by the hundreds are changing to American Family Flakes—largely on the advice of friends and neighbors who have learned from first-hand experience that this is the quickest way to SAFELY launder all types of fabrics.

For, without depending upon harmful alkali, or strong chemicals, as cheap soap chips often do—without the need of scrubbing, boiling, or hard, ruinous rubbing which take the life out of fabrics—these amazing super-flakes turn out the whitest, sweetest-smelling wash you have ever seen.

A single washing will prove a revelation to you. But your real thrill will come months later when you see how much longer ALL of your washables last.

How American Family Flakes Work These Wonders

Laboratory tests prove that American Family Flakes contain more suds-making material than ordinary flakes, chips or powders. And there you have the secret for the wonders these flakes perform.

This extra suds-making material in American Family Flakes is responsible for their rich, active 'DOUBLE SUDS' which actually float out even the grimiest dirt—without scrubbing, boiling, or hard rubbing.

This is why white fabrics come out with new, snowy whiteness. Why colored fabrics retain their brilliance and beauty. Why ALL washables last surprisingly much longer.

For over ninety years American Family has been the largest selling brand of soap in and around Chicago. Try American Family Flakes and you will quickly prove that it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes.

There is nothing safer than American Family Flakes for your finest fabrics. And for dishwashing they are unexcelled. They leave your hands soft and smooth. Made by Procter & Gamble.

ENCOURAGE C. I. O. TO VIOLENCE IN NEW YORK CITY

Mayor and NLRB Head Back Lewis Radicals.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 15.—[Special.]—Gangs of C. I. O. agitators today waylaid and stoned three nonstriking employés of the Robins Dry Dock and Repair company in Brooklyn as 800 pickets massed to hurl insults at the workers entering the plant. Police made no effort to stop the demonstration.

This episode was representative of hundreds of similar incidents within the city in the last three years of a pro-labor, quasi-communistic administration of municipal affairs. These years have been marked by favoritism in picketing and labor strife, the use of governmental machinery to aid strikers directly, a policy of allowing violence to go unpunished and labor racketeering to run rampant, and the distribution of millions of dollars in grant on public works.

Chief responsibility for the situation is assumed quite cheerfully by Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia, who has announced his candidacy for reelection in the fall and who expects to receive the support of labor, especially the new American Labor party, which is composed of radical and left wing elements.

On the other side of the fence are the employer group and middle classes whose ranks have been decimated. More than 100 business corporations have left New York in recent years because of conditions here.

The major developments showing the trend are:

1. The taxicab strike. This came in the spring of 1934, early in La Guardia's régime. Fifteen hundred strikers and sympathizers, seeking union recognition, beat up nonstriking drivers, ripped the doors off cabs, tipped them over and smashed them. Only six mounted patrolmen were on hand during the fracas that lasted for hours and did nothing to prevent the wholesale violence. A New York county grand jury cited the mayor, charging he "imposed on the police department a special obligation of consideration for the striking drivers," and assailed police officials for issuing orders against the use of nightsticks and failure to send reserves.

2. The hotel strike. Only a few hundred strikers, representing the radical Amalgamated Hotel and Restaurant Workers' union, engaged in violence. Nonstrikers were slugged and hotel windows were broken. When it looked like the Waldorf-Astoria would break the strike, La Guardia stepped into the breach. The city health department ordered an inspection just at the dinner hour and forced the closing of all dining rooms.

3. The building service workers strike. Violence and mass picketing marked the tieup of thousands of buildings in the spring of 1936. Stench bombs were hurled, arson was attempted and many nonstrikers were assaulted.

4. The hospital strike. Here is an instance where the administration was opposed to the strike which took place in the Brooklyn Jewish hospital last March. Police entered with drawn pistols and amid scenes of wild disorder arrested 19 persons for violating a little known statute against endangering the lives of patients by refusing to work. They were convicted.

According to Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey, the city is overcharged about two millions a year on the lucrative electrical contracts with unions, especially on public works. The administration makes awards only to contractors employing union help. For electrical work on the Wards island sewage disposal plant a low bid of $1,350,000 was rejected because of a nonunion contractor and a bid of $1,650,000 was accepted.

Changes in the laws, both state and national, have contributed heavily toward the labor side without discriminating between a legitimate union and a racket. This is especially so as regards injunctive law in New York state. Previously an ex parte injunction was granted on affidavit.

Under Gov. Herbert H. Lehman the procedure was changed. Now there is no ex part injunction and there can be no temporary restraining order unless the trial is held. The law militates completely in favor of strikers.

Although La Guardia is a follower of John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., he is far too astute a politician to openly destroy support of the A. F. of L. forces in the city. Serious charges of favoritism for the C. I. O. have been laid at the door of another functionary, however, Mrs. Elinore M. Herrick, regional director of the national labor relations board.

Joseph M. Conroy, attorney for the Yard Workers union, an A. F. of L. affiliate charged a few days ago that Mrs. Herrick "has been working hand in glove with the C. I. O. to force all employés into joining" in the current conflict between the two organizations at the Robins Drydock company.

DIARY OF CONQUESTS AT THE BEACH COSTS THIS ROMEO A WIFE

Mrs. Dorothy Fairbank.

Judge Philip J. Finnegan examined with interest yesterday a little black diary belonging to Russel C. Fairbank. The names and telephone numbers in it, said Fairbank's wife, Dorothy, 23 years old, 1910 South Hamlin avenue, were those of twenty women her husband said he met on the beach. When she objected to his philandering, Mrs. Fairbank told Attorney Sol Friedman, her husband told her it was none of her business, then struck her. She was granted a divorce and $350.

Starts today ends July 31st

Two weeks, that's all, fellows!

Short? Yes! But doubly sweet for men who want a good suit of clothes at a worthwhile saving. Fact is, there'd be no Sale at all were it not our aim to play fair with the customers who expect one. Most retail clothing prices were raised this Spring. Many are going higher this Fall. Naturally, our costs have followed the upward curve. Our prices haven't—yet! That's why we must make this Sale a short one. That's also why it will pay you handsomely to cash-in on these savings. The clothes you buy here, during this Sale, will be a real dividend-paying investment when September rolls around. We've included every suit in the store (except tuxedos and summerweights). You get oxford greys, navy blues and conservatives—as well as lighter shades and sportsters. Selections are large—the time to save is short. Make the most of it, today or tomorrow!

CITIZENS OF 13 STATES BAND TO FIGHT FOR JOBS

Demand Right to Work as Well as Strike.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Johnstown, Pa., July 15.—[Special]—A widespread campaign to uphold the constitutional right of the American workman to work as well as to strike was inaugurated here today by 200 delegates from 13 states attending the first meeting of the National Citizens' committee. The campaign will seek to bring the force of public opinion to bear on public officials who "have refused to use the authority given them as a trust under oath to protect American citizens in their inalienable constitutional right to work without molestation."

While the formal resolution adopted as a preliminary platform by the conference did not mention John L. Lewis' radical Committee for Industrial Organization by name, it stated opposition to activities which are "un-American, communistic, and destructive to the welfare of the nation." In discussion preceeding the adoption of the resolution, Lewis' tactics were labeled "collective coercion," as opposed to the collective bargaining he preaches.

Set Up Temporary Board.

A committee of five, representing four states and the District of Columbia, was appointed to serve as the temporary executive board of the national committee. The national board of directors will eventually be composed of at least one delegate from each state in the Union.

The following five point program was adopted as the basis of the national campaign:

"1. Be it resolved that this meeting condemns the lawlessness and violence which have marked the present wave of strikes throughout the country.

"2. That we are opposed to any group, whether on the side of labor or management, which invites or is responsible for violence in defiance of the constitution.

"3. That we believe it the duty of the government to guarantee by the impartial enforcement of law the right of every citizen to work or strike as he may choose, and to join or abstain from joining any labor organization as he may desire.

Demand Equal Responsibility.

"4. We believe that labor unions and employers should be equally responsible before the law.

"5. We are opposed to and will continue to oppose activities which are un-American, communistic, and destructive to the welfare of our nation."

These points, the delegates agreed, they will carry back to their home communities as a program which will be developed until it extends throughout the country as a force which will make public officers live up to their oath of office.

The story of how public opinion forced Gov. George H. Earle of this state to stick to his duty and forgo his support of Lewis' forces in the Bethlehem Steel strike here last month was told by the Rev. John Stanton of Johnstown, who acted as chairman of today's meeting.

The Executive Committee.

Stanton, M. L. Woodward, a retired engineer of Cape Cod, Mass.; Ormsby McCard of New York City, who described himself merely as a patriotic citizen; Dr. Rembert Gilman Smith, Afton, Okla., a Methodist minister who was the founder of the Methodist League Against Communism, Fascism, and un-American Pacifists, and Don Kirkley, Washington, D. C., publisher of the National Forum Review, comprise the executive committee of the national association.

The temporary executive committee was directed to meet in New York on July 23 to develop further the organizational plan, pending the establishment of a national headquarters. George C. Rutledge, member of a local bank, was designated as the national secretary empowered to receive contributions to the cause.

Holds Government Has Failed.

Delegates and the committee emphasized the fact that they were here not to fight the C. I. O. or any other union, but to start a movement for the preservation of law and order. They did, however, state that they were opposed to the illegal immunities of the C. I. O. and to its "vicious" tieup with the United States government.

"The government has broken down and failed to do its duty," declared Dr. Gustavus W. Dyer, professor of economics at Vanderbilt university. "That's the thing that forces this meeting—not Lewis or the C. I. O."

STRUCK BY MATE

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. ETHEL PETERSEN.

When her husband, Howard, a milkman, said he had heart trouble, Mrs. Ethel Petersen, 26 years old, 951 West 77th street, suggested he see a doctor. Then when he explained the heart trouble was emotional, that he had fallen in love with a customer on his route, Mrs. Peterson said she laughed and he struck her, she testified yesterday. At Attorney Norman Becker's request, Judge Philip J. Finnegan granted her a divorce, $15 a week, and custody of Neil, 5, and Carole, 3.

MURPHY STRIVES FOR NEW PARLEY IN TRUCK STRIKE

12,000 to 50,000 Drivers Affected in Michigan.

Detroit, Mich., July 15.—[Special.]—Gov. Frank Murphy this afternoon sought a resumption of negotiations to settle a strike called by drivers of trucks operating between cities in Michigan. State police were ordered to keep the highways open to general trafic.

The governor predicted an early settlement of the strike, although no such prediction was issued by either the highway fleet owners or the officials of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Stablemen and Helpers.

There were conflicting reports on the effectiveness of the strike. Estimates of the number of men participating ranged from 12,000 to 50,000.

Some Products Exempted.

Interstate and intra-city freight movements were not affected. The union also specifically exempted from picketing the movements of beer, automobiles, gasoline, milk, fruit, and certain other perishables.

J. M. O'Laughlin, business agent for the Detroit local, declared that 95 per cent of men engaged in intercity intra-state hauling were members of the union. He said that no attempt would be made to stop trucks on the highway, but that union members in the terminals would refuse to load or unload.

At Flint, Mich., Sherif Thomas W. Wolcott ordered pickets to desist from molesting trucks on the highway in his county. It was reported that twenty vehicles had been halted on the road by strikers.

Higher Wages Sought.

The strikers are asking for higher wage rates. After preliminary negotiations were ended last night, J. L. Heath of Lansing, chairman of a committee of operators, declared the union demands were "far in excess of what we are able to meet."

The state public utilities commission late yesterday granted a temporary rate increase on intrastate shipments of 5,000 pounds or less, but both the operators and the union negotiators contended the ruling was of little benefit in meeting the strike problem.

ASK BATHING BAN IN OLD QUARRY.

A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that the quarry pool near McCook, where a girl, 12 years old, drowned Sunday, be closed to bathers. The victim was Helen L. Nolan, 4014 Blanchan avenue, Congress Park. The coroner's jury called her death accidental.

ADMITS SENATE RIOT QUIZ KEPT OUT EVIDENCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—An employé of the senate's civil liberties committee, headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette [Radical, Wis.], admitted today that the committee had withheld from the record of its investigation of the South Chicago steel riot an affidavit indicating that the first shots in the encounter came from the strike mob.

In the affidavit John Puslis, an Associated Press photographer, stated: "I then seemed to hear a report as of a gun, but I am uncertain as to where it was fired. It was my impression, however, that it came from somewhere back in the crowd."

Existence of the affidavit was disclosed when Puslis testified yesterday at the inquest in Chicago into the riot deaths. Senator La Follette at first said he doubted that the committee had such a statement, but Robert Wolforth, the committee's secretary, found it.

LOSS OF RIGHTS FACED BY JEWS IN NAZI SILESIA

Germany Takes Control After 15 Years.

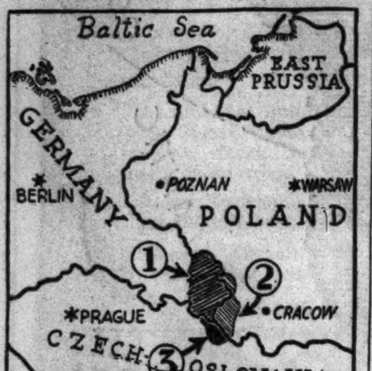
BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 15.—Germany today formally took over control of German Upper Silesia from a league of nations commission, and with the change Nazi laws went into effect. This was interpreted by the newspaper Der Stuermer and others as meaning that Jews in the area, who have had privileges not enjoyed by Jews in the rest of Germany, will be subject henceforth to anti-Jewish Nazi laws.

Said Der Stuermer:

"Upper Silesian Jews, who for fifteen years enjoyed special privileges under so-called 'minority protection,' will be placed on an underlevel as others of their race in Germany."



German (No. 1) and Polish (No. 2) Silesias which yesterday became parts of Germany and Poland, respectively. No. 3 is area dominated by Czechoslovakia.

What "Ghetto" Laws Provide.

[Since 1922 the German and Polish Upper Silesias have been ruled under a German-Polish accord administered by the league representatives. Poland took over control of Polish Upper Silesia yesterday. The two nations still are attempting to reach agreements on minorities and on frontier relations.]

It was announced in Berlin on July 3 that the anti-Jewish Nuremberg laws would go into effect today. Under these "ghetto" laws, the official Berlin announcement said, all full blooded Jewish officials of German Silesia will be dismissed by Aug. 31 and all one-half and one-quarter Jews by the end of the year.

Professions Greatly Restricted.

Jewish doctors, dentists, and lawyers also will be restricted greatly. German citizenship acquired between the end of the world war and Jan. 30, 1933, when the Nazis assumed power, may be withdrawn, it was said.

Der Stuermer, declaring that Jews in the area until now have been allowed to vote, act as notaries, judges, and prosecutors, and hold public office, added:

"They could carry on their race disgracing activities free from danger of coming into direct conflict with the courts. Now these privileges are abolished."

Poland To Rush New Laws.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, July 15.—The Polish cabinet at a special meeting tonight asked President Ignace Moscicki to call an extraordinary session of parliament immediately to pass a number of important laws considered urgent because of the expiration of the fifteen year autonomy of Polish Upper Silesia.

Among the measures suggested by the cabinet are: Cancelation of the use of the German language in Upper Silesian courts; application of the Polish land reform bill to Silesian estates; inclusion of the district under the law empowering the government to seize property for nonpayment of taxes, and cancelation of the existing law under which property is inherited by an eldest son.

If the measures are adopted by parliament as anticipated, the government will be able to seize a number of large German estates. The cabinet's proposals would annul practically all the few remaining privileges enjoyed by the 1,000,000 Germans in Polish Upper Silesia and would further strain the friendship between Poland and Germany.

RUSSIA PLANS TO SEND LITVINOV ON NEW U. S. VISIT

Closer Relations Sought; Pole Flights Called Aid.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, July 15.—The Moscow commissariat of foreign affairs has made overtures to the American state department concerning the possibility of arranging a second visit of Maxim Litvinov, soviet foreign commissar, to the United States late in the autumn.

Foreign diplomatic representatives in Moscow understand that Litvinov's projected visit is intended to promote closer political relations between Washington and Moscow. According to soviet foreign office informants, the American government has indicated it is desirous of maintaining peace, especially in the far east.

Calls Flights Diplomatic Aid.

Should Litvinov's visit be arranged, he would arrive in America while Russia is holding its first elections under the new constitution. In this election the population will utilize the secret ballot for the first time for candidates designated by the communist party.

Soviet officials believe the two successful Russian flights to America via the north pole have done much toward helping make the projected visit a success. Details of the negotiations are being kept secret, because of the soviet government's fear of a rebuff.

The first visit of the commissar to Washington was announced in Moscow as one of bolshevism's most brilliant diplomatic victories. At that time Litvinov obtained American recognition for the soviet government in return for profuse promises, not yet fulfilled.

Radio Lauds Airmen.

Soviet broadcasting stations today changed their programs to a twelve hour eulogy of the three Russian flyers who yesterday reached California after a flight over the pole from Moscow.

Radio speakers declared them to be the only flyers in the world capable of making such a perilous journey. The north pole, they asserted, indisputably belongs to the soviet government.

The communist party newspaper Pravda took the occasion to warn Russia's "enemies" that they lie within easy range of soviet war planes. The warning was believed by foreign observers to be addressed to Berlin and Tokio.

SOVIET FREES 55,000 CONVICTS WHO BUILT MOSCOW-VOLGA CANAL

MOSCOW, July 15.—(AP)—A Kremlin decree granted freedom today to 55,000 convicts who did "shock work" on the Moscow-Volga canal. The decree requires the central council of trade unions to seek employment for the freed men and instructs the secret police to provide them with railroad tickets and bonuses up to 500 rubles [nominally $100].

The canal brings the Volga headwaters flowing past the Kremlin. Formally dedicated May 2, the canal was open to passenger craft this week.

Soviet newspapers reported today that enemies of collective farming have burned scattered wheat fields in the Ukraine and Crimea and that a "Trotzky gang" spoiled hundreds of tons of food for railroad workers. The newspaper Izvestia said collective farmers have extinguished many wheat field fires in recent weeks.

Through the City of TOMORROW Without a STOP

—predicts NORMAN BEL GEDDES

"Vehicles will be routed through the cities of 1960 on thoroughfares specifically designed to carry traffic moving at several established speeds," says Mr. Geddes, authority on future trends.

"A network of 50-mile-an-hour Express Highways in the city will handle all traffic going ten blocks or more, creating a continuous flow of cars, uninterrupted by stop lights, intersections or pedestrians.

"On Local Streets, elevated sidewalks will carry pedestrian traffic above streets . . . main building entrances and shop windows will be on second-story level. Trucks will be loaded and cars parked in open areas beneath buildings. Thus the entire width of street—from building-line to building-line—will be clear for motor traffic . . ."

-but TODAY, in Chicago, 4 miles in 5 are Stop and Go

YOU can drive up to ten miles on the amount of gasoline wasted by your 30 daily stops! 30 stops a day is the nation-wide average. The costliest kind of driving you do, both in time and money, is stop and go.

While leading traffic authorities are planning "the City of Tomorrow," Shell engineers have developed a fuel, Super-Shell, made especially to meet today's driving problem today.

They have found a way to rearrange the entire chemical structure of gasoline . . . actually they have balanced it.

Automotive engineers have a term for Super-Shell. They call it "motor-digestible," so quickly and completely is its energy changed into power . . . at all motor speeds.

You'll cut the cost of your stop and go by the regular use of Super-Shell. There's a Shell dealer near you.

T. V. A. SUPPORTS THE ALUMINUM TRUST.

The terms of the power contract between the TVA and the Aluminum Company of America were set forth in some detail in Thursday's TRIBUNE. The company will take 30,000 kilowatts every moment of every day for 10 years. This is what is called firm power; the TVA will have that much to deliver to the company even at low water. The company will take another 30,000 kilowatts of "run of stream" power; when the river is discharging more than the minimum amount of water additional power is available and the company undertakes to use some of it. Finally, the company will buy 40,000 kilowatts of dump power for which the TVA has no other market and which it can deliver to the company at its own pleasure. In all, the company will pay TVA approximately $1,500,000 a year. The contract is revocable after 5 years.

Mr. Mellon's Aluminum company is buying its power cheaply, though there is no reason to think that the price is unfairly low. The fact which deserves particular emphasis is that the company is getting its power without risking a dime in the generating plant. The taxpayers have put up 300 million dollars to build the dams, generating stations, and transmission lines for the benefit of Mr. Mellon and his associates. The total assets of the Aluminum company are $223,000,000. In all probability the taxpayers' investment for the benefit of the company is substantially larger than the company's in connection with its operations in the Tennessee valley.

That was the inevitable consequence of the government's entrance into the water power business. The generating plants on the Tennessee river and its tributaries are fairly remote from the larger consuming centers. It does not pay to transmit power more than 300 miles. There was therefore only a limited existing market for the enormous amounts of power which were to be produced. To sell the rest new industries had to be attracted and only those industries whose power costs constitute a large part of their total costs could be so influenced.

There aren't very many such industries. Power has revolutionized the world, but in only the fewest factories is the power cost a critical item in the budget. To most factory managers seeking to locate a new plant the cost of power is negligible compared to such really important items as freight charges and accessibility to raw materials and markets. If power were given away in Arizona not a single automobile factory would relocate there.

The aluminum industry is one of the few exceptions. Aluminum is released from bauxite ore by electrolysis. Brutal quantities of electricity are required in the process, ten kilowatt hours to the pound of metal. The industry can flourish only where power is available in enormous quantities and at a small price. The company in the past has invested many millions of dollars in developing its own power plants, notably those on the St. Lawrence river. The risk is a considerable one because no one can say when a new process requiring less electricity or even no electricity will be perfected. The day a new method of extracting the metal is discovered the company's investment in dams generating plants may lose much of its value.

That risk has now been transferred from private investors to the taxpayers. The stockholders have gladly assumed it in the past because the chances of reward in their judgment outweighed the risk of loss. The taxpayers have no comparable incentive. They cannot hope to profit from the sale of TVA power; they cannot hope, under the most favorable circumstances, even to earn the interest on the investment.

When Mr. Mellon gave his art collection to the nation the gift was said to be worth 50 million dollars. The figure is big, but it may be no larger than the value of the gift which the taxpayers have been obliged to make to Mr. Mellon's company.

MR. MORGENTHAU WINS THE CUP.

On Monday Mr. Morgenthau at his press conference announced the agreement he had made to give gold credits to China in exchange for silver. THE TRIBUNE, in reporting the event on Tuesday quoted the secretary as having said:

The gentleman's English is as bad as his finance.

STEEL COMPANIES' OPPORTUNITY.

During the recent interruption of operations at the independent steel plants it was disclosed that employés of the mills are regularly paid two weeks late. June 9 was pay day for the two weeks' period which ended May 28. The end of the pay period for those who returned to work last Monday will not come until the end of next week. Thereafter two weeks will elapse before there is a pay day.

This is an old custom, which had a justification when all of the work in the pay roll office was done by hand. Office equipment manufacturers have reduced the preparation of pay rolls to a series of machine operations. Late paying of employés has no justification in any large, well managed plant. A reduction in the waiting period from two weeks to a few days would be especially well received by workers who have just had seven weeks of idleness. If the steel companies do not now change their pay roll methods they are letting an opportunity go by.

HE'S AN AMERICAN!

In one of THE TRIBUNE's popular and romantic comic strips, Terry and the Pirates, a principal figure for some months has been a human roach by the name of Sandhurst. Milton Caniff, the artist, has done this specimen of the human undesirable so completely that even the most pessimistic observer of human faults couldn't add much to the embodiment of sour and cowardly meanness. It is not necessary to tell the story to the followers of the almost too handsome Pat, Terry, and Connie.

The nationality of the thoroughly unpleasant Mr. Sandhurst was not known until recently. The Chinese locale, the enterprises engaged in, and the suggestions as to Mr. Sandhurst's matrimonial relations would have indicated that he was an Englishman, not, we hasten to say, a typical Englishman, but just one of those things that may happen to any nationality.

Recently the followers have been given to understand, somewhat to their amazement, that this bird is an American. America is a big country, with a lot of people, and we can take one or several Sandhursts in our stride without thinking that the better folk of the country are sunk in humiliation and despair by such a specimen of the breed. There may, however, be a reason for the sudden Americanization of Mr. Sandhurst, accomplished undoubtedly by birth and not by the taking out of second papers. The explanation would be found if Hollywood has its eyes on Terry.

The rule of Hollywood is that outstanding villains must be Americans. They must not be English, French, Italian, South American, or Japanese. In one respect the business of making pictures in this country is somewhat like the business of making beer or flour or some other articles of trade. If the product is to be exported or sold in many markets it needs special treatment to keep it in marketable condition. The thing that would spoil a picture abroad would be a prominent character of execrable morals and contemptible nature of any other nationality than American. The box office abroad requires it.

If a producer undertakes even to intimate that there could be anything in any one individual offensive to the national pride he may be certain that the censor will prohibit the distribution of the picture or that the distributors themselves will not handle it. Thus the reputation of the American citizenship is spread abroad by American producers in an embodiment the people abroad love to believe is the American type.

The thing works also the other way about. The hero of other nationality gets a great play in the United States because he's a good business policy abroad. We get a great deal of British heroism and the glorification of the empire because Americans do not object to it, and, although the more superior people in England object to Hollywood laying its profane hands on British history, the more sensible of the British people, who are the movie patrons, eat it up.

TRAILER CAMPS.

While at first glance the ordinance against trailer parking in the Chicago area for a longer period than two weeks would appear to impose an unnecessary restriction against a recreational facility, most readers, on second thought, will agree with THE TRIBUNE that the measure is a meritorious one. A fortnight is the established vacation period, and a sojourn beyond that time suggests residential possibilities and a method of tax dodging.

There are many other reasons for regulating trailers in the city. If there is a time limit to their stay the number and size of trailer camps will be kept within bounds. Generally speaking, these so-called cities are neither beautiful nor healthy. THE TRIBUNE is quite aware that de luxe trailers are being produced fully equipped with sanitary arrangements and methods of table waste disposal, but they are rare, because they are expensive. By far the greater number are homemade affairs that might be classed as bunk houses on wheels.

THE AIRPORT EXTENSION.

While representatives of the city should effect the removal of the Chicago and Western Indiana tracks from the airport at the least possible cost to the municipality, and while railway representatives may be expected to protect fully the interests of their bondholders, neither party should forget that the matter is urgent. If any concessions can be offered, they should be placed on the table with the least possible delay.

Contracts for the forty passenger airplanes, which require the larger field, have been signed and delivery to the air lines is a matter of months, not years. Unless the field is ready to receive them when they make their first eastbound flight, the Chicago public is going to be badly disappointed.

The project is not an extensive undertaking. There are no physical difficulties. Even now it is hard to realize why so much bickering has been necessary. Under these circumstances, public impatience is not far in the future, and neither the city nor the railway can afford to provoke it further than is absolutely necessary.

Editorial of the Day

HUMBLE EVENTS MAKE HISTORY.

[Topeka Daily Capital.]

They have been having a time lately in the pleasant village of Grand Detour, Ill., celebrating the 100th anniversary of the invention of the steel plow. Good looking Illinois farm girls dressed up in 1837 style clothes, cumbersome wooden plows of the pre-steel era were dragged around by patient oxen, and a testimonial to one of the really significant events in western history was put on the records.

And this homely little anniversary deserved all the celebrating it got. For we make a mistake when we think that it is only the great events—the battles, the discoveries, the founding of great cities, and the birth of great leaders—that shape history. The humble things can be far more significant.

TAPS.

To the scores of poets who answered our appeal for a suitable lyric to fit the melody of the army call, "Taps," the Line o' Type extends its sincere thanks. The task was difficult, and a surprisingly large number of the contributions were excellent in sentiment and in poetic quality. But not so many were suitable for singing; they contained what musicians would call lingual stumbling blocks. The one printed below, written by Clara Edmunds-Hemingway, has been chosen as the best (and very good it is):

Gently pressed
To the calm Mother Earth's waiting breast.

WHEN AND WHAT TO EAT IN SUMMER.

NOW is the time when all good men should give some thought to the defense of their bodies—during the summer season. Clothing should be adjusted to humidity, temperature, and exertion; and should be of such texture as to permit free access of air to the skin.

When we exercise on a torrid day we become tired. This means that most of us will labor less productively. We have difficulty in ridding the system of waste products because we may not be able to dissipate the heat generated within our tissues and organs. Nature attempts to compensate by doubling the activity of the sweat glands. In order to keep these sluices at maximum efficiency we must replace the fluids thus depleted by increasing our intake. Moderately cool liquids—lemonade, orangeade, limeade, and buttermilk—are desirable.

Along with the loss of water the body is deprived of considerable quantities of minerals and many of the so-called summer cramps in the abdominal area and in the muscles are due to the fact that the tissues are crying for salts. A teaspoonful of common salt added to a quart of water makes an excellent drink. Workers who are constantly bathed in perspiration may need a stronger solution or better yet a very thin gruel made of oatmeal or some other cereal well salted.

The food question is paramount. Old Sol supplies so many calories that there is no justification for filling the digestive tract with combustibles far beyond requirements. Despite lack of appetite—which on the whole is a valuable guide to food demands—many will persevere throughout the summer in following a heavy winter menu. This is not only NOT beneficial but it is definitly weakening because of the excessive load placed upon the digestive structures. Furthermore, it is heat producing. The plan calls for overwork on the part of the secreting glands and our waste removing mechanism.

I am firmly convinced that many individuals who approach the autumn season less able to cope with colds and infections—so frequent about that time of the year—do so because they have actually lowered their resistance by overindulgence in food.

Salads, fruits, and fresh vegetables with a moderate helping of meat once a day will protect against that logy, dull, weary feeling which attends a surfeit of edibles. We should cut down materially on pastries and fatty and oily foods; use buttermilk [without cream] instead of milk, and reduce the total amount rather than add to it.

Do not be disturbed if you observe some increase in lassitude. You cannot keep going at your optimum winter speed. Nature does not intend it. Even cattle will graze in the early morning and during the evening, seeking a shady spot during the middle of the day.

But some one will say, "When should I eat my heaviest meal?" If you are of normal weight the evening repast should be the largest. If you are underweight the evening and noon meals should total from 600 to 800 calories each. Most people will perform with less fatigue if they eat lightly in the middle of the day. I have little or no patience with the no breakfast habitués. This means that the blood is deprived of outside sources of nutriment for approximately 18 hours.

Another sensible precaution is to avoid haste at mealtime. Take 30 minutes at least—better 40. Dawdle a bit. If the period is short because of circumstances beyond your control keep the leisurely attitude in mind and eat only that which is permitted by the time. You will fare better without the extra food.

Here are a few items that we can avoid with profit: hot breads—substitute dry or melba toast; beans—baked and lima; pickles, catsup, and condiments of all types; articles rich in sugar; and gravies, pies, and pastries. Ice cream is a delightful confection and one that is most palatable. But we should recall that one average helping furnishes 200 calories.

CANCER REMOVED.

A. M. H. writes: More than 12 years ago I became aware of a small, firm lump in the right breast but did nothing about it. About 3 years ago I tripped and fell flat. A few months later I noticed that the lump had enlarged a great deal and was a little tender though not painful. A physician advised its removal and it was found to be malignant. I was at the hospital 10 days and had no pain or discomfort other than a stiff arm and the unpleasant after-effects of the X-ray treatments. After two years there is no sign of further trouble. I am 60 years old.

REPLY.

Congratulations! I doubt very much the influence of the fall in originating the cancer, but it could accelerate its growth; that is, injury can cause a cancer once planted to spread more rapidly.

LEMONADE.

J. K. writes: I drink 6 to 8 glasses of ice cold lemonade during and after dinner. The only effect this seems to have on me is that I must urinate three or four times during the night.

REPLY.

You are probably using alkalis to excess. The citric acid of lemons is transformed to an alkali in the body and this apparently increases the output of urine in your case. Rising at night to empty the bladder disturbs rest and you should adjust your fluid intake so as to avoid this procedure if possible. The "ice cold" feature is undesirable.

GREEKS HAD A NAME.

N. B. writes: I am a Greek and maintain that the following words are Greek while an Italian friend say they are Latin: Pneumonia; nephritis.

REPLY.

The word pneumonia is derived from the Greek word, pneumon, meaning lung; nephritis, from the Greek word nephros, meaning kidney. Many medical terms come from the Latin, for instance, the word cerebrum, meaning brain; but by far the larger number are from the Greek.

MAY REQUIRE OPERATION.

G. H. writes: What can be done for a navel rupture in a baby?

REPLY.

The skin of the abdomen should be folded over the area and fastened with a proper type of adhesive band. If nature does not come to the rescue a slight surgical operation may be required.

UNDIVIDED INTERESTS.

Des Moines, Ia., July 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A and B bought a farm supposedly on a fifty-fifty basis, each paying $500 down and A assuming the debt—a government loan for the remainder, but being protected by the deed in his name. B has lived on the farm for the last year. At the end of the first year A has invested $900 [this including interest, court costs, insurance, and all accruing expenses] and B still has only the original $500 investment. A is completely protected, of course, but wishes to deal fairly but not unduly leniently with B. Now the rent is past due from B. B says [the entire rent amounting to $180] that he owes A only $180 rent, but [1] A says that he owes him 9-14 of the $360, or approximately $231. Which is right according to the way legally drawn up partnerships are usually contracted?

2. In the event of a sale of the property should not A receive 9-14 of the profit and B 5-14? B cannot understand that he is receiving about 30 per cent return on his investment and A only 18 per cent if B pays only half the rent to A. There are judgments against B and he cannot hold deed to the property.

3. How could he be protected in event of A's death? Since the amount varies from time to time a sworn statement as to his investment would not be practical. R. R.

1. It is largely a matter of contract between the parties. On your statement that they were to go in on a fifty-fifty basis, it would seem that the only present answer is that B should make up his deficiency.

2. We would say that out of the proceeds the contributions of the parties should first be equalized and then they should divide the balance equally.

3. One way would be by placing the title in trust. In general, we advise going over all your facts in a personal interview with an attorney.

Where owners of undivided interests in real estate cannot agree any one of them is entitled to force a division or a public sale by partition proceedings. The cost of such proceedings, including the complainant's solicitor's fees, are chargeable against the proceeds of sale.

SPAIN.

Chicago, July 13.—There is no occasion to "substantiate" the standing of the Spanish government as F. J. Beattie challenges. That government is recognized by our own and by fifty other nations that maintain diplomatic relations with it—practically the entire civilized world. That government is also democratic because it represents the will of the Spanish people as expressed in the elections early in 1936 in which representatives of the popular front secured 258 out of a total of 472 seats in the cortes.

My letter did not mention the Spanish rebels at all. It simply demanded that the neutrality act be applied to Italy and Germany, who are carrying on a war of invasion in Spain. It suggested a firmer stand in the foreign policy of the American government in support of democracy and against such aggression. The response of F. J. Beattie ignores the presence of Italy and Germany in Spain and goes on to relate some alleged recent history which is called the "truth." This has the appearance of that new kind of "truth" publicly proclaimed by Fascist "culture," namely, that two and two make four only when the interests of Fascism are served.

In the American election of 1916 President Wilson did not quite get a majority of the popular vote. That did not alter the standing of the Wilson reëlection. It would have been preposterous for any clique starting an insurrection against Wilson to claim that it had the support of all those who did not vote for him. It is just as absurd to maintain that all the Spanish voters who did not vote for the popular front are backing the rebel cause.

If it is true that the great majority of the Spanish people is in favor of the rebels, why is it necessary to import raping, looting Moors, the traditional enemies of Spain, to fight for the rebel cause? Why is it necessary to import Italians and Germans in numbers of 100,000 or more and still demand that the numbers be increased? How long would Franco have lasted without the support of the foreign Fascist governments? Answers to these questions must dispose of any propaganda about the popularity of the rebel cause. It is a perfectly sound conclusion on the basis of Spanish history that the side the Moors are on is not the side of the Spanish people. Or are the Moors good Catholics and Spaniards at heart in the manner of the Nazi's Japanese Nordics?

When the Spanish military generals attempted to sell out Spain to foreign Fascists by attacking the democratically elected and legally constituted Spanish government there was not a single socialist or communist in the cabinet. Statements about fighting the "Red Spanish government" are misrepresentations in the face of that fact. The mistake made by democratic Spain was not in being violent, but in being too lenient with its enemies. If a few score of Spanish generals who plotted treason against the Spanish republic had been stood up against a wall and shot, a just punishment for treason, it might have saved the Spanish people an ocean of bloodshed and suffering.

ALBERT CHERNEY.

COMMUNISM BY STEALTH.

Chicago, July 13.—F. J. Beattie is correct when he says that the radicals in control at Madrid are communists, and that their government is not democratic.

Calling communism democracy is just some more "communism by stealth," for there is no democracy at Madrid or at Moscow, but only autocracy of the worst kind.

But the communists seem to think it is smart strategy to substitute "democracy" for "communism" and even Harvard university tried the same trick the other day when they explained that they had merely done certain things to help the "Spanish democracy."

A. F. DURAND.

AN IDEA WORTH CONSIDERING.

Chicago, July 13.—A group of us were discussing this morning the benefits to mankind if a law compelled all automobile owners to carry liability insurance. We agreed, however, that it would be a long time, if ever, before our lawmakers would get around to it. One of the boys had a good idea. Insurance companies, either by law or of their own volition, should refuse to sell fire and theft insurance unless liability is included. You'll notice many of these drivers who won't protect the other fellow carry fire and theft on their own car. If they could no longer buy this alone they would either not drive or they would carry liability insurance. How about some action on this? OBSERVER.

ANOTHER MOTORIST'S EXPERIENCE.

Chicago, July 10.—Recently the writer was driving south on Sheridan road and was halted at Albion avenue by Officer R. O. Man, star 188, for an offense similar to that of Mr. Richard J. Jacker, who complained in this column July 6. The writer admitted carelessness in passing the light and both expected and deserved an arrest slip. This officer, however, in an extremely courteous but nevertheless definite manner, called attention to the potential danger of my action and allowed me to proceed without a ticket.

A. L. HARPER.

IT WOULD SEEM SO.

Sharon, Wis., July 12.—One hears constantly complaint concerning the relief situation which seems to be getting no nearer solution. Yet, I hear of people who cannot get maids, of farmers who can't get hands, of farmers who can't hire help enough. This doesn't seem consistent. Why can't relief people fill these positions and relieve the poor taxpayer? I see people depending on public funds riding in autos, buying Sunday papers, firing off firecrackers, etc. [illegible] to furnish luxuries to those who are being helped?

TAXPAYER.

HE DISCOVERS THE CHIGGER.

Chicago, July 11.—A party of us went to Turkey Run state park in Indiana over the Fourth and came back with about 200 red itchy pockmarks apiece from the jigger bug. A week has passed and they still bother us. It's like having athlete's itch all over one's body.

SLAIN WOMAN'S LETTERS MIRROR HER DYING LOVE

Furch Jury Hears Last Missives Today.

The letters of Mrs. Norma Schmidt, written to Frank J. Furch a few months before he shot her to death, were introduced by the state as rebuttal evidence at his trial for murder yesterday. The letters, written by Mrs. Schmidt, beginning with her first separation from Furch, who was then her husband, had been offered on Wednesday with a diary kept by Furch a few weeks before the slaying.

Excerpts from the diary were admitted as evidence Wednesday, over protests of the defense, as proof of the state's contention that the killing was premeditated. Judge Rudolph Desort, before whom the trial is being held in Criminal court, ruled, however, that presentation of the letters and diary in full would be improper while the defense was offering its evidence. The full text of the letters will not go into the record until today.

Her Disillusionment Told.

Through them the state hopes to prove that Furch alone was to blame for the quarrels and divorce that led eventually to the slaying. In a letter dated June 22, 1936, at Battle Creek, Mich., Mrs. Schmidt wrote:

"It is so hard for me to write you. My heart is broken with my own misfortunes. What I did this morning, only God knew how hard it was for me. It has not been four weeks that I was unpacking your things and was so happy. And then—oh, so soon—that beautiful heaven I was in turned to utter misery and disappointment and to think last night after you were gone all day, you did not seem to care. You did not want to talk to me kindly."

In an undated letter, apparently of the next day, she wrote:

"I will always have my ideals of love because that is what every one is wishing for and, dear, how you could have married me with such a beautiful ceremony of love when deep in your heart you knew it was not true."

Warns Him of His Temper.

In a third letter, apparently written immediately after their divorce on Aug. 22, she said:

"Some time, my dear, you are going to think over all these things and when you do you will be alone with only your own conscience. You then may find I was not all to blame. Your accusations were not true, for you told me the first night I had dinner with you that you were not happy, that you did not get along and you should not have married the first Mrs. Furch, so don't you see, dear, what you yourself did to me?

"Try and destroy that bad temper of yours before it destroys you.

"It is going to be very hard for me to let people know I am in circulation, but as I told you on the phone I am just going to be everybody's girl and nobody's sweetheart, for that's what I planned to do a year ago and I can see now that I should never have let any one change my mind and hurt me again."

Mysterious Warnings Told.

In a letter from Three Rivers, Mich., dated Sept. 12, she again reproached him:

"You tried so hard to put all the blame on me and not take any for yourself. I had so hoped for that beautiful happiness you and I dreamed would come true, but the phone calls you had and the warnings of that unknown person who so many times called me, stopped me from being as I had always been, and I am sorry to say that so many of the things she told me were coming true."

The following day, in reply to a letter from him, she wrote:

"I have often wondered what Miss Rice [Furch's secretary] really thinks. First, your first wife would call, then I would call. Can't you see, dear, things like that can never work out—never? I should think really you would feel a little ashamed of yourself.

Charges Abuse of Love.

"Things could have been the way we really wanted them. . . . You abused the one thing you said you wanted and I guess it was not me you wanted after all. You took the most beautiful love—and you made it so cheap and common and why? Just because you wanted to see how deeply you could hurt me.

"When I think of all the other things, phone calls, slaps and cussings and you taking the rings away from me the way you did—I feel like just going to the other side of the world, for discord does something to me I can't explain."

DEFENSE WITNESS

Dr. Alex Hershfield, who was a witness for Dr. Furch at murder trial.

ALIENISTS CLASH ON FURCH SANITY IN MURDER TRIAL

State's Expert Brushes Aside Defense Plea.

tween right and wrong at that time? A.—I have—that he had the power to choose.

Q.—Have you an opinion as to his sanity or insanity on Feb. 26. A.—I have. He was sane.

"Will you tell the jury on what you base your opinion in this case?"

"The only abnormal symptoms, Dr. Hoffman replied slowly, "are temporary transitory rages or furies—emotional instability. These frequent attacks of slapping and fighting are indications of only temporary rage. They are not classified at all as mental diseases."

No Trace of Insanity.

"There are no definite evidences of mental disease. On the day of the murder, he took care of 11 patients and cut the toes of two. Cutting two toes is no evidence of mental disease. I find no evidence of any symptom of mental disease whatsoever."

Defense Attorney Hoffman, in a vigorous cross-examination, sought to test Dr. Hoffman's knowledge. He asked about Freud, manic-depressives, and the Theelin treatment for melancholia.

"What do you mean by emotional instability?" asked Hoffman. "Anger, hate, revenge, loud talking, crying spells—often laughter," was the reply.

Q.—Would your opinion as to this defendant's sanity change if you learned that this was the first time in his whole career that he had cut any one's feet? A.—No, I don't think so.

Attorney Hoffman then attempted to get the psychiatrist to admit Dr. Furch was insane because he shot himself after shooting Mrs. Schmidt.

Q.—Is a suicide sane or insane? A.—I should say the bulk of suicides are not committed by insane persons.

Q.—Have you studied the subject of suicide? A.—I have.

Dr. Hoffman's testimony was in direct contradiction to that of Dr. Hershfeld.

Emotional Strain Told.

"There was strain there, and considerable emotional stress,' said the defense alienist, in explaining his opinion. "There were hopes, disappointments, despair, brooding, sadness and love for a woman that created continual emotional distress, wearing him down to a point where he was loosing his self-control."

"I believe, too, that any individual who tries to commit suicide is insane at the time the impulse comes to him. Furthermore, I believe that this individual was of such nature as to be possessive, that he absorbed this woman physically and mentally and that in killing her he killed a part of himself and had to finish the job."

Buddy Furch was the final defense witness. He was brought to the stand merely to give the date of Father's day and to testify that he had sent his father a present, the significance of which was not apparent.

Police Rebuttal Witnesses.

Raymond J. Curran, one of the four policemen in Mrs. Schmidt's apartment as the shooting occurred, was recalled by Prosecutor Meyers as a rebuttal witness. He, John Caffaretta and Edward Mee all denied that Furch was pasty, stooped or seemingly insane that night, as defense witnesses testified.

Christian Harry Anderson, a stenographer, was called to the stand to read his shorthand notes, taken in the Hudson avenue police station after the slaying. He read aloud the statement of Dr. Furch's first wife, in which she declared that Dr. Furch said he could not get along with Mrs. Schmidt, but he'd rather die and kill her too.

Over the objections of the defense, ten letters written to Dr. Furch by Mrs. Schmidt at the time of their separation were admitted as evidence.

CIO STEEL STRIKE DELAYS OPENING OF DRIVE BRIDGE

Missing Safety Devices Hold Up Work.

The C. I. O. steel strike will delay opening of the new outer drive bridge about two months, George T. Donoghue, general superintendent of the Chicago Park district, said yesterday. Inability to obtain steel posts for safety barricades at the span has caused postponement of the opening from Aug. 1 to Oct. 1.

"The safety gates have been caught in the strike," Donoghue said, "and we shall not open the bridge to trafic without them. They will be needed to prevent incautious motorists from falling into the bridge well when the leaves are up."

Bridge Steel in Place.

The superintendent said that steel for the bridge was purchased and delivered before the strike began, but the strike shut off delivery of the safety devices. Ralph Burke, chief engineer for the district, agreed that it was impossible to open the bridge much before Oct. 1.

Barricades to be installed at the bridge ends, both at the entrances of the main span and the supplemental bridge over the Ogden slip, were designed by the engineering staf of the district. It was originally intended to procure a safety device with some elasticity which would bring a speeding car to a stop but not abruptly.

Design Rising Barrier.

These gates, it was found, would cost about $250,000, so Burke's department designed a barrier consisting of a series of iron posts, about a foot in diameter spaced at narrow intervals to prevent a car from passing between them. These will rise from the floor of each bridge entry.

The customary wooden crossing gates, bearing bells and red lamps, will first bar the motorist's way when the bridge is up. As soon as the gates are lowered, the iron posts will rise from the roadway behind them to a height of about two and one-half feet. Each post will also bear a red lamp. Should the motorist crash through the wooden gate, he would be stopped by the barricade behind it.

This device can be installed for about $150,000. Save for the gates, the bridge will be ready for trafic by Aug. 1, Donoghue said. The north and south extensions of the outer drive leading to it will also be completed by that time, he predicted.

Does it mix?

It is a mixing gin, we think, when you neither smell nor taste it in the finished drink

IN A SMOOTH TOM COLLINS, gin must balance the contrasting flavors of lemon and sugar—never weigh them down with a "ginny" taste or smell.

Mixed drinks are an American idea. To meet the American taste for smooth mixed drinks, Fleischmann's Gin is distilled especially for mixing—from American grain.

JAPAN REPORTED READY TO GRAB PEIPING IN WEEK

Claim New Government Is Being Formed.

BULLETIN.

PEIPING, July 16 (Friday).—(AP)—Chinese intelligence reports indicated today that Peiping was being cut off from reinforcement by a semicircular line of Japanese troops sweeping south of the city.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 16 (Friday).—A new government which will be completely independent of the Chinese national government at Nanking is in process of formation in North China, according to a dispatch from Peiping today. The correspondent of the North China Daily News, British paper in Shanghai, reported the new state will include Hopei and Chahar provinces. He claimed its announcement is scheduled in a week's time, when the Japanese army is expected to have five divisions [more than 50,000 men] in the field.

Lieut. Gen. Kiyoshi Katsuki, new commander in chief of the Japanese garrison in North China, has visited Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan, Chinese commander of the 29th Route army, and presented a complete list of terms upon which Japan is ready to settle the present crisis.

The aim of the Japanese army's present activities in North China is "to drive Gen. Sung's 29th Route army from Hopei province," according to a proclamation issued by the Japanese military headquarters at Peiping and Fengtai.

Japan Sends More Troops.

TOKIO, July 15.—(AP)—The government announced today that troops from Japan's homeland divisions are being sent to North China while officials disclosed that a large scale exodus of Japanese civilians from the Chinese interior was under way.

Japanese consuls at Kalgan, northwest of Peiping, and Taiyuan, capital of Shansi province, were ordered to withdraw and bring all Japanese nationals with them.

The war office announced the decision to send units from the home garrison in such a way as to emphasize its view that the situation in North China has become grave.

The war office did not state how many men or what units were being sent to China, but Chinese reports have said three Japanese divisions were crossing the China sea. A Japanese division varies in strength from 8,000 to 16,000 men.

Negotiations Deadlocked.

Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, minister of the navy, announced that dispositions of warships already had been made in South China waters as well as in the north to protect or evacuate Japanese nationals if necessary.

Tientsin dispatches told of continued negotiations in search of a local settlement of the conflict, which began July 7 with a small clash west of Peiping, but officials here indicated they had little prospect of success.

Tientsin also reported a Japanese military courier had been killed from ambush south of Peiping and that Japanese headquarters considered this "further aggravated the situation."

Gen. Gen Sugiyama, war minister, told an emergency session of provincial governors that the North China crisis may take an even more serious turn at any moment.

Troops Mass at Fengtai.

PEIPING, July 15.—(AP)—By train, motor truck, and afoot, heavy Japanese reinforcements were moving into the Peiping area tonight and foreign military attachés predicted operations within two days designed to give Japan possession of Peiping, Tientsin, and the connecting railway.

Foreign military men had reports that 3,500 Japanese in full war equipment were marching to reinforce 3,000 already at Fengtai, important railway junction seven miles southwest of Peiping. Japanese were said to be building an extensive air field near Kwanchwang, a village 12 miles south of Peiping.

Despite the tenseness of the situation the official news agency reported from Kuling summer resort that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, dictator of China, was remaining there. Other Chinese sources declared Gen. Chiang was engaged in drafting a diagram "explaining the philosophical system of the three peoples and principles."

At Attack Hearing

Charlotte Sweet as she sobbed in court at Los Angeles yesterday during preliminary hearing at which dance instructor was ordered held for trial on her charge of attack.

Hollywood, Cal., July 15.—[Special.]—Sobbing to the judge, Charlotte Sweet, 17 years old, of Chicago today testified in a preliminary hearing that Roy Randolph, movie studio and society dancing instructor, had attacked her in his Hollywood apartment the night of June 27. Randolph, 29, was ordered held for trial. Miss Sweet had been out the night of the alleged attack with Frank Miguell, Randolph's roommate, testimony showed. Randolph offered her the hospitality of an extra room in his apartment when a round of night clubs ended there, but Miguell departed some time later, either in anger or jealousy.

FIRST ARRESTS SPEED UP AUTO SAFETY TESTS

Police Give 200 Tickets; Lanes Jammed.

BY HAL FOUST.

Police yesterday made their first arrests this year for violation of the ordinance requiring all motor vehicles registered in Chicago to be inspected and approved by the city twice a year. Tickets were issued to 200 picked at random from names of 232,000 autos still lacking the current O. K. windshield stickers.

Beginning of enforcement jammed the city's inspection stations. Many motorists were in line for an hour or an hour and a half waiting for their brakes, lights, steering gear, and other safety equipment to be checked. Operating to capacity, 10,500 cars were tested during the day and early evening.

Earlier Opportunity Neglected.

"We realize that these delays are a hardship on car owners," said Edward P. Gorman, deputy vehicle commissioner, "but our sympathy is tempered by the fact that these motorists have had since April 1 to get their cars tested. In the last six weeks the inspection lanes have been idle much of the time."

Mr. Gorman directed the four squads of police assigned to him to issue the arrest tickets yesterday in South Chicago and on the far west side. Inspection lanes in those neighborhoods have been less used than those in other parts of the city.

"There probably will be no summonses issued tomorrow," he said. "Our practice for the next few weeks will be to watch the reports from the eighteen inspection stations and any time one of them shows it is not operating to capacity the police will be sent into that neighborhood to pass out tickets."

Fine May Be Paid by Mail.

The summonses are made returnable to the cafeteria trafic court. They will be mailed to the court with a plea of guilty and payment of a $2 fine.

At the following locations, testing stations for passenger cars are open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. daily except Sundays and holidays:

Location of Stations.

1803 MOHAWK STREET.

At the following locations, open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., trucks are inspected:

SACRAMENTO BOULEVARD, near Ohio street.

CALUMET PARK, 50 feet south of 99th street on Avenue G.

DEATH DECREED FOR SCOTTSBORO CASE DEFENDANT

Decatur, Ala., July 15.—(AP)—Clarence Norris, youthful Negro, was convicted today for the third time of rape in the Scottsboro case by a jury which recommended the death penalty.

Twice saved from electrocution by the United States Supreme court, Norris listened stolidly as the court clerk read the verdict.

It was the second returned in the retrials of nine Negroes accused of assaulting two white women, textile mill workers, aboard a freight train bound for Huntsville, Ala., six years ago.

"I will appeal the sentence to hell and back," declared Samuel S. Leibowitz of New York, chief of defense counsel.

Judge W. W. Callahan said he would formally sentence Norris next week, probably Thursday. The trial of Charlie Weems is scheduled to open that day.

In the first of the retrials, Heywood Patterson was sentenced to seventy-five years imprisonment in January, 1936.

ADOPT REVISED PARK BUDGET TO MEET LEVY CUT

A revised budget for the Chicago park district, based upon the $7,600,000 pegged levy approved by the legislature and which became law on Monday, was adopted yesterday by the park commissioners. It appropriated a total of $8,599,174, the difference between that and the pegged figure being represented by miscellaneous income, fees, rentals, and tax payments from prior levies.

The pegged figure was reduced from $9,000,000 to $7,600,000 upon the insistence of Gov. horner and as a result the park district has already laid off about twenty-five employés and other cuts will be made, according to George T. Donoghue, general superintendent.

The reduction will also cut to a minimum the shore protection work on which the district wished to make substantial progress this year.

Youth Seized on Roof

Tom Talmeter was fined $200 when the girl's father testified he heard him make improper proposal to the girl, who was surprised on the roof by the youth.

Tom Talmeter, 20 years old, a farm boy from Mount Vernon, faced Judge Justin F. McCarthy in Fillmore street court yesterday as the result of his intrusion upon a young woman whose father caught him at it. Also in court was Nancy Anderson, 19 years old, and her father, Thomas.

Young Talmeter, who has been living at 607 North Clark street, was surprised by Nancy's father Wednesday night annoying Nancy atop the roof of the Anderson home at 2302 Blue Island avenue. He had climbed there after he saw her watering the flowers in the family roof garden.

Talmeter told the court how Nancy's father knocked him out with one punch and ordered him to go to the police station, which he did. When Anderson spoke up to say that what Talmeter was saying to his daughter sounded improper to him, Judge McCarthy fined the youth $200.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES SOON AFTER TRUCK HITS HER

Miss Jean Strach, 18 years old, 1949 Crystal street, was fatally injured yesterday when she was struck by a truck at Halsted and Division streets. She died soon after being taken to Henrotin hospital. The truck driver, Peter Paul, 18 years old, 3927 Addison street, told police Miss Strach stepped from behind a street car into the path of his truck.

On June 30 the state legislature because of a patronage feud missed its last opportunity to enact a drivers' license law which has reduced trafic accidents in some states. Since then and up to 4 p. m. yesterday 21 persons have been killed and 1,001 injured in automobile accidents in Chicago.

Since Jan. 1, trafic accidents have killed 542 in the county, including 420 in Chicago, according to the coroner's office. During the same period 11,602 were injured by automobiles in the city.

EIGHT LOSE RIGHT TO DRIVE AFTER TRAFIC OFFENSES

Truckman Ordered Off Job for Sixty Days.

Driving privileges of eight motorists were revoked yesterday as Chicago judges made increased use of the new Illinois drivers' law. A truck driver, arrested for speeding 70 miles an hour in his own auto, was ordered not to drive either vehicle for 60 days.

"I realize that I may be taking this young man's livelihood away from him," said Judge Gibson E. Gorman in Speeders' court, "but it is better to do that than to have him take the lives of innocent persons."

Three other motorists barred from driving for 60 days by Judge Gorman are William Schick, 19 years old, 1507 Touhy avenue; Jake Jacob, 21 years old, 8033 Lowell avenue, Niles Center, and William Spicer, 28 years old, 3537 5th avenue.

Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Safety court deprived four reckless drivers of the use of their cars. The defendants and their punishment are:

HENRY NESBY, 30 years old, 5424 Indiana avenue, colored, fined $10 and deprived of his car for six months.

FRANK BOLGER, 33 years old, 1427 North Clark street, fined $10 and deprived of his car for 30 days.

I. G. WHITTAKER, 38 years old, 3912 Calumet avenue, 5 days in the county jail and deprived of his car for six months.

Charles Ganauf, 36 years old, 313 West 42d place, was sentenced to ten days in county jail for driving while intoxicated.

TWO SMALL TOWN BOYS GET IN BAD IN THE BIG CITY

Two young men and two girls were arrested yesterday by Englewood police after the men tried to pass a bogus $25 check on a south side store.

Three of the prisoners are from small Illinois towns, James Kay, 23 years old, of Geneseo; Lawrence Moore, 22, of Cambridge; Miss Jane Hansen, 18, of Geneseo. The fourth, Miss Corinne Miller, 28, shakes the 26 dice game in a North Clark street cabaret.

Kay and Moore fled when the $25 check was questioned, and Moore, a cripple, was caught. Police went to his room at the Burton hotel, 1439 North Clark street, and found Miss Hansen. Kay was arrested in his room at 4545 Oakenwald avenue with Miss Miller. Kay and Moore said they came here five weeks ago and have passed more than $1,000 in bad checks.

SAMUEL BAKER OF HYDROX COMPANY IS SUED BY WIFE

Charging her husband, Samuel Fairfax Baker, vice president of the Hydrox corporation, with misconduct, cruelty, and desertion, Mrs. Irene Sterling Baker, 44 years old, 524 Maple avenue, Wilmette, filed suit for separate maintenance yesterday in the Circuit court. The bill charges that Baker often boasted of his conquests, that he brought a Jane Doe to their home to social functions, and also lived at her apartment. The Bakers have three children, Sammy, 12; Emily, 18, and Mrs. Nancy Goes, 21. Baker, who is 47, lives at the Illinois Athletic club.

3 Sent to Jail, 2 Others Fined for Vote Frauds

Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday imposed jail sentences on three officials of the 34th precinct of the 20th ward for vote frauds during the 1936 April primary, and fined two others. The defendants and their punishments were: Albert Krakow, 1313 South Union avenue, Republican clerk, $50; Louis Goodman, 660 West 13th street, Republican judge, three months; Jesse Turner, 641 West 13th street, Democratic judge, four months; Ernest Wilson, colored, 610 Maxwell street, Democratic judge, four months, and Joseph Pinski, 4016 Grenshaw street, Democratic clerk, $50.

COMMON SENSE

Three weeks ago, the citizens committee of Johnstown, Pa., published an advertisement entitled We Protest. In that advertisement, we denounced the violence and intimidation which marked the organizing tactics of the C. I. O. in Johnstown. We stated as our opinion that it was the duty of the government to protect the individual citizen in his legal rights, and we appealed to Americans everywhere to help us make our views heard.

The response was overwhelming. A total of $59,000 was received in over 5,000 individual contributions. Even more encouraging to us was the fact that representative citizens from 73 other communities agreed to meet with us in Johnstown to discuss a peaceable solution to the present industrial strife.

We have said before, and we repeat; this is not a question of being for or against unions. It is not a question of being for or against employers. We believe in the right to strike and the right to picket, peaceably and within the law. We believe in the right of the individual to continue working, if he so chooses, free of all intimidation.

BUT WHEN AN UNNECESSARY ORGANIZING STRIKE CAN DISRUPT THE LIFE OF A WHOLE COMMUNITY . . . WHEN MEN ARE SLUGGED AND BEATEN BECAUSE THEY WILL NOT JOIN A PARTICULAR UNION . . . WHEN THE GOVERNMENT FAILS TO PROTECT THE INDIVIDUAL WORKER AGAINST THE THREATS OF A LAWLESS MINORITY . . . THEN WE THINK THE PUBLIC HAS A RIGHT TO PROTEST.

We think we have a right to protest because the constitution says in plain words:

> Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; OR ABRIDGING THE FREEDOM OF SPEECH OR OF THE PRESS: OR THE RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE PEACEABLY TO ASSEMBLE AND TO PETITION THE GOVERNMENT FOR A REDRESS OF GRIEVANCES.

We think that means what it says. But apparently Senator Wagner does not agree with us. In a dispatch from Washington (New York World-Telegram, July 14, 1937) he is quoted as saying: "Private citizens sponsoring anti-union CITIZENS COMMITTEES and vigilante groups may be violating the Wagner act."

Please note that we are not anti-union, and that we are not vigilantes. We are a citizens committee. We assembled peaceably and we are petitioning the government for a redress of grievances.

For this we are to be investigated, the dispatch further says, by the national labor relations board.

Common sense would suggest that the man to be investigated is the man with the club in his hands, and not the innocent bystander who appeals to the government for protection in his constitutional rights.

We appeal to the common sense of the citizens of this country, confident that they will agree with us. Anyone who reads the resolutions which were passed at the Johnstown meeting of July 15th, and which we reproduce elsewhere on this page, must realize that we are asking for only one thing — the impartial protection of the law, which we believe to be the very essence of democratic government.

We invite you to join the citizens national committee, if you agree that the time has come for a reasonable and common-sense revision of a labor policy which has been proven by experience to be unsound and impractical. If it is left unchanged, if we have learned nothing from the bitter experience of the past months, your community may be the next to suffer.

Write your senator and representative and make them understand clearly that this is the most pressing problem before the country today.

Contributions to the funds which we need to keep this protest before the people should be sent to George C. Rutledge, treasurer, Citizens National Committee, Box H, Johnstown, Pa.

Resolutions passed at a meeting of representative citizens from 74 American communities, held at Johnstown, Pa., July 15, 1937.

Preamble and Resolution

WHEREAS, certain public officials in high places as well as minor executives of the law throughout the country have failed to use the authority given them as a trust under oath to protect American citizens in their inalienable constitutional rights to work without molestation, and

WHEREAS, occasions have arisen where we can no longer look to certain constituted authorities to protect human constitutional rights,

THEREFORE, as loyal American citizens we feel it is our patriotic duty to perfect a nation-wide organization whose function it shall be to restore and protect those constitutional rights that have been taken from American citizens by certain unworthy officials

Be It Resolved

I.—That this meeting condemns the lawlessness and violence which have marked the present wave of strikes throughout the country.

II.—That we are opposed to any group, whether on the side of labor or of management, which invites or is responsible for violence in defiance of the constitution of the United States.

III.—That we believe it the duty of the government to guarantee by the impartial enforcement of law the right of every citizen to work or strike as he may choose and to join or refrain from joining any labor organization, as he may desire.

IV.—We believe that labor unions and employers should be equally responsible before the law.

V.—We will oppose and will continue to oppose activities which are un-American, communistic and destructive to the welfare of our nation.

"I Devise and Bequeath"

[Copyright: 1937: By Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

On his return from abroad Michael Eden, heir to millions, postpones his marriage to Katharine McCann because his foster-father, John Millis, tells Michael his foster-mother is ill and needs him. Katharine's roommate, Joan, is engaged to Michael's friend, Terry Newton. From all sides Katharine is warned to break Michael away from John Millis. Millis asks Michael to sign a will making him Michael's heir. Michael signs, expecting to change the will after his marriage to Katharine. Mrs. Millis attempts suicide when she discovers her husband flirting with her nurse. Michael rescues her and agrees to take her away from Millis without telling any one where they are going. Millis wreaks his hate against Michael on the young man's room and tricks Katharine into a ride with him and forces his kisses on her. Amos Newton, uncle of Terry, believes that Millis killed Terry's father, who was Michael's co-guardian. Michael returns to the home of Amos Newton and Katharine and he plan to be married the next day, although Michael is not well. Michael's mother left him to go to her sister's to live. That night Michael disappears.

INSTALMENT XXIX.

MICHAEL IN DANGER.

He left to telephone, but returned shortly.

"I find merely that Millis is in town. He is stopping at his club, but he goes back and forth to his house freely, often several times a day. Suppose you ring Katharine."

"O, Uncle Amos! Let Kit sleep!"

Amos strode over to the telephone.

"You may go to bed, Terry, any time you like."

Terry grinned and sat lost in admiration of the simple, kind way in which his uncle was putting Katharine in possession of the facts.

"You see," he explained to his nephew as he sat down again, "Michael belongs to that girl. I am at present his custodian. The very least I can do is to notify her of her loss."

The bell tinkled again. Amos rose to answer the call.

"Amos Newton speaking," he said. "O, it is Mr. Millis. Just a little more slowly, please, Mr. Millis. You came home and found Michael there. He was ill. Yes, I understand. Decidedly ill. You have put him to bed. You called me so that I would not worry. You say that Michael seems very comfortable and very happy to be home."

Newton was getting whiter and whiter. He braced himself with an obvious effort.

"Mr. Millis, will you be patient with me a moment?" You know, do you not, that Michael came back to town at my special invitation, to be my guest for a little while? He got here only today. It is going to upset me to have the visit end so badly. What do I want to do? I know, Mr. Millis, how great a favor I am asking, but I wish your permission to get an ambulance and a corps of nurses and an army of doctors and bring Michael over here and take care of him until he is well once more. Will you do me the very great kindness of indulging me in this?"

Terry shoved up a chair for his uncle, who nodded his thanks, but did not sit down.

"Why do I make such an astounding suggestion? Is it astounding? Yes, he is your son, as you say, but it was I whom he was visiting. Everything has been made ready for his visit. I am on leave from the university this quarter, and time hangs heavy on my hands. You refuse? O, I'm so sorry! Perhaps you will reconsider. Thank you for calling me. Good night."

Newton turned and stared at his nephew with unseeing eyes.

"Uncle," the young man protested, "why do you take this so—so tragically?"

"Terry, I am no hysterical schoolgirl," Newton said coldly. "I do not see what can save Michael now."

Terry was dismayed at the irritation which he felt. It was disheartening to encounter in his uncle again and again that old unreasonable obsession, that bitter certainty that John Millis was an evil man. He looked up with relief when Ito appeared in the door.

Close on the heels of the Jap, without waiting to be announced, came Katharine. Behind her, at a respectful distance, was a tall man with a ruddy face and clear intelligent eyes. He carried himself magnificently, but bore the earmarks of a man of the serving class.

"By Jove, look who's here!" Terry cried. "Uncle Amos, do you know the redoubtable Hobson, the Apollo of all chauffeurs?"

"This is Mr. Amos Newton, Hobson," Katharine added. "Mr. Newton, Hobson is a good friend of us all. He is here to tell us about Michael. Go ahead, Hobson. Terry, don't interrupt."

"Shall we sit down, please," Newton said smiling. "And don't feel hurried, sir. You might leave out some apparently unimportant detail, which we should like very much to know."

"Yes, sir. I do better at that than I did." He wiped his forehead. "Mr. Middleton has worked hard to train me. Just stop me, sir, any time that I am not clear."

He drew a long breath. "Well, maybe you know I'm Mr. Millis' chauffeur. At least I was. I was fired last week, along with the rest of the help. I had my own reasons for preferring to stay on, so I put on a sorry face and Mr. Millis kindly permitted me to continue to occupy my room. In return for this I was to keep the grounds neat, and act as night watchman. I told him that that was some comedown from $125 a month and keep and a boy to pull off my boots, but he said it was all I was worth to him, and I said I'd take it till I got another place.

"That's how it happened that I was there when Mr. Michael came. I was alone in the house playing the victrola to scare away the ghosts when I heard a key in the latch. I opened the door, expecting to see Mr. Millis, who pops in and out as he likes. There stood Mr. Michael. Mr. Michael is a lad we are all fond of, and I was so pleased to see him I could have cried, but all I said was 'Good evening, sir.' 'Good evening, Hobson,' he said, with his nice smile. 'Are you the only one on the place?' 'I am, sir,' I answered. 'Which suits me very well,' he said frankly. I'm here to gather up some pictures that I left behind, and I'd just as soon not see my father. I am staying with Mr. Newton for a few days. Should you like to help me? I feel rather wabbly.' 'I'll be up shortly,' I said.

"When I reached the young master's room, sir, I heard him making a pitiful sound, not quite moaning, not quite whimpering. Just the sound of somebody who is feeling very badly hurt, you know. When I looked into the room, which has been closed and locked since he left, I understood. The big mirror had been smashed and there was broken glass all over the floor. I saw him pick up something lying on the floor and stand there, turning it over and over in his hand. It was nothing at all, just a little broken picture frame. I wanted to go in, but I hardly felt at liberty to. After a bit I coughed apologetically and stood there in the doorway.

"'Could I help you now, sir, so that you can be getting away,' I said. 'Your father may be coming in and he'll want you to stay and talk to him, and you'll be delayed. He has people come to see him here—at night—rather often, sir.'

"Mr. Michael looked me straight in the eye. 'John Millis,' he said in an awful tone, 'it does you no good to hide behind that chauffeur's uniform. You are as much a liar and a seducer and a murderer as if you were not dressed in the clothes of a decent working man. I dislike to kill you. I hate to kill anything. But if you don't go I shall certainly kill you.'

"'Mr. Michael,' I begged. 'It's nobody but me standing here.'

"'My dear Pratt, he said, in his nice apologetic way. I'm awfully sorry. I thought, for just a moment, that I was home.'

"I put my hand on his arm. 'Go to bed, Mr. Michael,' I begged. 'You're a little under the weather.'

"'Now don't blame the weather!' he said, laughing, just as natural. 'I had a nap and a nightmare. I thought I was home. Put me to bed and cook me some pancakes and I'll be in good shape tomorrow. Not that it matters. Nothing will happen tomorrow. Something is always going to happen tomorrow, my dear Pratt, but when tomorrow comes, you'll find it is just the same as yesterday.'

"All the time I was getting him out of his clothes he was running on like that. I didn't know where I was going to put him to bed, but he settled that. He walked right out and down the hall and up the stairs to the servants' quarters.

PEACH SEASON BRINGS ARRAY OF NEW DISHES

Fruit Finds Its Way Into Desserts and Salads.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune.]

The first peaches of the season always are small and hard and a bit green. If they're eaten raw by peach fanciers who can't wait for the ripe fruit, they're quite capable of producing midsection disturbances which aren't too pleasant.

But the first peaches of the season now have given way to the larger, yellower, riper fruit, and peaches and cream may be attached to any menu without fear of dire consequences. If the peaches you brought home are a little less ripe than you thought, they may be baked into delicious peach crumble, a quick and easy dessert if there ever was one. If they're juicy and very ripe, however, one of the other recipes given here may be preferred.

Dutch Peach Crumble.

[Serves six.]

8 medium peaches, sliced
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup flour
1 cup light brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup butter

Arrange peaches in a buttered baking dish and sprinkle lemon juice over them. Blend flour, sugar, cinnamon, and salt with butter until the mixture is of the consistency of cornmeal. Spread over peaches. Bake in hot oven about 10 minutes [400 degrees]. Reduce heat to low moderate, 325 degrees for 25 minutes longer, or until peaches are soft and top is brown. Serve with cream or whipped cream.

PEACH-BLACKBERRY SALAD.

Combine fresh peach slices and fresh blackberries with a lemon cream dressing made by folding ⅓ cup mayonnaise, 2½ tablespoons confectioners' sugar, a few grains of salt, and 1½ tablespoons lemon juice into ⅓ cup cream, whipped. These amounts make 1 cup dressing. The dressing is appropriate for any fresh fruit salad.

Peach Alaska.

[One 9 inch pie.]

1 baked and cooled pie shell
3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
½ cup sugar
8 medium peaches, sliced
1 pint ice cream, frozen hard

Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat stiffly. Add sugar gradually, beating only until dissolved. Line pie shell with sliced peaches and sprinkle with sugar. Cover with the stiffly frozen ice cream and top with a few more peach slices. Cover entire pie thickly with meringue, and place pie in very hot oven or under broiler until the meringue is brown. The hot oven is necessary in order to brown the meringue before there is time for the heat to penetrate to the ice cream. Serve at once.

Peach Refrigerator Cake.

[Serves eight.]

1 can sweetened condensed milk
¼ cup lemon juice
1 cup sliced peaches
2 stiffly beaten egg whites
2 dozen chocolate wafers

Blend sweetened condensed milk and lemon juice thoroughly until the mixture thickens. [Lemon juice thickens the milk.] Add sliced peaches. Fold in egg whites. Line a narrow, oblong pan with waxed paper. Cover with fruit mixture. Add a layer of chocolate wafers and another of fruit mixture, alternating thus until fruit filling is used. Have top layer of wafers. Chill in refrigerator for six hours or more. Turn out on small platter, carefully remove waxed paper, and slice cake. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

IT LOOKS GOOD

A blackberry roll with cheese crust is an unusual and delicious summer dessert. For the biscuit dough use 2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ⅔ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup grated American cheese, and ⅓ cup milk. Add the cheese to the flour-shortening mixture before stirring in the milk. Pat dough to ⅓ inch thickness and spread over this 2½ cups blackberries mixed with ¾ cup sugar. Roll like a jelly and bake at 375 degrees for 40 minutes or until well browned. Serve hot or cold. (Raspberries or blueberries may be substituted.)

DESSERTS IN HOT WEATHER SHOULD BE LIGHT, FLUFFY

Summertime desserts should be light fluffs of flavor, something cool and refreshing to be anticipated throughout the opening courses of luncheon or dinner. Frozen desserts fall into this category, as do fruity whips and frothy gelatin puddings. For puny appetites try these:

Raspberry Coconut Whip.

1 cup mashed raspberries
½ cup confectioner's sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
½ cup cream, whipped
½ cup shredded coconut

Combine the raspberries, sugar, and lemon juice and force through a coarse sieve. Fold the pulp into the egg whites, mix with the whipped cream and coconut. Serve cold.

Macaroon Fluff.

1 package cherry flavored gelatin
1½ cups hot water
Pinch of salt
¼ cup sugar
½ cup whipping cream
[whipped until almost stiff]
½ teaspoon vanilla
5 tablespoons toasted almonds, chopped
6 crushed macaroons

Dissolve the gelatin in the hot water and add salt and sugar. Chill until it just begins to congeal and then fold in the whipped cream and vanilla. Fold in the almonds and macaroons, place in a mold and chill until firm.

Three-in-One Sherbet.

1 cup pureed apricots
½ cup orange juice
¾ cup pineapple juice
⅞ cup water
½ cup sugar
½ cup whipping cream
1 egg white

Force apricots through a sieve to make one cup of the puree. Add fruit juices. Boil sugar and water together three minutes, add to the first mixture and cool. Freeze to a mush in freezer or refrigerator tray, then fold in the stiffly beaten cream and stiffly beaten egg white. Finish freezing. Stir several times during freezing if sherbet is frozen in refrigerator tray.

SPANISH CORN: A HOT DISH FOR WARM WEATHER

If you like at least one hot dish a meal regardless of the temperature tonight's might consist of a savory mixture of vegetables such as this Spanish corn:

SPANISH CORN.

1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped onions
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
2½ cups tomatoes
2 tablespoons butter

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in frying pan, add green pepper and onion, and simmer until tender. Add other ingredients and simmer until the juice has partly condensed. Serve on split, buttered whole wheat biscuits.

A Delicious Sandwich for Hot Weather Luncheon

A delicious sandwich for hot weather luncheons is as follows: Soften a 3 ounce package of cream cheese and blend with 1½ teaspoons prepared horseradish. Spread on thin slices of lightly buttered rye bread. Then cover half of the slices of bread with thin slices of chilled cucumbers and top with remaining pieces of bread.

Beef Contains Iron, So Do Oysters, Eggs, Spinach

A SUMMER MEAT: BREAST OF LAMB WITH PARSLEY

Rolled breast of lamb with parsley filling is a summer meat dish which does not require oven heat for cooking and is uncommonly good when served chilled as the basis of a cold dinner.

Ask your butcher for a lean boned lamb breast. This cut of lamb is one of the least demanded and therefore a less expensive one.

Lay the piece of lamb out flat and sprinkle with 1½ teaspoons salt. Sprinkle chopped parsley thickly all over the top and roll meat up like a jelly roll, rolling it very tight. Tie with heavy string like a rolled roast. Place in boiling water to cover, adding 1½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon celery salt to the water. Cover pan and cook on the top of the stove at simmering temperature for 1½ hours or until tender. Let meat cool in water, then remove from the water, and wrap in waxed paper or parchment. Chill thoroughly. When sliced the result is a pinwheel effect.

Lettuce Leaves Separate When Core Is Cut Loose

To break lettuce leaves from the head, cut them around the core with a sharp knife and hold under running water as you pull the leaves away.

FRUITS PROVIDE IDEAL TOPPINGS FOR ICE CREAM

A quick and delicious ice cream sundae is one made with fruit jam or preserves. A few of the more popular fruits which serve as ice cream toppings are strawberry, raspberry, pineapple, peach, and cherry. Be sure to put up enough of these fruit preserves to allow for occasional sundaes of this kind during the winter months.

Speaking of ice cream toppings, this one is a great favorite—particularly with the children.

PEANUT BUTTER CARAMEL SAUCE.

1 cup brown sugar
4 tablespoons cream
1 tablespoon butter
3 tablespons peanut butter

Combine sugar, cream, and butter. Allow to cook until sirupy [boil about four minutes]. Remove from fire and cool. Add the peanut butter and blend well. Serve on ice cream and top with whole or chopped nuts.

GREENSTUFFS CHEAPER; MEAT STILL GOING UP

Local Gardeners Supply Chicago Market.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Fresh vegetables are cheaper and meats are higher than last week-end in Chicago and suburban stores, according to the Tribune's weekly food survey. There have been comparatively few changes in the prices of staples.

Local gardeners are supplying most of the fresh vegetables now reaching the city's markets, and prices are coming down because of lower transportation costs.

Cabbage Much Llower.

Green beans, celery, bunch beets, and cucumbers are cheaper in stores generally. Cabbage prices are much lower in many places and carrots are 2 cents a bunch less in some stores. Bananas and cooking apples are lower. Both green and dry onions are cheaper. Watermelons, head and leaf lettuce, and raspberries are lower in practically all stores.

Cantaloupes, fresh peaches, and plums are higher. The quality of the cantoloupes continues good. Fresh pease are 1 cent a pound higher in a few stores and new potatoes are slightly up in some.

Butter is up 1 cent a pound in practically all stores, while a few have raised the price 2 cents. Eggs are 1 cent a dozen higher than last week.

Sales on Staples.

Several stores have special sales on evaporated milk, tomato juice, and a few kinds of canned vegetables and fruits. Five pound packages of sugar are 3 cents less than last week in a few places. Some stores are featuring American cheese at special sale prices and others have reduced low priced brands of coffee 1 cent a pound.

Retail prices of both fres hand cured meats continued to go higher during the week. Practically all kinds of beef cuts are up in many shops with round, sirloin, and porterhouse steaks showing 2 to 6 cents a pound rise. Beef roasts are 1 to 2 cents a pound higher in most places.

Pork loin roasts and pork sausage are higher, and some stores have raised the prices of cured hams and bacon 2 cents a pound. Leg of lamb is 3 cents a pound higher than last week-end in many shops. Frying chickens are up 1 cent a pound. Fresh trout and white fish are higher.

Wholesale Meats Down.

Live stock and wholesale meat prices are beginning to come down at Union stock yards, according to federal reports. The better grades of beef steers and hefers dropped 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds during the week and wholesale cuts of beef went down an equal amount.

Live hogs sold for 25 to 50 cents a hundred less. Light loins of pork dropped $1 to $2 a hundredweight on the wholesale market. Other pork cuts went down 50 cents to $1 a hundred. Live lambs are $1.50 to $1.75 a hundred pounds lower than a week ago and dressed lamb carcasses are $1 a hundred lower.

COOKIE DOUGH MUST BE RIGHT FOR USE IN PRESS

Dough for use in a cookie press must be soft enough to go through the opening in the mold plate, and yet it must be firm enough to retain the decorative imprint of the mold when baked.

These recipes fulfil these requirements and result in cookies both artistic in shape and rich in flavor.

BUTTER COOKIES.

- ⅔ cup butter
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ⅛ teaspoon almond extract
- 3 cups pastry flour
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ⅛ teaspoon salt

Cream butter and sugar. Sift soda and salt with flour. Combine beaten eggs, almond extract, creamed butter and sugar and the sifted dry ingredients. Force through a pastry tube or cookie press into fancy shapes. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees F., about 10 minutes or until attractively browned. These cookies may be sprinkled with sugar before baking, if desired.

CHOCOLATE COOKIES.

- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg beaten
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 2 cups pastry flour, sifted
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted

Cream butter, add sugar gradually and beat well. Add beaten egg, vanilla, salt, and milk. Mix well and add half of the sifted flour. When well mixed, add the melted chocolate and then the remainder of the flour. Fill cookie press with the cookie mixture and shape on cold ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., about 15 minutes. Never grease the sheet on which this type of cookie is baked. The cookie sheet should be cold or the fat in the dough will melt and the cookies pull away from the sheet when the press is lifted.

TRY COLD PLATES AS HOT WEATHER TASTE TEMPTERS

Mary Meade Booklet Has Suggestions.

On the hottest of days this summer when you simply refuse [and rightly so] to stand in the kitchen turning out a stove-cooked dinner, tempting cold plates are the thing to present to your family.

If you're running out of ideas for hot weather menus, and need some brand new suggestions, you'll be pleased with the collection of menu plans and accompanying recipes in Mary Meade's booklet, "Cold Plates to Tempt Summer Appetites." These meal plans are also appropriate for summer luncheons when the bridge club is meeting at your house.

To obtain "Cold Plates to Tempt Summer Appetites," send 5 cents in stamps to Mary Meade, or pick up a copy at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower, for 3 cents.

COURT UPHOLDS POLICE AND FIRE RETIREMENT LAW

216 Refused Injunction Against Ordinance.

Judge Grover C. Niemeyer yesterday dismissed a petition for an injunction which sought to restrain the city from enforcing an ordinance requiring policemen and firemen to retire at the age of 63.

The injunction was sought by 216 policemen and firemen affected by the new ordinance. They were represented by Attorney Samuel A. Ettelson, who contended the ordinance was invalid in that it gave the council unwaranted powers over civil service employés.

Finds Basis for Ordinance.

Judge Niemeyer held with Assistant Corporation Counsel Frederick V. McGuire that the ordinance was valid. The court ruled that the ordinance, passed Feb. 25, was pursuant to a legislative amendment to section 12 of the civil service act, authorizing the council to fix the retirement age.

Attorney Ettelson announced he would file an immediate appeal to the Illinois Supreme court. The same objections he raised are also cited in a mandamus suit, pending before Judge John F. McGoorty, in which the policemen seek restoration of their jobs.

Previous Ordinance Upset.

The first compulsory retirement ordinance for policemen and firemen became effective on Jan. 1, 1936. It was upheld in the lower courts but overruled last February by the Supreme court on the ground that it delegated unwaranted power to the police and fire commissioner.

Subsequently a new ordinance was prepared by Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes, designed to correct the objections raised in the high court's decision.

GOVERNOR ASKS U. S. HELP IN BOSTON TIEUP

Boston, Mass., July 16 [Friday].—(AP)—Charles F. Hurley early today appealed to President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau for coast guard vessels to provide transportation to the summer resort islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard, cut off from the mainland by a strike of steamship employés.

The governor's action followed a fruitless ten hour conference at the statehouse between officials of the New Haven railroad, operators of the New Bedford, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket Line, and of the International Seamen's union, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

The coast guard, a unit of the treasury department, has been transporting mail during the three day strike, but Hurley asked that in addition its vessels provide "for public transportation and the transportation of food, medicine, and other essentials vital to the existence of these people."

BANDIT'S DRINK MUDDLER A POOR SHOOTING IRON

A wooden muddler, used by bartenders in mixing cocktails, helped a bandit get $23 from the cashier of the Alexandria hotel cafeteria, 542 Rush street, last evening, but he was captured a few minutes later when his bluff that the muddler was a pistol failed to impress two men at the door of the hotel.

The bandit confessed that half an hour earlier he had robbed Mrs. Evelyn Lochlin, cashier of the coffee shop in the Great Northern hotel, 237 South Dearborn street, taking $85. In that holdup he also used the muddler.

At the Chicago avenue police station the prisoner identified himself as Joseph Armend, 24 years old, 1536 North avenue. He was seized by Frank Williams, a Yellow Cab company starter, at the door of the Alexandria, and Herman Stern, a guest at the hotel, who held him until police arrived.

Charlotte E. Carr.

Miss Charlotte E. Carr, executive director of the New York City emergency relief bureau, has been chosen head resident of Hull house. New York dispatches reporting her appointment were confirmed here yesterday by members of the Hull house board of trustees. She will take over the post held for many years by the late Jane Addams on Oct. 1. She succeeds Mrs. Kenneth Rich, who resigned last spring. Miss Carr, who graduated from Vassar college in 1915, has had wide experience in social welfare work. She served as one of the directors of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's commission on unemployment relief and was head of the Pennsylvania department of labor under former Gov. Gifford Pinchot. Miss Carr became director of the New York relief organization in 1935, during one of its stormiest periods. During the last few months her administration was both criticized and commended.

Melville S. Flinn Will Leaves Estate to Widow

The will of Melville Stone Flinn, a Chicago fuel engineer, disposing of an estate estimated at $150,000, was filed yesterday with John R. Bullock, clerk of the Lake county Probate court at Waukegan. Mr. Flinn's widow, Mrs. Grace LaCor Flinn, 808 South Sheridan road, Highland Park, is named as sole beneficiary. Mr. Flinn, who was secretary-treasurer of the Flinn and Dreffein company, 308 West Washington street, died on June 16 at the age of 56 while on a visit to Bermuda.

Mrs. Ellen Edwards, 80, Dies; Funeral Tomorrow

Mrs. Ellen Edwards, 80 years old, who was brought to Chicago from England at the age of 18 months, died yesterday in her home at 4516 Dover street. She was the widow of Samuel Edwards. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Frank R. Morton and Mrs. Earl S. Miller. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow from the home. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Hold Marshall Shannon Funeral Services Today

Funeral services for Marshall G. Shannon, 71 years old, who died Wednesday at his home, 3421 North Keating avenue, will be held this afternoon at the chapel at 5708 Madison street. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery. Mr. Shannon was a school engineer for 26 years and retired 6 years ago. Surviving are his widow, Clara Wright Shannon, and a son, Marshall.

News of Radio

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

After summer is gone and radio's Monday evening crush on Shakespeare is only a memory, that evening is destined to become bank night! The group of American Banks currently sponsoring Ferde Grofe's modern symphonics on CBS, has engaged the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra for a full hour on the NBC Blue network from 8 to 9 Monday evenings, starting Oct. 4. The banking group last year aired the Philadelphia orchestra for a half hour on Friday evenings over CBS. The change to an hour program on NBC is being made so that the great symphonic works, which could not be handled in a half hour period, may be presented.

The Friday evening hour was somewhat late, and many listeners objected because that was the night they took the youngsters to the movies or went to hear their local symphony or a recital. Leopold Stokowski and Eugene Ormandy will both appear as conductors on the new series. Both vocal and instrumental guest soloists will be featured. Willard Kiplinger, business analyst, and one other commentator, yet to be selected, will be heard regularly.

Scheduling of the Philadelphia orchestra on Monday evening means that the new NBC Symphony orchestra with Arturo Toscanini directing will not be heard on this evening. One report is that Thursday evening may be the choice for these concerts, which are to run an hour and a half or longer.

New York Philharmonic symphony concerts again will be aired over CBS Sunday afternoons in the fall. The Chicago Symphony, which aired its Saturday night pop concerts over W-G-N-Mutual, has not yet announced any broadcasting plans.

Bernice Taylor, W-G-N soprano, had a communication yesterday from her brother, a naval aviator, saying that he was piloting a plane off Howland Island in the search for Amelia Earhart. Miss Taylor is to sing with Carlton Kelsey's CBS band in the Grant park concert Thursday, July 29.

If you heard Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt fumbling for words Wednesday evening in her final broadcast of the present series, it was because page 9 in her script was missing. It was, she confessed later, one of the few times in her life that she ever became tongue-tied. A studio attendant rushed her a duplicate, but she had bridged the gap and gone on to page 10.

If your favorite local baseball announcer is off the air by 5:30 p. m. Saturday you may want to tune in WENR and hear Benny Rubin describe Hollywood's leading men's antics on the baseball diamond. Among the players in the movieland game will be Clark Gable, Nelson Eddy, Don Ameche, John Boles, Tyrone Power, George Raft, Tony Martin, Richard Arlen, and Lee Tracy.

Listeners can air their pet peeves through WAAF's new Friday afternoon program titled "There Ought to Be a Law." Fans may send in their gripes.

PARADE TO SHOW ARMY'S ADVANCE IN ERA OF SPEED

A parade of ancient and modern army vehicles, showing the evolution of military transport from the Conestoga wagons of 1760, when Gen. Edward Braddock fought the French and Indians, to the latest type of motors now in use will be one of the most interesting features of the military show and pageant to be staged by the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, in Soldiers' field on the evenings of Aug. 14 and 15. Many of the ancient vehicles were loaned to the 108th quartermaster regiment, in charge of this event on the show program, by the United States Army museum at Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

CHISHOLM FACES ALIMONY ARREST AS TRIAL NEARS

Judge Donald S. McKinlay issued an attachment yesterday for the arrest of Jack D. Chisholm when Attorney Irving Eiserman said Chisholm owed $160 to his ex-wife, Pearl, for support of their daughter, Audrey, 7 years old. Chisholm goes on trial Tuesday in the Criminal court on a charge of embezzling $3,200 from his cashier's cage in the county treasurer's office. He disappeared last fall and was arrested on May 12. Eiserman said Chisholm is now in Florida on bail, and that the only chance of getting the back alimony is to arrest him when he comes here for trial.

Divorce to Be Approved for Henry H. Rogers Jr.

Miami, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—Special Master James A. Dunn said today he would recommend a divorce decree be granted Henry Huddleston Rogers Jr. of New York, son of the late Standard Oil executive.

SUE TO REMOVE PICK JR. FROM $800,000 TRUST

A suit filed yesterday in the Circuit court asked removal of Albert Pick Jr., 568 Cherry street, Winnetka, as trustee for an $800,000 trust created for the creditors of his father, former head of a hotel and restaurant supplies manufacturing company bearing his name.

The suit, filed in behalf of the brokerage firm of Stein, Brennan & Co., 9 South La Salle street, which has a $40,000 claim against Pick Sr., charges that the younger Pick favored claims of his father's relatives and friends and was dominated by his father in the management of the trust. Mrs. Gertrude Pick, wife of Albert Sr., and Mrs. Albert Pick Jr. are named defendants with the father and son and other creditors.

Attorney Richard F. A. Griffin said he would appear today before Judge Michael Feinberg to ask for an accounting of the trust and appointment of a receiver.

SHOT TO DEATH TRYING TO SEIZE TAVERN BANDIT

Walter Gliwa, 45 years old, 1321 Huron street, was shot and killed early today by a bandit whom he tried to capture outside the tavern at 1322 Huron street.

Gliwa was sitting at the bar chatting with Frank Kula, the owner, when the robber entered. He menaced both men with a nickel plated revolver and ordered them to put up their hands. Kula obeyed, but Gliwa leaped at the gunman.

The two ran outside, where the robber whirled quickly and fired four shots at arm's length at Gliwa. One shot struck Gliwa in the throat, killing him almost instantly. The bandit escaped. Kula described him as about 20 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds, and with light hair. He wore dark shoes and trousers and a white polo shirt.

Nine More School Pools Will Be Opened Monday

Popularity of the ten high school swimming pools opened for the summer months at the suggestion of Mayor Kelly caused James B. McCahey, president of the board of education, yesterday to authorize the opening of nine more pools. Beginning Monday, boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18 may swim at Wright Junior college and at the following high schools: Sullivan, Roosevelt, Foreman, Kelvyn Park, Manley, Harper, Wells, and Morgan Park.

OBITUARY.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 15.—(AP)—The story of a district attorney's raid to "rescue" a Pasadena millionaire's son from a blonde came out today in connection with a $510,000 damage suit filed by Mrs. Pearl Antibus, Hollywood dectective.

Mrs. Antibus sued Thomas W. Warner Sr., retired founder of the Stewart-Warner automobile parts firm and former General Motors director, charging he caused an illegal raid on her home. District Attorney Buron Fitts said today the raid was made because Warner complained that his son, Thomas Jr., 22 years old, was being held "against his will as a love captive" in Mrs. Antibus' home.

The father reported his son had become enamoured of blonde young Mrs. Jean McDonald, then obtaining a divorce, said Fitts. He added that Mrs. Antibus punched Investigator Tom Cavett on the nose and that young Warner bit Investigator B. G. Haworth's finger as he was being dragged from the house.

Kindler Wins Audience at Ravinia Debut

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Concert-goers of the Chicago district assembled in Ravinia park last night to take advantage of their first opportunity to see Hans Kindler conduct. This once famous cellist, now director of the National Symphony orchestra of Washington, D. C., presided at the first concert of the Ravinia festival's third week.

He is a rugged, competent looking man, who led the Chicago Symphony orchestra through a program consisting almost entirely of familiar items [quite a change in policy from the first weeks of the festival] and who made a favorable impression by his general air of sincerity.

He is not a show conductor. His movements are neither studied nor graceful and seem directed to legitimate musical ends rather than to the task of convincing an audience that he has a great personality.

Not that Mr. Kindler is averse to some of the more harmless and endearing tricks of the trade. Witness his rapt mien as he walked off stage after the performance of the "Jupiter" symphony.

The keynote of his performance is simplicity. The overture to "Der Freischutz" profits by this directness and sturdiness, but the "Jupiter" symphony disappointed those of us who demand an extreme meticulousness and tonal delicacy in any performance of Mozart.

However, Mr. Kindler has historical probability on his side, for the overexquisite mode of Mozart playing may have been considered neither technically possible nor esthetically desirable until several decades after the composer's death.

"Spring Pastoral," perfectly pleasant little piece which utilizes the orchestra's pastel shades to the exclusion of all others, received its first Chicago performance. It is the work of Mary Howe of Washington, D. C.

Some one in authority frayed a lot of tempers last night by giving orders that no one was to be admitted to the pavilion after the signal for the conductor to come on stage. The fraying process took place when a large accumulation of patrons was kept standing unnecessarily at the back for more minutes than it would have taken to get them seated. There was no sign of any conductor during these minutes.

The rule is undoubtedly good, but a slip somewhere marred its workings.

Mr. Kindler continues in charge tonight, tomorrow night, and Sunday afternoon. Tomorrow comes the gala farewell appearance of Mischa Mischakoff, recently retired concertmaster of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. He will play the Tschaikowsky violin concerto.

An electric organ was installed in the Grant park band shell yesterday. This will enable the Chicago Park district and the Chicago Federation of Musicians, joint sponsors of the free lake front series, to engage a series of noted organists to present half-hour programs before the regular concerts begin. The first of these programs will be given next week, probably on Wednesday night.

IMPROVISE FANS

By INDIA MOFFETT.

The large programs furnished by the Ravinia Festival association served very nicely as fans last night, for although there was a stiff breeze blowing it was not a cool one, and every one who had gone to Ravinia park for the first of the concerts conducted by Hans Kindler was glad to have a little added breeze, man made.

All in the audience enjoyed the smell of citronella, too, for it meant that the mosquitoes, which otherwise might have been a menace, were only a trifling annoyance.

Some of those who enjoyed the concert were Mrs. Henry Eckstein, whose guests included the Walter R. Kirks; Mrs. Batholomay Osborne, who was escorted by Carl Stibolt; Mrs. John W. Gary, Mrs. William A. Yager, Mrs. Louis E. Yager, Mrs. William G. Hibbard, Miss Joan Smith and her fiancé, Corwith Hamill; the George Voevodskys, Mrs. George D. McLaughlin, Mrs. Harold C. Smith, and the Jason Whitneys, whose guests were the Italian consul, Dr. Mario Carosi, and Signora Carosi.

Others present were: Miss Elizabeth Roe, perturbed because she could not get tickets for some St. Louis friends for Saturday night's concert; Mrs. Ernst von Ammon, the Howell Murrays, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Davis and their handsome son, Bob; Mrs. Otho F. Ball, Mrs. Laird Bell, and Durand Smith.

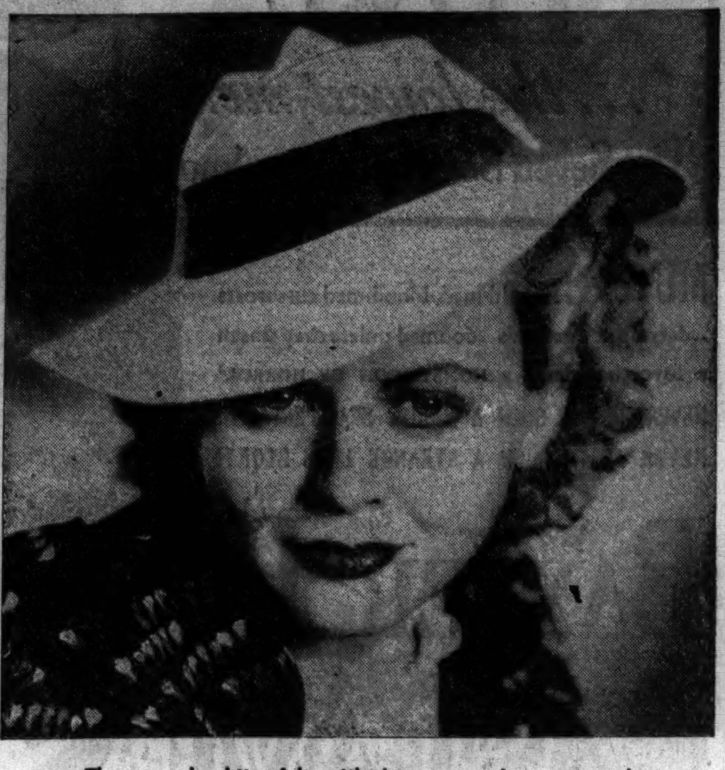
How Hats Build Facial Lines for Women

Whoever first said clothes make the man should have added that hats do the same for the faces of women. Barbara Pepper of the films displays hats from her wardrobe. And Barbara, the studio says, has a hat for every occasion.



The casual white felt with low creased crown and brown grosgrain ribbon band makes you think Barbara would be good help in marking your tickets at Arlington.

What an off-the-face hat does for its wearer is shown by this black peanut straw with a halo brim and peaked crown.

Actor MacLane Not Given to Love Scenes

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 15.—[Special.]—Barton MacLane, the he-man actor now playing with Glenda Farrell in the third of the Torchy Blane newspaper woman series, "Adventurous Blonde," is afraid of women. MacLane prefers to work in film stories with animals, or where rugged outdoor work is involved. Romantic interludes with glamorous ladies get him jittery.

Typed as a "heavy" in his early rôles, MacLane is becoming increasingly popular in his rôle of Detective Lieutenant Steve McBride, in love with Torchy Blane, but romantic efforts must suit the MacLane temperament.

Nothing lovey-dovey enters their screen romance, and while the "Adventurous Blonde" story at Warners is chiefly concerned with his marrying Torchy, the ramifications of a mysterious murder enter the plot, keeping McBride busy solving the crime and Torchy hustling to report the news. Thus their romance becomes secondary and their lovemaking infinitesimal.

MacLane's ideas on parts he likes to play are varied. He considers his part of Steve McBride as a sort of a cinch. The story value and entertainment is there, but he prefers the rôle of Cliff Ballenger he played in "The Bengal Tiger." Then there is his rôle as the cutthroat in "The Prince and the Pauper," which won him the blue ribbon award as the best performance of the month.

"I liked getting into the cage with that bunch of 'cats in 'Bengal Tiger,'" MacLane explained. "Working them myself was a great thrill and a sensation I'll always remember."

Another part which appealed to the MacLane action with acting requirements was as the heavy in "God's Country and the Woman," where chopping down big trees entered into his scheme of acting. To him this "work" was a pleasure.

Love scenes he really did like were in "Wine, Woman and the Horses." The whinny of the horse was romantic to the big fellow. He didn't mind letting it nuzzle him affectionately. "I guess I was born with a bachelor disposition when it comes to acting," he said.

Ann Sothern has demanded a month's layoff from her employers at Radio-RKO studio. Ann finishes in "Don't Forget to Remember," with Burgess Meredith, Aug. 1, and wants to join her husband, Roger Pryor, the bandsman, when he gets to Los Angeles about that time on his one night stand concert tour of the country. Then Ann will help Pryor work his way back to New York.

Radio studio offered her a new seven year contract, with a pay raise, if she would tear up her current contract which has four years to run, but the pert little singing leading lady said that she didn't think she would want to be working after four more years; that she preferred to settle down and be "Mrs. Roger Pryor." She and Pryor have bought a new home in Beverly Hills.

Owners of the old Charlie Ray studios have appealed to county authorities to reduce the tax assessment of $39,815 against that time-honored but now weather-worn old wooden studio near Sunset boulevard. The contention is that only small fry independents rent the old Ray studio these days and the rental figure has been steadily dwindling.

Dorothy Arzner, woman director who is handling Joan Crawford's "The Bride Wore Red," told Joan to go down to the beach three or four days and get herself a hearty sun tan, although the studio contracts under which stars like Joan are working now forbid the movie beauties to go in for dark tans. Joan's tan is needed for scenes in her rôle.

Sophie Tucker has bought a home which she says "has a simple exterior, homey interior, but a wonderful gawdy swimming pool." Miss Tucker has taken to giving swimming parties.

Prop men at Metro studio today solved the mystery of the vanishing bicycles. The prop department laid in a fleet of bikes a couple of weeks ago so that the prop boys could make better time between sets when some article was needed. Every day a different wheel seemed to be missing. The puzzle was solved when one of the boys saw Freddie Bartholomew leisurely pedaling his way to the studio summer school, and took the bicycle away from the young actor.

Study Posture of Others and Learn Things

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1937: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Today again, girls and women, it's your carriage we're out to study and lend whatever aid we can in turning you out that ultrasmart individual you certainly want to be.

We've told you already how vital to your chic and charm is this element of fine posture. We've asked you to devote one single day to studying other women as they approach or retreat from your sight, to jot down mentally what you see and apply what lessons you can to your own greater posture improvement.

Here's one point we forgot to mention the other day for the older woman to observe in her day's study of passing figures. There's a whale of a lesson in it for the woman over 30, too. Look at chins. Notice how doubled or thickened chins belong with the sagging figure. No, don't you believe they're all fat. Nine times out of ten that flabby roll under the chin isn't fat, nor is it years. It's simply overstreched neck muscles that have sagged out of place because the head is not held up.

Let us repeat. You can make that collapsing carriage of yours into anything you want to make it. You can make it a thing of acclaimed charm and beauty. But you've got to work for it and, in the initial stages, you have to police your figure constantly, ordering it to keep its chin up, keep its abdomen flat, keep the toes going straight ahead, and so on. But you can do it, and in doing it you can knock off five, ten years as easily as anything you've ever done.

A cleancut outline and accurate body control comprise the needs of the rundown carriage. Posture to many is a caricature of a West Pointer at attention, not the real West Pointer's fine control. You don't want the shoulders forced back, the chest expanded, nor a stiff-kneed gait. You merely want to get yourself lined up for graceful action, or you might call it the perfect lineup.

Line yourself up before a full length mirror and make a survey of yourself and see if the toes are pointed straight ahead. For sure footed grace those toes must point straight ahead. Yet your weight fall neither on heels nor balls of the feet, but right through the center of your ankle bones. If you're standing correctly you can raise either toes or heels slightly without shifting position. Tomorrow we'll continue with the posture and dress smartening topic.

How to balance lip lines, fatten thin checks, tint eyelids, and shadow undesirable contours of the face, are among the many beauty hints in "Makeup Magic," a booklet by Antoinette Donnelly, Tribune beauty editor. On sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. Postpaid, 7 cents.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

PARIS. — [Special.] — One of our nicest experiences in Paris was attending Mme. Agnes' showing — the first millinery showing of the season. Only in Paris could you have witnessed such a scene. The salon was splendid, the audience tense. Fashion scouts and a few favored clients sit about the rooms in well dressed rows, hushed and humble as unbelievably beautiful mannequins wearing the Agnes creations walk past them. An orchestra is hidden somewhere. Its soft notes are the only sound in all the high white rooms.

Mme. Agnes herself has deep blue hair. And the color of her hair is the color relief in her white salons. Flowers are white and blue and pansy-purple. The satin seats of the white chairs are the same subtle blue shade. On the walls of the private room where the press sits there are just two paintings—both portraits of Agnes wearing gowns that echo the color of her hair. It's her favorite color—the shade used for her hat boxes and for the maid's uniforms. Every once in a while, as the parade of mannequins files by, you catch a hat with a scarf or a feather in the same bluish-purple tinge.

Agnes is attractive in the French fashion—her hair beautifully dressed, her frock a polka dotted purplish blue silk that dramatizes it. She's short, sturdy looking, and radiantly charming in a rather forceful way.

The hats are enough to make you want to engineer a bank robbery. One is nothing more than the tail-tip of a silver fox fur on a pliable band. Take it off and wear it as a collar if you like. She likes feathers, used either crisply or with flattering droopiness. And for evening she has some of the most delectable concoctions imaginable — little fluffs of feathers and flowers that make a demure and devastating tiara.

Agnes is a firm believer, apparently, in the fluttery feminine touch for the dressy occasion. Her sports things are severe as military caps, but for the hours of the day devoted to social life she thinks women should go completely feminine in their clothes and hats—even unto trailing scarfs and filmy feathers

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Urges Greater Care in Admitting Students to Normal Colleges

Urbana, Ill., July 15.—[Special.]—Two Wisconsin educators tonight advocated startling changes in educational policies at the conference on improvement of instruction being held at the University of Illinois.

Dr. Frank E. Baker, president of the State Teachers' college at Milwaukee, advocated greater care in admitting students to training for the teaching profession. Prof. Stephen M. Corey of the University of Wisconsin advocated study and guidance to keep young men and women whose failure in academic work can be predicted from wasting their time by attempting to go through college.

The paramount obligation of the teacher educating institution is to furnish society good teachers rather than to give the individual an opportunity to secure an education," declared Dr. Baker. "The need for better teachers is a paramount need of public education today. American public chools have been a great success from an administrative standpoint. Measured in terms of turning out a cultured and socially intelligent product, they have certainly not been an unmitigated success."

Horace Tenney Volume Printed for His Friends

BY JUDITH CASS.

A THOUGHTFUL and interesting present has been given to friends of the late Horace Kent Tenney by his widow and children, who have had privately printed a volume of selected writings by that well known, well liked lawyer.

The handsomely bound gray green books arrived in the mail this week, titled simply, "Horace Kent Tenney, Selected Writings." Inclosed is a card reading, "This book is sent to you by Mrs. Horace Kent Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. F. Goddard Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Favill Tenney, Dr. and Mrs. Horace Kent Tenney Jr.

A modest foreword tells in a few words the history of the book: "Scattered among Horace Tenney's purely professional papers have been found many of general interest. For this book there have been selected a few writings which seem to reflect and preserve the unique personality and charm which it is believed made lasting impression upon his friends.

"Born: Portage, Wis., Sept. 11, 1859.
"Died: Winnetka, Ill., Oct. 29, 1932."

Appeared in Many Noted Court Cases.

Mr. Tenney practiced law in Chicago from 1881 until his death, becoming in that time president of the Chicago and the Illinois Bar associations, and senior partner in his firm of Tenney, Harding, Sherman & Rogers. He was buried in Madison, where he received his law degree from the University of Wisconsin many years ago, and where Dr. and Mrs. Tenney now are living.

During his time he handled many of Chicago's most famous law cases, and his writings, some of them addresses he made before the bar association, are filled with wit, humor, and sympathy. Some of the titles to the chapters that make up the 202 page volume are "The Law of Piscary," "A Litigated Romance," "English as a Dead Language," "The Boyhood of Wisconsin," and "A Case of Lex Talionis."

The Cheney home in Winnetka stands next door to the Tenney one in Pine street. Henry Tenney and his wife also live in Winnetka.

Report on Junior League Conference.

Another book has been received this week in Chicago, one of a different nature, however, and of a much wider circulation. It is the miniature magazine giving the complete report of the Chicago conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. The conference was held in May.

Made up to look like its big sister, the Junior League magazine, issued all the year 'round save for two summer months, the little booklet is attractive and is illustrated with a number of pictures taken at the conferences.

Among the Chicagoans and Evanstonians whose faces appear in the conference magazine are Mrs. Charles H. G. Kimball, president of the Chicago league; Mrs. Carol W. Alton, Mrs. Alfred N. Taylor, Mrs. Howard Linn, and Miss Marjorie Kimball.

Declarations No Indication of Man's Love

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"What do you think of a young man who has been taking me out for seven months and has only once or twice told me that he cared for me? Does he think it isn't necessary to keep reminding me of his love, or am I supposed to take it for granted? Or, perhaps he really doesn't care for me at all! He comes up four times a week, yet he hardly ever is sweet and affectionate. What is wrong with him, anyway?"

It doesn't fall to the lot of every one to have an affectionate nature, but that doesn't mean the young man doesn't care for you. Just give it a little thought. Do you suppose he would continue to spend so much of his time with you unless he were very fond of you and unless he found you unusually attractive? He could divide his time with others, but this he hasn't done. What he fails to tell you in words, he expresses in his attentiveness and, after all, what better proof could one ask for? Often those who keep on telling you how wonderful you are fail to back up their speeches with actions. They expect their words of flattery to suffice.

He must think a great deal of you to spend four evenings a week with you, planning amusements and doing things to give you pleasure. Isn't that a more sincere form of flattery? It's surprising how tired of pretty speeches one can grow when nothing is done to back them up. You'll make no mistake taking his actions as proof of his fondness for you. He has told you he cares and he feels you should believe him, without his repeating. Sweet phrases apparently do not flow easily or freely from his lips. This may be a disappointment to a romantic young lady, who thinks of these "sweet nothings" as an important part of her romance, but sweet as they may be to your ears, there are other things more important, things that will bring real happiness into your life.

When you find a chap who is attentive, kind and thoughtful, do not hesitate to accept him as is. He is a good bet, matrimonially speaking, for he is more dependable than the glib-tongued flatterer who expects his flattery to cover up a multitude of shortcomings.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

His Affections Elsewhere.

"Dear Miss Blake: The boy I love goes steady with another girl and yet I know he cares for me. What should I do? MOONLIGHT MYSTIC."

Certainly if he is going steadily with some one else, it would be just a waste of time to try and win his affection.

Questions Probably Rhetorical.

"Dear Miss Blake: He told me he cared for me, but always is telling how nice my girl friend is. Should I step out of the picture? B. WIN."

His telling you about the other girl probably is his way of finding out how much you care.

Follow Old Custom in Rebuilding Home of Gen. Lew Wallace

The home is being dismantled and rebuilt for Mr. and Mrs. John C. Snyder.

The ceremony consisted of the laying of the ridge beam and the raising of the ridge beam tree. The custom is a ceremonial gesture symbolic of the future protection and stability the new dwelling will provide for those who occupy it.

The home, occupied many years by the author of "Ben-Hur," was built in 1868. The sills were of oak, six by eight inches, while the joists were also oak, ten by two inches, and the corner posts were four by four poplar pieces. Many black walnut boards, well preserved, are being utilized.

Boston, who were married on June 18. On July 29 the Wendells will attend the wedding of their other son, Barrett Wendell III., and Miss Margaret Mitchell.

Mrs. Wendell Sr. has been busy settling the charming apartment in Dearborn parkway that her son's bride selected when she was visiting here last spring, so that the apartment would be ready for occupancy as soon as the bride and bridegroom arrive in Chicago. The senior Mrs. Wendell will sail for Europe the last of the month.

Margaret Wentworth to Be Bride Aug. 5.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wesley Wentworth of Berkeley, Cal., to the wedding of their daughter, Margaret Hill Wentworth, to Malcolm Stuart Millard, son of Mrs. Everett Lee Millard of Highland Park, at noon on Aug. 5, in the gardens of the Wentworth home.

Dr. Robert Leavens will read the ceremony and a breakfast will follow. Mrs. Millard is going west for the wedding with her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Millard, and Everett L. Millard Jr., who will be best man for his brother. Miss Millard will be among Miss Wentworth's bridesmaids.

The only other Chicagoan in the wedding party will be Francis S. North, who will go to Berkeley from his mountain climbing trip in Canada.

Tell Betrothal of Mary Mavor.

More interesting romantic news this morning comes from Mr. and Mrs. Morton Mavor of Highland Park, who are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Richard H. Hedberg, son of Henry E. Hedberg of Glencoe.

The wedding will take place Sept. 3, probably at the Mavor home. Mrs. Robert Mitchell, who was Miss Dania Mavor until just a few months ago, will come from her new home in Milwaukee to be her sister's matron of honor. Miss Lucy Jane Hedberg, sister of the bridegroom, will be the maid of honor, and Gilbert Younglove will be best man.

Miss Mavor attended the Roycemore school and Ferry Hall. Mr. Hedberg attended the Hill school and is engaged in business in Chicago. He and his bride will live in Glencoe.

Mrs. Frank William Harvey Jr. of 1035 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette, announces the approaching marriage on Aug. 2 of her daughter, Wilma Frances, to Guenther Brandes. The ceremony will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. McJunkin, 151 Sheridan road, Winnetka.

Daughter Born to Mrs. Daniel C. Rich.

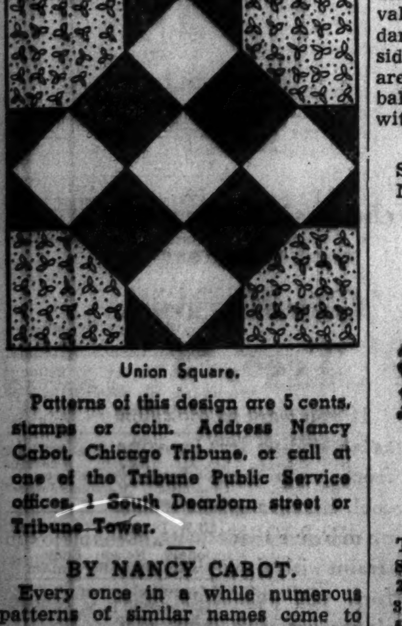
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Catton Rich are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday night at the Chicago Memorial hospital. The baby will be named Penelope.

The junior Thomas C. Dennehys and their children are leaving tonight for Charlevoix, where Mrs. Dennehy and the youngsters will spend the rest of the summer. Mrs. Dennehy's mother and stepfather, Mr. Bernard F. Rogers, are in Charlevoix now. In September they will move into their new Lake Forest home.

Mrs. E. Cummings Parker, the former Caryl Bloomingston, was taken Wednesday to St. Luke's hospital for an appendectomy. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Bloomingston and young Mr. Parker have just returned from a month's honeymoon trip.

John E. Hughes and his oldest son, John W. Hughes, are leaving today for Alaska to be away three weeks or a month. While they are away Mrs. Hughes may take the three other boys, Manfield, Marshall, and Milton, on a fishing trip to northern Wisconsin. All of the boys will return to Groton in the fall. John will be completing his last year at the school.

Quilt Created on "Square" Theme Is Popular Now



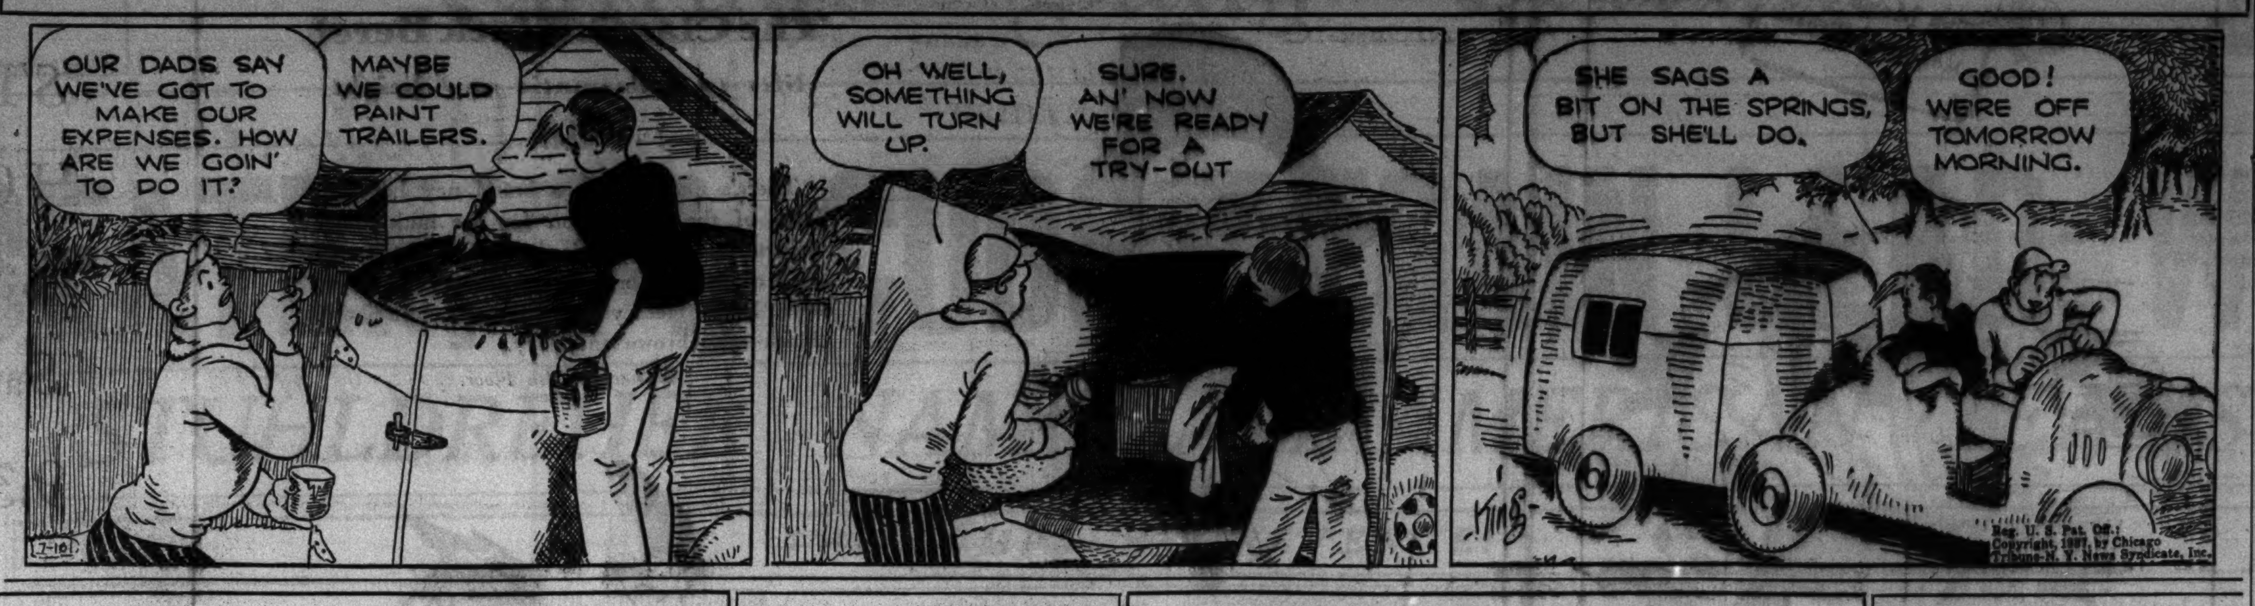
Union Square.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Every once in a while numerous patterns of similar names come to light at the same time. If it isn't new or old "rose" patterns, it is "puzzles," "stars," or "tulips." Lately there have been numerous "square" designs which are either new or recently uncovered. "Union Square" was not named for our Chicago Union Square, but for the main street of a town no longer on the map of Wisconsin, yet the block is similar to an early colonial pattern which was popular in 1830. The block is an easy one to piece, and is set together to form an all-over design. The finished coverlet, measuring 90 by 108 inches, is bound with a narrow bias binding for the border.

GASOLINE ALLEY—READY TO RIDE AND SPREAD THE CHARM



OUR DADS SAY WE'VE GOT TO MAKE OUR EXPENSES. HOW ARE WE GOIN' TO DO IT?
MAYBE WE COULD PAINT TRAILERS.
OH WELL, SOMETHING WILL TURN UP.
SURE. AN' NOW WE'RE READY FOR A TRY-OUT
SHE SAGS A BIT ON THE SPRINGS, BUT SHE'LL DO.
GOOD! WE'RE OFF TOMORROW MORNING.

An Outdoor Summer

Lois, the Samuel Greeleys' subdeb daughter, was swimming at the Indian Hill club when the cameraman took this picture, but now she is camping in Vermont. In August she will go with her mother and sister Dixie to Camp Wipigaki in northern Wisconsin, where the Greeleys have been summering for fifteen years.

THE QUESTION OF TOTAL WINNERS.

[Copyright: 1937: By Ely Culbertson.]

A good six bid must contain at least eleven certain winners, and the necessary twelfth winner must be establishable in some suit, usually depending upon a finesse. From what source do all these winners come?

Hands that will make slams with nothing but honor combinations and the trump suit are relatively rare. They occur only with freaks, pure cross-ruffs, or unusually solid hands. As a rule, a successful slam must be fed with one or more length tricks in side suits.

Some distributions are dangerous for slam bids because they promise little, if any, of the necessary length values. Slam bids should, therefore, be tightened up with the balanced type of distribution and loosened up with the unbalanced type. With a 4-3-3-3, between one and one and a half extra honor tricks will be required; with a 5-3-3-2 about one extra honor trick or slightly less; and a 5-4-2-2 should be reinforced with about half an honor trick. Not everything is rosy with the 5-4-3-1, 6-4-2-1, 5-5-2-1, or 4-4-4-1. These escape the danger of insufficient distributional values only to run up against the danger of bad breaks in trumps and side suits. Distributional accidents are far more common with the unbalanced type of hand pattern than with the balanced.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	4 spades	Pass
6 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding is decidedly not recommended. South's first bid should be three no trump, which should end the bidding. In the Culbertson system an opening three no trump bid is precisely descriptive of a hand divided 4-3-3-3 and containing seven to eight honor tricks.

West was up against it for an opening lead and, with nothing to guide him, chose the heart deuce. Winning with the heart jack, declarer laid down the spade ace. Then, before continuing trumps, cashed the ace and king of hearts. The spade queen was the next lead, and poor West found himself "in again." This time he made a really bad guess, leading a low diamond. Declarer captured East's jack with the queen, drew the one outstanding trump, and laid down the ace and ten of diamonds. West, on winning with the king, found himself right back where he had started, and at this point there was no escape possible. A heart lead would afford declarer a ruff in one hand and a discard of a club in the other, whereas the club return actually made went directly up to declarer's A-K-J tenace. In all, West took tricks with only two of his four honors and, thus, the weird contract was fulfilled.

If West had shifted to a low club after being forced on lead with the spade king, the result would have been quite different. This return also would have cost a trick since it would have gone up to declarer's tenace. But the diamond lead cost two tricks, since it resulted in another throw-in play.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Dealer opened the bidding with one heart. Second hand [my partner] doubled. Next hand passed. What is my correct response with the following:

♠QJ76 ♥84 ♦K97 ♣A875?

Answer: Two spades. The hand contains two honor tricks, even though you have a minimum biddable suit.

JO-JOTTE POINTER.

When you are the declarer at a nullos contract you seldom will be in the enviable position of being able to lose every trick. Most of the time you will fear the loss of one trick. If that be the case, look the facts squarely in the face. Postponing the bad news is fatal when playing a nullo contract. If you must win a trick, win it and throw your opponent back into the lead before he can strip the hand. If you delay your opponent may take a few high cards, force you to win your trick anyhow, and then let you win the rest of the tricks. A typical situation occurs when you have a holding such as 10-7 in a suit. If your opponent leads that suit, win with the ten at once and exit with the seven.

'Must' Word to Abolish in Guiding Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

From natives of Java, Hawaii, South America, Nassau come letters to us asking for advice or reading matter on the guidance of children. A young Chinese woman, a reader of this column, writes that she is studying here and going back to China to form parent study groups, although one feels that the Chinese, with their ancient wisdom, may already be very wise in this direction.

One writer, an Apache Indian, commented on the "yes article" appearing in this column, advising parents to adopt an affirmative attitude wherever possible with children, avoiding the spontaneous "no" with which we get into the habit of greeting so many harmless or reasonable requests of our children. He enclosed a small periodical written, one would judge from the style of English, by an Indian.

Too many of us Americans know nothing or little of the family life or religion of the Indians. I once spent a long summer studying Indian folklore and I came to a slight knowledge of their ways and their ethics. You may be interested in the following extracts from the article marked, which was headed: The Apache Knows No Must:

"An Apache father never says to his boy what in English would be, 'You must do that.' He says Adjineh, 'so one does.'

"The Apache mother does not say to her child, 'You must not say that.' She says, Do ba na go djilni' da, 'one does not talk about it.'

"The Apache, not at all a poor language, has no word for 'must,' nor for 'shall' in the sense of being a command. Why not? In its language a people reveals its way of thinking; and the ancestors of our Apaches were not accustomed to think of any outward force as to make any of them do something, or keep them from doing something. But polite speech was practiced also in family life.

"For 'You should do it,' he says Aganhnehgoh nzhov, 'you do it. It is good.' The thought connected with it is clear: A free person is supposed to do that which he sees it is good to do."

It is an interesting kernel of thought. Haven't you ever noticed how differently a child does anything that he wants to do [or wills himself to do], from the way he does a thing he is forced to do?

Censors Help Sleepy Movie Get a Crowd

"FORBIDDEN ADVENTURE."
Directed by George M. Merrick.
Narrated by Wilfred Lucas.
Presented at the Garrick Theater.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

KIND: Long drawn out adventure film, largely produced in Hollywood and concerned with a trip of two explorers in Cambodia, French Indo-China. They sought and found the lost city of Angkor after various experiences I feel you will think none too believable and pretty much staged, and discover a tribe of monkey worshipers who consider it an honor to deliver their women into the possession of apes.

PHOTOGRAPHY: Faulty.

DIRECTION: Ambling.

SCENERY: Some sort of jungle stuff you've seen over and over again.

AUDIENCE APPEAL: The Garrick theater was crowded—mostly with men—yesterday afternoon. I suspect the "Adults Only" tag the censors have hung on the picture may have been a lure. Personally I saw little reason for it.

NARRATION: Monotonous. Mr. Lucas opens the picture by explaining to the Los Angeles Adventure club that the "two explorers" who had set out to make it died before getting their data together and that, necessarily, it had been completed in Hollywood. As you watch the movie unreel you will draw your own conclusions as to how much is the real McCoy.

See you tomorrow.

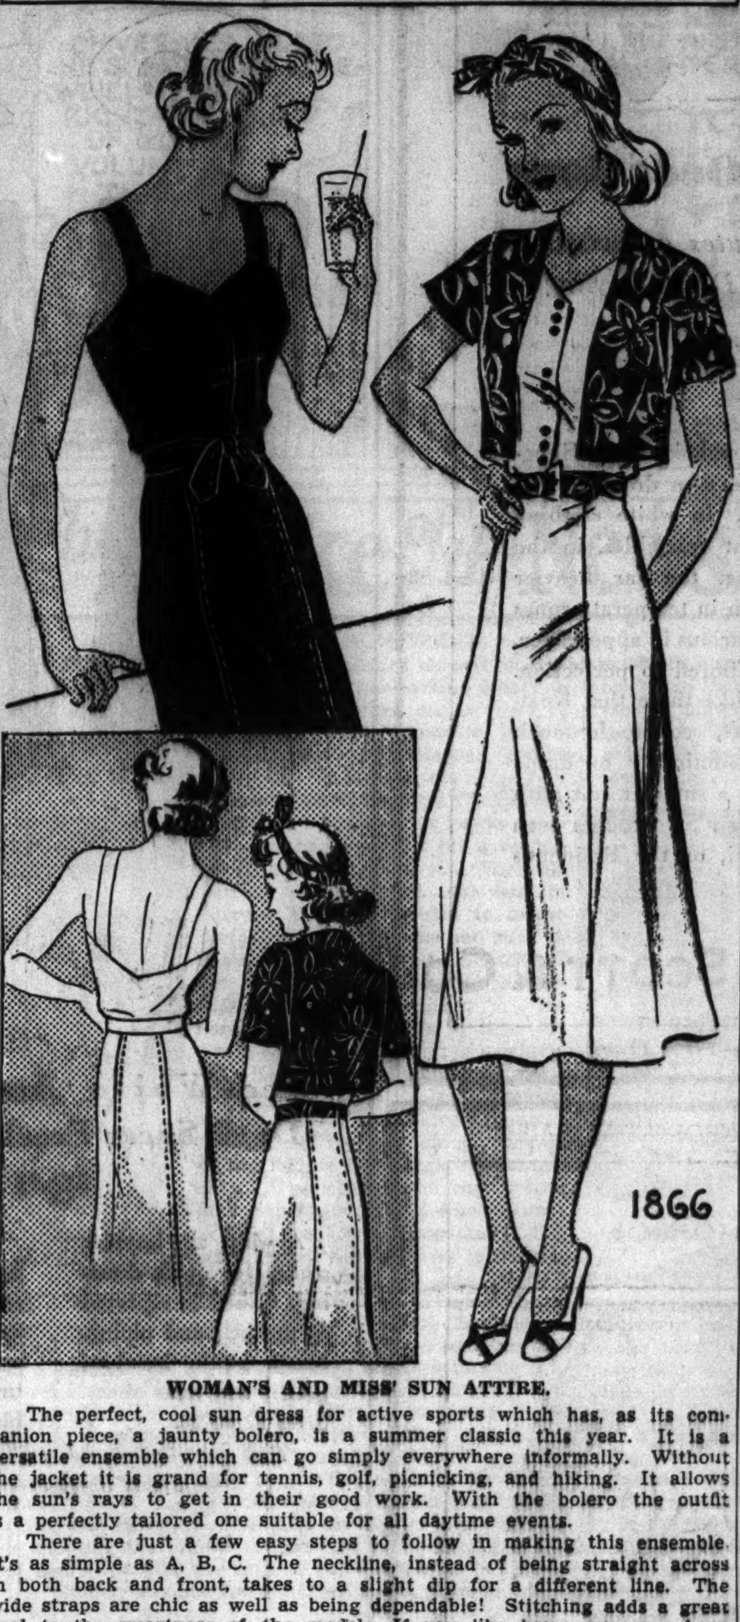
Classic Summer Ensemble



WOMAN'S AND MISS' SUN ATTIRE.

The perfect, cool sun dress for active sports which has, as its companion piece, a jaunty bolero, is a summer classic this year. It is a versatile ensemble which can go simply everywhere informally. Without the jacket it is grand for tennis, golf, picnicking, and hiking. It allows the sun's rays to get in their good work. With the bolero the outfit is a perfectly tailored one suitable for all daytime events.

There are just a few easy steps to follow in making this ensemble. It's as simple as A, B, C. The neckline, instead of being straight across in both back and front, takes to a slight dip for a different line. The wide straps are chic as well as being dependable! Stitching adds a great deal to the smartness of the model. If you like bows you may have one on the belt, or a trimly tailored sash will do. The bolero has sleeves, but no collar. It falls loosely and youthfully just to the waistline.

Piqué is an excellent fabric selection for this model, but other summer fabrics which are sturdy, hold a press and launder easily will make up well, too. There is any number of fabric and color combinations which you may create for this ensemble. Figure out one you like, using dark and light shades in combination, or plain and prints.

Style No. 1866 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 30, 32, 34, 36, and 38 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 2¾ yards of 39 inch material for the dress and ¾ yard of 39 inch material for the jacket.

Germany "Nazifies" Art; Goering Adds a Title: "Protector"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 15.—Col. Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering today added one more to his long list of titles, "protector" of the Prussian Academy of Art. His first step for the "rejuvenation of German art" was to order Bernhard Rust, minister of culture, to harmonize the academy with Nazi principles.

Old members, described as belonging to an "obsolete art era," are being replaced. Of forty-one new members, the best known are Wilhelm Furtwaengler, music conductor, and Prof. Albert Speer, 32 years old, who was given the task of "rebuilding" Berlin as a worthy monument to the 1933 Nazi revolution. Art circles suggested the decision to reorganize the academy was due to its failure to grant membership to Prof. Speer.

Rust also has appointed Dr. Karl Bosch, chairman of the German dye trust, as president of the Kaiser Wilhelm Society for the Advancement of Science, Germany's foremost scientific institution.

Sally's Guests Have Gay Time at Film Comedy

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

One hundred boys and girls were unaware of the blistering heat of yesterday—in fact, the temperature made our children's party an especially fine treat.

United Artists' theater was comfortable and refreshingly cool and I don't think any film ever delighted children more than "A Day at the Races." It's a perfect picture for youngsters and the Marx brothers are crazier than ever in it.

The children loved Groucho as Dr. Hackenbush, the horse doctor who took over the sanitarium owned by Maureen Sullivan. Chico's piano playing made my guests giggle delightedly, especially when he'd make his fingers march stiffly up and down the keys. During the steeplechase every one was excited until we were sure that Stuffy and Hi-Hat would win. One little girl remarked that Harpo had curls "just like Shirley Temple's." I hope none of the youngsters try his method of making a harp out of a piano—although they all seemed to appreciate it thoroughly.

Considerably different was the colored travelog on the program, showing beautiful scenes from Rocky Mountain National park, but the boys and girls seemed to find it just as entrancing as the comedy.

Edward of Windsor Invites His Sister to Austria to Visit

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—The princess royal, countess of Harewood, and her husband, the earl of Harewood, have been invited to visit her brother, the duke of Windsor, former King Edward VIII. of Great Britain, it was reported today.

They were asked to Wasserleonburg castle, Austria, for a week's chamois shooting, probably in September. The duke is spending his honeymoon in the castle with the former Wallis Warfield, American born woman for whom he relinquished the British throne.

Ice Fund Helps a Sick Father, His 9 Children

BY DORIS LOCKERMAN.

The father of nine children called at the United Charities office yesterday for free ice tickets. "I've been several places asking," he said. "It is such a little thing, ice, yet we need it so badly. My youngest child is less than a year old, and I am ill, unable to work because of my heart. Can you help me?"

Yes, he was told, THE TRIBUNE'S readers would help him. And as he went away, with the ice tickets in his hand, he turned and smiled. "Tell those readers," he said, slowly, "that I thank them."

Yesterday's contributions to the free ice fund, which is operated through the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., were:

A. J. Franks	$ 10.00
J. J. James	3.00
Western Electric Co.	25.00
Myrtle Carlson	10.00
Mrs. Henry May	5.00
	53.00
Previously acknowledged	850.98
Grand total	$903.98

A gift of $1 will provide ice for a week to keep milk and fresh foods cool for a family that could not otherwise afford it.

Remember, too, that this is the season when tenement homes are hot and stifling. It is for the relief of mothers and children in these homes that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE asks the continued loyalty of its readers. A gift of $9 will send a child to Camp Algonquin for two weeks, where he can romp happily along the banks of the Fox river, and absorb the sun and fresh air which fortune has denied him at home.

The day's contributions to Camp Algonquin were:

J. D. Goss	$ 14.00
Previously acknowledged	1,178.37
Grand total	$1,192.37

Please send your gift to either or both funds to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Square, Chicago. Each donation will be gratefully acknowledged.

British Rulers End Wales Tour; Visit Castle of Princes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 15.—King George VI. of England and Queen Elizabeth returned tonight from a tour of South Wales, but without any of the resounding echoes that followed former King Edward VIII. when he returned from a similar tour last fall.

King George opened the national library of Wales today at Aberystwyth. Later the king and queen visited Carnarvon castle, being the first royal couple to go there since the investiture of former King Edward, now the duke of Windsor, as prince of Wales in July, 1911. Carnarvon is the traditional seat of the princes of Wales.

Throughout the Welsh tour the king kept a decorous silence on what was to be done for the people, but as the royal party left for London it was announced that loans from three corporations with aid from Lord Nuffield, motor manufacturer, were approved by the treasury to provide capital for setting up new businesses in the depressed areas to aid the unemployed.

UGLY FAT LOST 7 POUNDS A MONTH
-without suffering a hungry moment
Amazing way takes off excess weight without strict dieting..or taking drugs

TODAY, an amazing, new reducing method is sweeping the country. A method which offers at last, a way to take off ugly fat without suffering a hungry moment—and without taking strenuous exercises or drugs. A method which increases physical and mental energy as excess weight disappears.

Under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, a number of people who were gaining at the rate of 1⅔ pounds a month, followed this remarkable method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds per person in a single month. Consider that carefully.

This Is All You Do

This sensational reducing method simply calls for this: Mix ¾ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice, with ¼ of a glass of water, and drink before each meal—and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly, and this is what happens.

First, Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.

Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy. And, most important, helps nature to consume excess fat.

Third, the juice has an alkalizing effect on the system which any doctor will tell you is highly beneficial.

This is why weight is not only lost naturally and safely—often at the rate of 7 pounds a month, or more—but why you feel so much better and stronger as your ugly fat disappears.

Only One Thing to Watch

In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat—eat sensibly—and be sure to use Welch's pure, aged, unadulterated full-strength grape juice. Made from the finest grapes grown. No water added; no artificial coloring. Good Housekeeping approved. Insist upon the genuine Welch's Grape Juice for the results you want.

WATCH YOUR HUSBAND'S WEIGHT

Insurance Companies warn about the dangers of overweight. For they have definitely proved that overweight places too much of a load on the heart, is often associated with such diseases as diabetes and kidney trouble—and shortens the normal span of life. ZAZOVE BARRED BY JUDGES FROM COURT PRACTICE

Lashed for His Attacks on City Legal Staf.

Irving G. Zazove.

The executive committee of the Circuit court yesterday found Attorney Irving G. Zazove guilty of malconduct as a lawyer and suspended him from practicing before the court until Oct. 5 when the Illinois Supreme court reconvenes. It was indicated that disbarment proceedings may then be brought against Zazove before the higher court which has sole jurisdiction of such a question.

The opinion delivered by three members of the committee who sat en banc at his trial, was a severe indictment of Zazove's conduct during trial of a personal injury case against the city. His remarks during the city's request for a new trial, which was later granted, caused Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes to bring charges against Zazove.

Other Attorneys Accused.

Zazove accused the city's legal department of conspiring to defraud both city and plaintif in settling judgments against the city. His accusations also included several other practicing attorneys.

The case in point involved Zazove's client, Claude R. Wayland, 51 years old, 640 Wrightwood avenue, former manager of a merchandise chain, who won a $35,000 jury verdict on March 25 for injuries suffered in tripping over a faulty pavement. On grounds of new evidence that Wayland's injuries were less serious than he represented, Hodes won a new trial from the presiding judge, William J. Wimbiscus of Spring Valley, sitting here in Circuit court.

When the motion for a new trial was made Zazove told Judge Wimbiscus that he had been told the city would dismiss the motion if he agreed to sell the judgment at a 65 per cent discount. Zazove charged that a member of the corporation counsel's office was to get part of the money.

Contempt Citation Asked.

Hodes than asked that Zazove be cited for contempt of court. At a subsequent hearing Zazove issued another statement attacking Hodes, and the latter countered with an additional request for a contempt citation and suspension from practice. Judge Wimbiscus referred the matter to the court executive committee.

In their opinion yesterday the members of the executive committee, Judges Harry M. Fisher, John R. Caverly, and Joseph Burke, said:

"The respondent has made use of this court as a vehicle for unbridled and scandalous defamation of the characters and names of a score or more of lawyers for the purpose of gaining undue advantage in a pending matter. He charged them with felonious conduct which, if true, should not only drive from public office those who are now holding it, but should subject them to the penalties provided by law for serious crimes.

Conduct Called Malicious.

"This he did not recklessly but wantonly and maliciously. The respondent has disregarded his oath of office and has also knowingly, wilfully, and corruptly sworn falsely to the matters contained in his answer.

"We, of course, have no power to disbar the respondent. That power lies in the hands of the Supreme court of this state, but until that court shall reconvene, it is our judgment that the respondent should be suspended from practicing law as an attorney in the Circuit court."

In addition, the court committee declared that criticism of public officials, when it flows from good motives, has a great social value, but that when such charges are made without the slightest foundation of truth they fall in the field of malicious defamation. Zazove's accusations were termed the "deliberate fabrications of an evil and savage mind."

Calls Public Enemy No. 11 Her No. 1; Wins a Divorce

Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday granted a divorce on grounds of desertion to Mrs. Agnes Gilbert La Rue, 29 years old, 5905 Princeton avenue, from Edward La Rue, former Public Enemy No. 11. La Rue, once a member of the Klutas kidnap gang, is serving a term in Alcatraz prison for violation of the federal stolen automobile act. Mrs. La Rue called him her own private enemy No. 1.

WHAT A WRECK CONSTIPATION MAKES

Constipation can dull your whole life. Headaches, poor complexions—tired, lifeless days are often the results. Also, many serious diseases.

Get rid of common constipation now with a ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN brings you the two things your system needs to act naturally; "bulk" and vitamin B to help tone the intestines.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs more than twice its weight in water—forms a soft mass, and gently clears the intestines of wastes. It acts naturally.

Pills and drugs seldom cure constipation. You just keep on increasing the dose and switching from one laxative to another.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day, three times daily if needed. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in recipes. Sold by all grocers—made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LITTLE, STUHLDREHER NAME ALL-AMERICAN TEAMS

DANIELL LEADS ALL CANDIDATES IN FANS' POLL

Widseth Drops to 4th Place.

BY ARCH WARD.

Harry Stuhldreher.

Famous coaches in the east and middle west yesterday cast their ballots in the national poll which is being conducted by THE TRIBUNE and 150 associated newspapers to pick a team of College All-Americans for the game with the Green Bay Packers at Soldiers' field on Sept. 1.

Lou Little of Columbia university was the easterner and Harry Stuhldreher of Wisconsin was the mid westerner. At some of the positions their selections were identical. Little was elected to the All-Star coaching staf last year, but his services were curtailed by a hip ailment that bothered him throughout the season.

This is the way Little would line up the nation's college stars for the big game at Soldiers' field: Ends—Kelley, Yale, and Tinsley, Louisiana State; tackles—Widseth, Minnesota, and Daniell, Pittsburgh; guards—Starcevich, Washington, and Reid, Northwestern; center—Basrak, Duquesne; quarter back—Falaschi, Santa Clara; half backs—Baugh, Texas Christian, and Parker, Duke; full back—Jankowski, Wisconsin.

Stuhldreher picked the same ends and guards as Little. His lineup: Ends—Tinsley, Louisiana State, and Kelley, Yale; tackles—Widseth, Minnesota, and Golemgeske, Wisconsin; guards—Reid, Northwestern, and Starcevich, Washington; center—Svendsen, Minnesota; quarter back—Wilkinson, Minnesota; half backs—Buivid, Marquette, and Francis, Nebraska; full back—Jankowski, Wisconsin.

Returns from All Sections.

The standings today include returns from all parts of the country. Although the thermometer has been in the 90s since the poll opened, the voting has been as heavy as last year when a record was established.

Averill Daniell, Pittsburgh tackle, is leading all candidates this morning with a total of 17,336 votes. Edwin Widseth of Minnesota, who had been pulling vote for vote with Daniell in the first few days, has dropped to fourth place, behind Hamrich of Ohio State and Golemgeske of Wisconsin. The Badger lineman is developing considerable support from his home state.

Larry Danbom of Notre Dame has taken a slight lead over Sam Francis of Nebraska at full back and Ed Jankowski of Wisconsin is pressing both. There are indications that Jankowski will be in the running all the way, because votes for him are coming in by the thousands from Wisconsin cities. Milwaukee, where the returns will be heaviest, hasn't as yet reported.

How Lineup Now Shapes Up.

If the voting, which ends at midnight July 25, were to close today, the team that would face the Packers at the opening kickoff would be: Ends—Wendt, Ohio State, and Tinsley, Louisiana State. Tackles—Daniell, Pittsburgh, and Hamrich, Ohio State. Guards—Starcevich, Washington, and Glassford, Pittsburgh. Center—Basrak, Duquesne. Quarter back—Goddard, Washington State. Half backs—Cardwell, Nebraska, and Drake, Purdue. Full back—Danbom, Notre Dame.

If you like this array, send in your ballot marked accordingly to swell their leads. If you would make substitutions or prefer an entirely dif-

Pills of Many Colors Give Grimm Laugh Despite Pain

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Charley Grimm.

Boston, Mass., July 15.—Charley Grimm, manager of the Cubs, today turned over the team reins to Gabby Hartnett. Grimm removed himself from active charge temporarily following a severe attack this morning of the rheumatic trouble which has kept him in the semi-invalid class for several years.

Grimm doubled up with sciatic pain in his right leg this morning when attempting to put on a shoe, so he promptly crawled back into bed for heat pad treatments and the consumption of white, red and purple pills. If 36 hours of rest fails to bring relief, Grimm may return to his St. Louis country home and place himself under the care of Dr. Robert Hyland. A dozen other doctors thus far have failed to locate the seat of the trouble.

Grimm traces the origin of his complaint back to 1925, his first year with the Cubs, when he collided with Jack Scott, a pitcher, in a play at first base. He believes the collision ripped a back muscle. In 1934 the trouble forced him to abandon first basing.

Displays Sense of Humor

The scene in Grimm's hotel room tonight was amusing. The manager has a good sense of humor. He laughs about the electric cords hanging from the ceiling and leading under the covers of his bed. Every few minutes he points to the different colored pills and then consults the doctor's charts which say he should take a red one immediately, a white one fifteen minutes later, and a purple one after an equal lapse of time, etc.

At the bottom of the chart Grimm wrote, "If still alive in the morning of July 16, take whatever remains, regardless of color."

Every few minutes the phone rings. A news service operative or a local

LASSIE STAKES TRAINERS ALL CAN'T BE RIGHT

But They Talk Good Race; Tomorrow Will Tell.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Tales of the trainers of candidates for tomorrow's renewal of the $35,000 Lassie stakes were quite varied at Arlington yesterday.

For instance:

Bob McGarvey, who handles the extensive and formidable band of 2 year olds owned by Mrs. Ethel V. Mars of Chicago, was extremely happy and even more confident.

He had just watched his two Lassie eligibles, Well Rewarded and Manie O'Hara, engage in their final prep for the richest of all 2 year old filly stakes.

And Over a Muddy Track.

Over a muddy track they had breezed three-quarters of a mile in 1:17 3-5 after being at the quarter in :23 2-5 and the half in :49 4-5.

Both were under restraint all the way. Both have performed in grand style in lightning fast going. This training move showed Trainer McGarvey they will be at home on a muddy track should more rain come up between now and post time tomorrow afternoon.

Well Rewarded is the one Trainer McGarvey expects to see take down the rich prize. She delivered nobly for him in the Princess Pat stakes at Washington Park.

Now listen to the story of John Oliver Keene, noted Kentuckian and master of the famous Keeneland Farm.

He's here with the filly Fantine. This youngster thrilled a big crowd at Arlington Park earlier in the week when she scored a sensational victory.

Apple of His Eye.

She's the apple of Owner Keene's eye. Her blood lines are just what Owner Keene ordered.

He had intended to give the bay daughter of Whichone-Jeanne Bowdre her final prep. When he looked at the track he ordered her back into her stall.

"I'll be running a half fit filly in the Lassie," Keene said. "Still I think she can win," observed the master of Keeneland.

If the sun is shining this morning and the track isn't muddy Fantine will get that last workout that will put her on razor edge for the Lassie.

Some More Apples.

Mr. Keene owns two brood mares—Alice Blue Gown and Jeanne Bowdre—that he wouldn't trade for all the tea in China or all the money in the Bank of England.

Now he says he has three such animals. The newest one is Fantine. He will race her this year and next. Then she will retire to Keeneland. The master of the big place hopes to be around long enough to see her send a couple of sons and daughters to championships in the races.

James Healy, the trainer for Jock Whitney, came along next. He predicted with the greatest of confidence that the east will score its first important 2 year old victory of the year in the west in the Lassie.

And Another Version.

"Forget about Inhale's race in the Princess Pat stakes," said Trainer Healy. "She will run an entirely different race in the Lassie if she's the kind of a filly I think she is."

So there you have Trainer Healy's version of the Lassie.

Frank Kearns, who has Warren Wright's Theen keyed up for the race of her life in the Lassie, had no comment to make. So that caused many of the Arlington regulars to believe that Theen may run and carry the Wright silks to victory in the race.

The other trainers were too busy to stop and comment on the possibilities of the race.

A grand opera star never got the care or the attention the fillies who will run in this rich race have received during the last few weeks.

The Lassie is to be the one big mo-

DUCKY MEDWICK, who established himself as one of baseball's greats in this year's All-Star game, was seeking money to enter Notre Dame and continue a promising football career when he presented himself to Mike Ryba, now a Cardinal teammate, in Scottdale, Pa., in 1930, and asked for a job playing ball. . . . He had just been graduated from Carteret, N. J., High school. . . . He said his name was Mickey King . . . Ryba started him against Clarksburg, W. Browns Release Pitchers Al Thomas, Sherif Blake

St. Louis, Mo., July 15.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns today released Pitchers Al Thomas and Fred [Sherif] Blake and signed Bill Strickland, batting practice hurler, as a regular pitcher. Thomas, 36 years old, and Blake, 37, have been ineffective this year. Thomas came to the Browns from Baltimore in 1935 and was one of the club's leading pitchers last year. Blake was released by Baltimore at the close of last season and the Browns signed him as a free agent.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

George Caster and Earle Brucker, Philadelphia Athletics' battery, yesterday conspired against the White Sox in a 2 to 1 victory plot, thereby terminating the Philadelphians' losing streak, which had mounted to the plump total of 15.

Caster's contribution to the tailenders' victory was the pitching of a four hit game. Brucker's part was the socking of a triple on which he tied the score when Luke Appling tossed the ball into the boxes to permit him to go on home, and a single which sent Jess Hill home with the winning run after Hill had doubled with two out in the ninth.

It Wasn't Bill's Fault.

Bill Dietrich pitched a good game—perfect in the first three innings—but scarcely could expect to win with the kind of hitting and other support he received. Although Brucker's triple was a wicked shot, Earle never should have scored. There were two out and Peters was a soft touch after Appling's inspired throw had let Brucker proceed home. Dietrich did not walk a batsman.

The Sox scored their only run on their only threat of the afternoon. Mike Kreevich opened the fourth with a triple to the right field wall and scored on Dixie Walker's infield out. The other three Chicago hits were a single by Walker with two out in the first inning, a single with which Appling opened the second, and a single by Radcliff with one out in the sixth. Zeke Bonura and the last four men in the batting order did not get anything that bore the slightest resemblance to a base hit.

Third Hit Brings Run.

The first run of the game was a result of the third White Sox hit. Kreevich led off the fourth inning with a triple to right and scored while Ambler was throwing out Walker. Bonura flied to Finney and Appling struck out.

The Athletics tied it up in the fifth. Dean flied to Kreevich and Dykes threw out Hill. Brucker tripled to the center field wall. Although there was no play at third, Appling took the relay and was seized with a whimsical desire to cut loose. Luke did cut loose, throwing the ball into the boxes, enabling Brucker to walk home with the tying run. Peters popped to Appling.

After Hayes, Dykes, and Sewell had gone out in order in the home fifth, the A's stirred up some trouble in the sixth, but failed to count, thanks

TEX CARLETON INFLUENCE TOO MUCH FOR BEES

Ailing Grimm Puts Hartnett in Charge.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Gabby Hartnett.

Boston, Mass., July 15.—The Cubs, who were summarily dismissed from first place yesterday because of their inability to solve a 30 year old rookie, bounced back to the top of the National league this afternoon. They made the leap by inflicting a sound beating on the Bees, 5 to 1, while the contending Giants were idle because of rain. The first place margin is slim, a matter of four points, but on a won and lost basis the two teams are tied.

To get back to the top and at the same time furnish a tonic for their manager, Charley Grimm, who was absent because of a recurrence of his rheumatic misery, the Chicagoans had to step on what remains of the one time gallant Guy Bush. They bruised their former mate with base hits when hits were needed and the Bees simplified the invaders' job by perpetrating strange bits of fielding when the Cubs were in a hitting mood. Bush finally surrendered after seven innings of work and thereafter the victors were quieted by Ira Hutchinson, once of the White Sox.

Still Carleton's Cousins.

Tex Carleton did all of the Cubs' pitching and nothing happened to alter the belief that the Bees still stand out as his favorite enemy. He held them to eight hits, all singles. Except in the fifth when the Bees scored because the slat like Texan made the mistake of issuing a pass ahead of a single, only three men reached second base. He fanned five, Vince DiMaggio being included twice in this select company. In the last two innings he didn't yield a hit.

Chief tormentor of Bush was Frank Demaree. He assessed the veteran for two singles and a pass and produced the only single detected under Hutchinson's two inning term. The pass and one of the singles off Bush resulted in run production. Old Gabby Hartnett, manager during Grimm's term of invalidism, celebrated his authority with two singles, one of them driving in a run after the Bees had revealed a clown like strain in the third. Another who brought results was Bill Jurges, whose triple started the Cubs into the scoring column in the second inning.

Pass up Chance.

The Cubs were offered a bargain in the first inning, but refused to accept. After two men had flied out, Collins singled to left. Demaree was given a single on a ball that went through Mayo's hands. Herman bounced a slow single over Bush and Cuccinello bagged it back of second, thus holding Collins at third. Then Hartnett had a chance to make his managerial effort impressive, but he bounced out to Cuccinello.

The Bees hardly looked like a major league ensemble in the second when the Cubs scored once. Jurges lined a clean single to right, but

HERE'S A TIME SCHEDULE FOR SWIM SUNDAY

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Boys and girls registered in the final preliminary Chicagoland 100 yard swimming races must report at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon at Whealan pool, Milwaukee and Devon avenues. These preliminary races will start at 1:45. The 162 contestants who already have qualified for the championship races will report to the clerks at 1:30 for assignment to their races.

After the preliminaries, Jane Fauntz Manske, member of the 1932 United States Olympic swimming team, will give an exhibition of diving. Following her performance, the first of the championships will be held.

All postcards to preliminary swimmers and all letters to qualifiers have been mailed. If notification is not received either report the omission by mail immediately, or come to Whealan pool. You will be admitted there if your name is listed with the officials.

Course Is 50 Yards Long.

The Whealan pool course is fifty yards long. This requires one turn, of course, to complete each race.

The number of contestants who will qualify in each of the ten age classes for boys and girls in the trials Sunday depends on the number reporting for each class. More than 400 are registered for these preliminaries so that quite likely from 20 to 30 will be added to the 162 already qualified.

From last week's preliminaries at Whealan pool, California park, Cermak pool, and Sherman park, the number of qualifiers by classes was as follows:

Boys, Class A—18; Class B—20; Class C—20; Class D, 20; Class E—16.

Girls, Class A—16; Class B—16; Class C—14; Class D—14; Class E—8.

Prizes to Be Awarded.

The gold qualifying medals will be presented to each qualifier Sunday as he reports to the clerks. There are 30 prizes to be awarded in the championships. The ten champions in this eighth annual series of events will receive gold medals. Runners-up in each division will be awarded silver medals, while those finishing third will be awarded bronze medals.

The fight for the team championships promises to be the closest in the history of the meet.

Teams Competing.

The list of teams competing in the championships include the following:

Diver A. C., Jackson Natatorium, Hamilton club, Oak Park Y. M. C. A., Humboldt park, Beilfuss Natatorium, Jewish Peoples' Institute, Elgin Y. M. C. A., Los Angeles, Cal., A. C.; Lincoln-Belmont Y. M. CAVE TO MAKE HIS U. S. DEBUT IN COLISEUM SHOW

The first American appearance of Ted Cave, the Vancouver youngster, will be one of the highlights of the four day Midsummer Ice Carnival which opens at the Chicago Coliseum next Thursday evening. Cave left Vancouver yesterday, and is to arrive in Chicago Sunday.

Although his name is new to the American ice public because his professional appearances have been confined to Canada, other skaters term the 23 year old Cave one of the most accomplished of the ice comedians.

Maribel Vinson has been doing more rehersing for this revue than for any other in which she has appeared, making frequent trips to Lake Placid, N. Y., where ice is available. She will present a number never before attempted—an ice interpretation of Franz Liszt's "Liebestraum."

Summer Shoot Canceled by Lincoln Gun Club

The mid summer trapshooting tournament scheduled for the Lincoln Park Gun club July 24 and 25 has been canceled, Gerard R. Batten, club manager, announced yesterday. The move was made so as not to conflict with the Michigan state championships at Detroit.

Misses Veatch, Mackemer in Western Final

Muriel Veatch, slender 16 year old blonde golfer, yesterday demonstrated that her presence in the 18th annual women's western junior golf tournament at Hinsdale was not occasioned merely by the desire for the long ride from her home town of Longview, Wash. She proved it conclusively by defeating Edith Estabrooks, Dubuque star, who was defending the title, 1 up, in 19 holes, in a semi-final match yesterday.

Today Muriel, first far western entrant ever to reach the western junior finals, will meet Betty Mackemer of Peoria, Ill. The husky Betty had a time of it herself in reaching the title battle, which will be decided over 18 holes this morning. The Peoria girl scored a 1 up triumph over Margaret Barry of St. Paul.

Jinx Still Working.

Miss Estabrooks was halted by the jinx which decrees that no girl shall win the western junior in consecutive years. The little Iowa girl rallied to square the match after being three down with only four holes to go. Miss Barry also made a game finish, after Miss Mackemer had gone four up on her through the thirteenth, but it proved futile.

Miss Veatch, out in 41, two over par, led one up at the end of the first nine. Miss Estabrooks was pulling her shots on nearly every hole, finding six traps on the way to the turn. The Washington girl then three putted to lose the 10th and square the match, but the champion yielded the 12th to a bogey and the next two holes to pars. Muriel was trapped at the 15th, got a half in birdies with a 15 footer at the 16th, and then missed four foot tries on the 17th and 18th greens to even it up again. Another trap at the extra hole ended the champion's hopes.

Builds Early Lead.

Miss Mackemer held a three up advantage at the ninth. A par at the short 13th sent the Illinois girl four up, but she surrendered three of the next four holes to leave herself only one up going down the last fairway. Both were trapped here, but Betty earned the half that won her the match.

In the first flight final this morning, Dorothy Schildmiller of Cincinnati will meet Janet Gilmore of Detroit. Dorothy advanced with a one up decision over Martha Betty Putnam of Oregon, Ill., while Janet defeated Jeanette Cooper of Decatur, Ill., 4 and 3.

Olympia Fields Golf Team Wins; Leads District

The Olympia Fields' golfing team began to celebrate the club's 22d birthday and reunion yesterday by taking the lead in the South District Golf league standings with a 21½ to 5½ victory over Midlothian at Idlewild. In other matches the home club, led by Dave Olin, won a 14 to 13 decision over Lincolnshire; South Shore defeated Ravisloe, 15 to 12, and Flossmoor scored over Calumet, 18 to 9.

Olympia Fields' victory, coming on the eve of a week-end of activity at the south side club, placed it at the top of the league with a total of 82 points. Others standings: Ravisloe, 73½; South Shore, 73½; Midlothian, 71; Lincolnshire, 64; Calumet, 61; Idlewild, 60, and Flossmoor, 55½.

Olin led the individual shooters with a card of 74, two over par. Russell Martin of Flossmoor shot a 77, as did Russ Eddy of Lincolnshire.

Art Doring of Westward Ho and Harvey Sheppard, Elmhurst, each shot a 75 to win low scoring honors in yesterday's play in the West District Golf league. These scores were instrumental in giving their clubs victories, Elmhurst defeating Oak Park, 16½ to 10½, and Westward Ho beating Glen Oak, 15 to 12. Other scores:

Medinah, 21; Brookwood, 6.
Hinsdale, 17; Riverside, 15.

Despite its defeat Glen Oak retained the league leadership with a point total of 97. Standings:

Glen Oak	97	Oak Park	68½
Hinsdale	74½	Elmhurst	67½
Medinah	74½	Riverside	46
Westward Ho	73	Brookwood	39

TIGER JACK FOX STOPS LEO KELLY IN SIXTH ROUND

New York, July 15.—[Special.]—Tiger Jack Fox, Spokane light heavyweight, advanced a step nearer a match with John Henry Lewis for the latter's 175 pound championship of the world by stopping Leo [Deacon] Kelly of Los Angeles at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Fox punished his rival so severely that Referee Johnny Marto halted the battle, scheduled for 15 rounds, after 1 minute and 16 seconds of the sixth round.

163 Is Low in Southpaw Golf Tourney

W. J. Meinhardt of Elmhurst, one time first baseman with the old Milwaukee association team, led home the field yesterday at Calumet in the annual left handers' golf tournament of the Chicago district with a 36 hole gross card of 81-82—163.

Sam Alpert of La Salle, Ill., one time western junior title holder and a former member of the University of Illinois team, was even with Meinhardt at the end of the morning round, but took three shots more in the afternoon for an 81—85—166.

Other low gross shooters in the field included W. B. McMenemy of Cherry Hill, 169; Lee Hesterman, unattached, 173, and W. F. Mallaby of Tam o' Shanter, 174.

Stanley Garrity of Kansas City, president of the National Left Handers' Golf association, was among the competitors. He was in town to inspect the Olympia Fields course, which will be the scene of the national southpaws' tournament next month, bringing to Chicago such able players as Howard Creel of Pueblo, Colo., and Ben Richter, the St. Louis pro who has made himself a factor in the last two national P. G. A. tournaments. Leading scores:

HOLMSTROM AND M'DOWELL PLAY IN JUNIOR FINAL

Donohue, Franco Lose in Western Golf Play.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Bert McDowell of Kansas City, who will enter his sophomore year at Louisiana State university this fall, today will meet Johnny Holstrom of Rockford in the 36 hole championship match of the 24th annual Western junior golf tournament at Cherry Hill.

Masters McDowell and Holmstrom had a busy day winning their way to the title battle, to which each is new. McDowell began by taking a 2 and 1 fight from Phil Donohue of Sioux City, the Notre Dame freshman who had disposed of favorite Tom Sheehan and Medalist Earl Wilde. In the afternoon semi-final, the boy who hopes to follow in the footsteps of Freddie Haas and Paul Leslie at L. S. U. won a 4 and 3 argument with Art Andrews Jr., son of the Peoria professional.

Johnny Has Hard Time.

Holmstrom had even a more strenucus session, being forced to 37 holes of toil for his pair of victories. In the quarter-finals he struggled for 19 holes before doing in Irving Cochrane, Notre Dame sophomore from Crystal Lake.

The afternoon saw the Rockford youth, whose major achievement to date was the runnerup rôle in last year's Illinois amateur, put out Joe Franco of Skokie playfield, who was second in last year's Western, 1 up.

Andrews Beats Krakauer.

Andrews entered the semi-final with a 1 up decision over Ken Krakauer, University of Missouri junior from Kansas City, while Franco was extended to 19 holes to eliminate the small man of the show, 95 pound Dave Kober of Ludington, Mich.

The cards for the semi-finals:

Par, out	544	443	534—36
Par, in	444	344	345—35—71
McDowell, out	555	543	554—41
Andrews, out	545	643	644—41
McDowell, in		443	334
Andrews, in		654	344
McDowell wins, 4 and 3.
Holmstrom, out	654	543	644—41
Franco, out	445	654	534—40
Holmstrom wins, 1 up.

McDowell and Andrews were even at the turn with mutual medals of 41. A tree cost Andrews the tenth, he was in the rough at the 11th, and McDowell holed a 12 footer for a winning bird at the 12th. The Kansas City lad then sank one from 25 feet at the 14th for the hole that eventually gave him his margin.

Franco Gets Birdie.

Franco shot a birdie on the first and took the second when Holmstrom found a trap. A par won the third for Johnny and the match was even after the fourth, where Franco was trapped and then putted with a ball which could have been ruled unplayable as he had cut it almost in two escaping from the sand. The 1936 runnerup lost the 5th and 6th to par, but regained the next two when Holmstrom three putted both.

The Rockford golfer was short going to the tenth, but Franco missed the 13th green. Johnny was a foot from the 14th flag for a birdie but three putted the next green. Holmstrom won the 17th with a par and they halved the 18th in par fives.

QUARTER-FINALS.

Art Andrews Jr., Peoria, defeated Ken Krakauer, Kansas City, 1 up.

Kay Evans and Mrs. Simmons in County Golf Final

Kay Evans of Winnetka, defeated Mrs. Bachman Reed of Jackson park, the medalist, 5 and 4, yesterday to enter the finals of the women's Cook county open golf tournament at Jackson park.

Miss Evans' opponent in the 36 hole final, which will be split today and tomorrow, will be Mrs. Mildred Simmons of Jackson park. Mrs. Simmons defeated Bessie Miller of Big Oaks, 7 and 6, after sinking putts that ranged from 20 to 35 feet, one of them being a deuce at the eighth hole.

The first 18 holes in the championship final will be played this morning and the second and final eighteen tomorrow afternoon.

Winners in the first flight were Mrs. Noble F. Carne, Lincoln, and Georgia Light, Evergreen. Mrs. Carne defeated Mrs. Frank Meyer of Lincoln, 2 and 1. Miss Light defeated Mrs. N. D. McCue of Lincolnshire, 5 and 3. This final will be at eighteen holes today.

COALS PLAY ELKHART.

The Elkhart [Ind.] Fords, with a record of twelve victories and only three losses, will play the undefeated Spencer Coals in a double-header at the Coals' park, 4200 North Central avenue, Sunday. The first game will start at 1:30 p. m.

FLY-WHEEL ACTION GIVES NEW GOLF BALL REMARKABLE CONTROLLABILITY

New Hol-Hi K-28 Only Ball to Offer Roto-Action

● Never in the history of golf has a ball recorded such an amazing series of consistent wins as has the new Hol-Hi K-28. Following its sensational preview in 1936 it has clinched its claim to uncanny accuracy in the scoring zone* by capturing the most important tournaments of 1937. Chief among them are:

Metropolitan Open, May 16th, won by Jimmy Hines playing the new Hol-Hi K-28 and Wilson clubs.

P. G. A. Championship, won for the second time by Denny Shute; Jug McSpaden runner-up. Both played the new Hol-Hi K-28 and Wilson clubs.

Women's Western Open, won by Helen Hicks playing the Hol-Hi K-28 and Wilson clubs.

1937 British Open and Amateur Championships, both won by players using Wilson golf equipment.

HOW NEW HOL-HI K-28 SAVES STROKES

The reason is weight placement away from center that causes fly-wheel action. This gives Hol-Hi K-28 greater over-spin for truer rolling putts, and makes it possible to put on greater backspin for green-holding pitch shots—greater distance from the tee and on fairway shots, too. Spin the new Hol-Hi K-28 Demonstrator at your professional's or at the Wilson dealer's to prove its ability to lower your score.

*Scoring zone—that vital area extending 125 yards out from the pin. It's the place where birdies are made and championships won.

New York Wins Its Tenth Straight Game.

Detroit, Mich., July 15.—[Special.]—The New York Yankees stretched their winning streak to ten consecutive games by trouncing the Tigers again today, 13 to 6.

Yankee sluggers pounded Lynwood Rowe, Roxie Lawson, Jack Russell and George Gill for 14 hits, including home runs by Tony Lazzeri and Tom Henrich.

At the same time Lefty Gomez and Johnny Murphy, who divided the Yankee pitching assignment, held the Tigers to five hits, among them home runs by Hank Greenberg, his 20th of the season, and Rudy York.

FELSCH AT END OF TRAIL; FIRED BY SANDLOTTERS

Milwaukee, Wis., July 15.—(AP)—Oscar [Happy] Felsch, once an American league batting star, lost his job today with a Milwaukee sandlot team.

Felsch, who operates a tavern here, has been playing with sandlot clubs for several years. He played the outfield and first base for the Verifines and earlier in the season batted .470. Recently his batting fell off.

Fox Lake Cards Class C Regatta for Aug. 8

As a tune-up for the Inland lake regatta late in August, the second annual Fox Chain of Lake Yacht club regatta, invitational to class C sailboats, will be held Aug. 8 on Fox lake. The meet will be part of the 10 day lotus festival.

Moore was so slow in bending over that the ball skipped past him for a triple. Jurges scored on Cavaretta's single to left. Carleton bunted in front of the plate and Lopez foolishly threw to second. Cavarretta beat the throw easily. Then Cavarretta took a big lead off second and was nipped, Lopez to Warstler to Mayo. Galan stole second after forcing Carleton and the inning closed with Hack flying to DiMaggio.

More Help From Bees.

The Bees continued their comical inclinations in the third and assisted the Cubs materially in the scoring of a pair of runs. Demaree walked with one out. Herman's tap to Cuccinello went for a hit because first base was left uncovered. Demaree thought the ball had gone past the infield and sprinted for third. He would have been out by yards if Cuccinello hadn't thrown high over Mayo's head. Demaree counted on the error and Herman went to third. Hartnett's single to center sent Herman across the plate. Jurges also singled, but Bush retired Cavaretta and Carleton on fly balls.

Carleton's progress against his cousin team was so smooth during the first two innings that only one hit popped into the open spaces. In the third he met up with a slight disturbance. Jurges made a wild throw to first on Lopez, who led off. Bush fanned and Garms singled to right. Nothing developed because Warstler flied to Galan and DiMaggio was expunged on strikes. Carleton hung up his fourth strike out on Cuccinello to start the fourth. Moore followed with a single for the third hit off Carleton, but the next two men caused no trouble.

Bush Hits a Single.

Bush, who always has prided himself on his hitting, managed to get a slice of the scoring of a run off Carleton in the fifth. Lopez walked and Bush singled past Jurges. Garms tapped to Carleton, whose throw to Jurges forced Bush at second. Warstler nudged a fairly healthy fly to Cavarretta, and Lopez scored after the catch. Then Di Maggio singled to center, but the little fuss was cleared up when Hack dashed over to the grandstand and snatched a pop foul off Cuccinello's bat.

The two runs picked up by the Cubs in the sixth were started by Carleton's slow motion single toward third with one out. Galan whacked a line single into right, Carleton going to third. Warstler booted Moore's throw in, so Galan rode down to second on the error. Hack's bat swinging resulted only in a poke to Bush. A pass to Collins loaded the bases. Demaree did the rest. He singled to left, Carleton and Galan galloping home. Herman forced Demaree for the third out.

After the fifth Carleton was troubled only in a limited way. A hit by Mayo in the sixth made possible a double play. Johnson singled for Bush with one out in the seventh and with two out Warstler singled. Carleton fanned DiMaggio. In the eighth nobody reached base and the only delay in the ninth was occasioned by a pass to English, who batted for Hutchinson.

DODGERS START REBUILDING; SIGN 4 NEW LINE MEN

New York, July 15.—[Special.]—The first step in the reconstruction of the Brooklyn Dodgers football team was taken today by George [Potsy] Clark when he signed four newcomers, all linemen, for the 1937 campaign. The four men, all from Howard college, Birmingham, Ala., are Henry Burgette, tackle; Tracey Burger, guard; Pat Harrison, tackle, and Norman Cooper, center.

Two southwestern conference linemen were added to the roster of the New York Football Giants, according to announcement from President John V. Mara. The men are Owen [Ox] Parry, 244-pound tackle from Baylor, and Bill Walls, 205-pound end of Texas Christian.

to the alertness of Old Man Dykes. With one down, Caster beat out an infield hit and stopped at third on Finney's double to right. Moses bounced a tough one between the pitcher's mound and third. Dykes got the ball and threw to Sewell in time to get Caster, Finney reaching third. Werber flied to Kreevich.

Brucker Wrecks the Game.

Werber had lined to Dykes and Dean had flied to Kreevich before Hill drove a double to center in the ninth. Brucker's triple and single in successive times at bat did not tempt the Sox to walk him, so he singled to center, scoring Hill with the winning run. Brucker took second on Kreevich's throw in. Then Peters struck out.

In the home ninth Peters threw out Kreevich and Walker flied to Hill. Bonura and Appling walked and the game ended when Appling was forced on Hayes' tap to Peters.

Sugar Cain has been invited to pile another victory on his total of two for the White Sox, come this afternoon's final with the Athletics. Bud Thomas will pitch for the opposition.

Connie Mack, president and manager of the A's, who had been in Philadelphia because of the death of John Shibe, former president of the organization, rejoined his team yesterday.

The Boston Red Sox, who displeased the White Sox very much by beating them four straight the last time the teams met, come to town tomorrow for a four game series, including a double-header Sunday.

The box seat sale for the Yankee double-header on July 25 is said to indicate one of the largest crowds that ever saw a ball game in Chicago.

Pills of Many Colors Make Grimm Laugh

baseball expert wants to know the condition of the patient. Grimm replies that everything is fine, which might mean his own condition or the probabilities of the Cubs winning the pennant.

Between phone calls Traveling Secretary Bob Lewis, who has volunteered as a nurse, rushes up to the bedside and orders that it is time for another pill. Lewis doesn't worry about the color of them. Neither does Grimm. He takes them whether they are white, red, or purple because the doctor said they would act as a neutralizer for his system.

Compliments Gabby Hartnett

After the game today Grimm admitted he felt better although the leg pain persisted. Gabby Hartnett came in and Grimm told him he had done a neat job of managing during the afternoon. A newspaper photographer also arrived. After an argument, Grimm consented to one picture. The picture maker arranged his tools and then requested that Grimm close his eyes. With that Grimm kicked off the covers and yelled, "Get out of here! I'm not dead yet."

If Grimm, after resting tonight and tomorrow, decides to go home he may be on the invalid list for a month or five weeks. He was advised more than a month ago to have his back placed in a cast so that spinal movement couldn't cause irritation of the sciatic nerve. But he promised to do the best he could about accompanying the Cubs to New York tomorrow evening.

Bill Lee will be put in circulation for the third and final of the series with the Bees tomorrow. Lee has won 9 and lost 7. The Bees may come up with Lou Fette.

Rip Collins thought for a moment in the fourth inning that he had been wounded. He took a throw from Carleton and the runner, Mayo, stepped on Rip's left foot. The ex-Cardinal hopped around on his good leg for a minute and then decided he was physically sound.

GABBY HARTNETT PASSES P. WANER IN HITTING RACE

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Two changes occurred in baseball's batting Big Six yesterday, with Joe Di Maggio of the Yankees taking third place in the American league and Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs advancing to second place in the National over Paul Waner. Both Di Maggio and Hartnett hit two for four, Hartnett boosting his average to .391, over Waner's .388, and Di Maggio raising his mark 2 points, to .358, replacing Gerry Walker of the Tigers.

Argentines Rout American Soccer Team at Dallas, 9-1

Dallas, Tex., July 15.—(AP)—Almost nonchalantly Argentina's nimble soccer team—none of the players more than 20 years old—smothered the United States, 9-1, in the opening feature of the pan-American games here tonight. The Trenton, N. J., Highlanders represented the United States. Ten thousand fans, most of them seeing their first soccer game, saw tireless, crafty Angel Lafcirara, Argentina's center forward, fill the American net with five goals to lead the rout.

Star Field in Fair Grounds' Races Sunday

The list of pilots who will drive Sunday at the Fair Grounds in Carl Stockholm's third race meeting of the season includes most of the famous names now active in the sport.

With the exception of Wilbur Shaw, winner of the Indianapolis race, and Ralph Hepburn, who followed him across the finish line in that event, practically all the better known drivers will be on hand when Starter Cliff Woodbury gives them the flag. Fred Willis of the Chicago Motor club, zone supervisor for the contest board of the A. A. A., under whose sanction the meet will be staged, said yesterday no race meeting of the season has attracted such a field of drivers as will be seen here Sunday.

Snyder Races Mays.

Jimmy Snyder and Rex Mays will settle their own private driving feud in a special match race. Snyder rode the Indianapolis speedway for one lap at 130 miles per hour and qualified over the 10 lap distance at 126 m. p. h. Mays holds the world's half-mile dirt track speed record. Other entries and some of their recent accomplishments are:

Ted Horn, third at Indianapolis; Mauri Rose, 1936 A. A. A. champion; Billy Winn, 1934 A. A. A. champion; Frank Bailey, Eastern A. A. A. champion; Billy Devore, seventh at Indianapolis; George Connor, one mile dirt track speed champion; Louis Tomei, ninth in the recent Vanderbilt Cup race; Tommy Hinnershitz, Bob Sall, Bud Henderson, eastern drivers; Frank Brisko, Tony Willman, Frank Wearne, Ken Fowler, Lou Webb, Chet Gardner, and Johnny Sawyer, all veterans of the Indianapolis race.

University of Iowa fans are rallying behind Ozzie Simmons, colored half back. Returns from the Daily Iowan yesterday gave Simmons 2,361 votes. These do not show in today's poll. University of Illinois followers, chiefly in Champaign and Peoria, are going to work for Ken Nelson, Cliff Kuhn, Elwin Sayre, Wib Henry, and Tom Wilson. Leo Deutsch, St. Benedict end, is leading at his position in the Kansas City Star returns.

Reid of Northwestern, Wilkie of Notre Dame, Francis of Nebraska, and Phillips of De Paul are included in lineups being circulated at Chicago's beaches and playgrounds.

IF BASS IS YOUR DISH, YOU'LL FIND FUN AT WAUPACA

Little Lakes Offer Peak in Angler's Sport.

BY BOB BECKER.

Fishermen who like variety in their angling might find it worth while to investigate the chain of small lakes and streams near Waupaca, Wis. Trout fishing, bass fishing in lakes and rivers, float trips, pan fishing, and even northern pike and muskie fishing can be had in the Waupaca chain.

There are 23 spring fed lakes in the Waupaca group, all connected by natural channels. The largest of the lakes is only a little more than a mile long and about a half mile wide, but good catches of large mouth bass are taken from them consistently. Several muskies weighting between 20 and 30 pounds were caught in the chain in the last two seasons.

You Have a Wide Choice.

The trout streams within 10 miles of Waupaca include Radley's creek, Emmons creek, Dopp creek and Shoemaker creek. Radley's and Emmons have been producing the best catches of brook and rainbow trout. They are typical meandering streams running through picturesque farm meadows.

Fishermen who like to take leisurely float trips, with pleasant scenery along the way and a chance to pick up some scrappy bass, should consider the Crystal river. This stretch of water between Long lake and the village of Little Hope provides both of these attractions.

A Fine Way to Spend a Day.

The seven-mile trip can be made easily in five hours, but with time out for a long lunch and with careful fishing along the whole stretch it can be made almost a full day trip. Another possibility in that of portaging over the dam at Little Hope and floating all the way to the town of Waupaca. There are small mouth bass along this stretch.

The Waupaca river is also a good bet for small mouths.

An unusual type of angling found in the Waupaca chain is that of lake fishing for German brown trout. Specimens weighing from four to nine pounds are taken from Rainbow, Columbia and Long lakes, the three largest in the chain. This is not fly fishing, but deep still fishing.

U. S., German Cup Teams in Last Hard Drill

WIMBLEDON, England, July 15.—(AP)—The Davis cup forces of the United States and Germany, between rain showers today, had their final stiff workouts preparatory to the interzone final matches which start on Saturday.

With the draw scheduled for noon tomorrow [6 a. m. Chicago time], there still was no definite indication whether Bryan M. Grant or Frank Parker would be given the second singles berth on the United States team. Don Budge has the first by a topheavy margin. Walter L. Pate, nonplaying United States captain, merely continued to shake his head and look mysterious.

Grant Plays Budge.

There might have been a tipoff on Pate's likely choice in today's practice when Parker played only a doubles set with Wayne Sabin of Hollywood, Cal., against Budge and Gene Mako, the cup doubles pair, while Grant went two fast sets of singles with Budge on the center court.

Budge handled Grant like a child. The overbalance on the American team is so pronounced that the other members of the squad admit that Budge has gone clear away from them since they arrived in England last month.

Baron Gottfried Von Cramm and Heiner Henkel, on the other hand, stood at 8-8 in their singles duel when they had to give up the court to the Americans. The Germans, who will play both singles and doubles, appear to be playing better tennis than during the recent Wimbledon championships.

It'll Be a Hard Battle.

Even conceding Budge a pair of singles victories, America still has a whale of a lot of tennis on its hands this week-end.

From Eastbourne, where England's team has been playing a practice match with Australia along Davis cup lines, came additional interesting news.

Charles Hare, who is going to fill the No. 2 singles berth for the English in the challenge round, beat Jack Crawford, 6-2, 6-2, 2-6, 3-6, 6-3, while Bunny Austin, English cup veteran who will play at No. 1, beat Vivian McGrath, the Australian champion, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

BOYWID, DAWSON WIN IN MIDWEST GOLF TOURNEY

Chuck Boywid of the Mid-City Golf club and Sterling Dawson of Medinah, long contenders for the midwest amateur golf title, will meet today at the Waveland course in Lincoln park in a semi-final match of the 1937 meet. Yesterday in the quarter-finals Boywid defeated Al Abbotte, unattached, 2 up, while Dawson won, 3 and 2, from Lou Halperin of Sunset Valley.

Joe Pardi of Lincoln Park will meet John Bodevin, unattached, in the other semi-final. Pardi defeated Steve Adams of Big Oaks, 3 and 2, and Bodevin beat George Kornacki of Lincoln Park, 2 up.

Lassie Stake Trainers All Can't Be Right

ment in their lives. A victory or a good showing makes them too valuable to be kept at the race tracks for any great length of time. Back to the thoroughbred producing farms they will go, to start sending their own offspring to the actual struggles of the track.

Horse.	Owner.	Probable odds.
†Well Rewarded	Mrs. Ethel V. Mars	5-2
†Manie O'Hara	Mrs. Ethel V. Mars	5-2
Inhale	J. Hay Whitney	3-1
Fantine	J. O'Keene	4-1
Hermana	Valdina farm	8-1
Pete's Niece	Charles T. Fisher	10-1
Fancy That	Bomar stable	15-1
Chocalula	Mary Hirsch	40-1
Dolly E.	Millsdale stable	40-1
Asianna	Fred A. Burton	40-1

†Milky Way Farm entry.

Mrs. John Hertz uncovered a fast running daughter of Reigh Count in the first race yesterday. The lassie's name is Dancing Reigh. She won after a game drive down the home stretch from the heavily backed favorite, Sweeping Blaze. Some thought Dancing Reigh might go in the Lassie as a result of this victory, but the Hertz trainer, Frank Hackett, decided this five furlong victory wasn't sufficient work to put her in shape to go the six furlongs of the Lassie stakes.

CORBETT FAILS TO KEEP MOUNT IN LINE; IS FINED

Jocky Also Is Suspended for Five Days.

Jocky Charley Corbett, under contract to the Millsdale stable of Chicago, was suspended five days and fined $100 for failing to keep his mount, Sweeping Blaze, running straight in the stretch run of the first race yesterday. Corbett has been one of the leading riders at the meeting.

The mile and a sixteenth seventh race was the best number on yesterday's Arlington program. It was decided over the turf course. Easy Sailing, ridden by Jocky Corbett, came from behind in the stretch to win by half a length from Short Skirt and Jokester. The 3 to 2 favorite, Buddy Treacy, ran with the leaders in the early stages and then dropped completely ut of the picture.

Jimmy Jones, inventor of the "lightning eye," has built a new finish line tape to draw the decisions closer at Arlington Park. It may sound like hair-splitting but the width of the tape, formerly five-eighths of an inch, has been reduced to a half inch.

Earl Sande wired Arlington Park officials yesterday that he is not pointing Sceneshifter and Fencing, Col. Maxwell Howard's candidates for the Classic stakes. "Sorry unable to get either horse up to the race," the famous ex-rider wired.

Time, :24 3-5, :48 4-5, 1:03. Two dollar mutuels paid: Dancing Reigh, $19.20 straight, $5.60 place, $3.60 show; Sweeping Blaze, $2.80 place, $2.40 show; Delovely, $3.00 show. Winner trained by F. S. Hackett. Went to post at 2:16.

DANCING REIGH, away fast but steadied when outrun, came with determination on the outside in the final quarter and, wearing down SWEEPING BLAZE, was going away at the end. SWEEPING BLAZE, under pressure from the start, drew into a good lead after racing ZENITH into submission, and held on well but was not good enough. DELOVELY rallied in the final quarter and was going resolutely at the end.

SECOND RACE—Five-eighths mile. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 3-5, :48 2-5, 1:02 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Dixieland, $3.80 straight, $3.20 place, $2.40 show; Pegging Away, $5.60 place, $3.40 show; Clematis, $2.60 show. Winner trained by H. Wells. Went to post at 2:40½. At post ½ minute.

DIXIELAND, away fast and having good speed, was under a snug hold as she attempted to bear out on the turn, swerved to the inside before beginning to draw away from PEGGING AWAY in the stretch and vigorously ridden out, probably had little left. PEGGING AWAY, forced wide while forcing the early pace under light restraint, held on gamely to the final eighth, where she weakened. CLEMATIS had no mishaps.

THIRD RACE—One mile and an eighth. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :26, :52 2-5, 1:17, 1:44, 1:58. Two dollar mutuels paid: Col. Julian, $3.60 straight, $2.60 place, $2.20 show; Tinsel Lady, $4.00 place, $3.00 show; Radio Hour, $2.80 show. Winner trained by E. B. Carpenter. Went to post at 3:05.

COL. JULIAN forced the pace under restraint, drew into command gradually and without need of punishment, had to be strongly shaken up to withstand TINSEL LADY'S challenge and came away fast in the last sixteenth. TINSEL LADY, under strong restraint for three-quarters, came up on the outside when making her challenge, but weakened after nearing the lead. RADIO HOUR took command in the run to the first turn, was under pressure after five eighths, suffered light interference on the stretch turn and did not keep up when clear.

FOURTH RACE—One mile and an eighth. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :25, :50 4-5, 1:16 1-5, 1:43 3-5, 1:57 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Tankie, $7.40 straight, $4.00 place, $3.60 show; Immersal, $4.00 place, $4.60 show; Blind Sage, $6.20 show. Winner trained by W. Crees. Went to post at 3:30½.

TANKIE dropped back suddenly soon after reaching the backstretch, began to improve her position after five-eighths and lost much ground in the final turn, but continued in resolute fashion when straight in the final quarter and wore down IMMERSAL in the last eighth. IMMERSAL, under strong restraint early, raced to the lead gradually and held on well, but could not withstand the winner. BLIND SAGE, rated under restraint to the last three-eighths, took command under mild urging, but weakened in the drive.

FIFTH RACE—Seven-eighths mile. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 2-5, :46 4-5, 1:12 1-5, 1:25 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Early Times, $11.40 straight, $5.60 place, $3.80 show; Silver Braid, $7.40 place, $4.20 show; Flip Flap, $5.20 show. Winner trained by A. Pelleteri. Went to post at 3:56. Off at once.

EARLY TIMES, away slowly, raced to the lead gradually after a half mile, drew out easily in the stretch and won with speed in reserve. SILVER BRAID, a strong factor from the start, was under pressure after a half mile, saved ground throughout, and held on well. FLIP FLAP, away slowly and outrun for three-quarters, rallied in the final eighth, where she was on the extreme outside.

SIXTH RACE—One mile. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :23 2-5, :47, 1:12 2-5, 1:39 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Lady Federal, $11.40 straight, $5.60 place, $3.80 show; Tornadic, $5.20 place, $4.00 show; Busby, $7.60 show. Winner trained by C. Troutt. Went to post at 4:21. At post 1 minute.

LADY FEDERAL made the early pace under occasional light urging, pulled away slightly on the stretch turn, withstood TORNADIC'S stretch rally and again drew away in the last eighth. TORNADIC forced the early pace under restraint, lost ground on the turn and weakened after making a mild bid when nearing the final eighth. BUSBY was under light pressure the last three-eighths, and after wearing down TONEY BOY, outstayed ADVANCING.

SEVENTH RACE—One mile and a sixteenth. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, 1:47 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Easy Sailing, $9.40 straight, $4.60 place, $3.40 show; Short Skirt, $5.40 place, $4.20 show; Jokester, $5.40 show. Winner trained by D. Vititoe. Went to post at 4.45½. At post 1½ minutes. Start good. Won driving, place same.

EASY SAILING, away slowly, moved up while racing under restraint approaching the final turn, worked her way to the lead under mild pressure but had to be stoutly urged to withstand the rush of SHORT SKIRT. Latter, away fast but unable to keep up, began to improve her position after three-quarters and, closing with a rush on the inside, barely missed getting up. JOKESTER forced the pace under restraint, drew into command while racing very wide on the stretch turn and but for swerving in the drive might have been a stronger factor at the end.

EIGHTH RACE—One mile and an eighth. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Purse $1,100. Net value to winner, $800; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Time, :26, :51 2-5, 1:16, 1:42 1-5, 1:55. Two dollar mutuels paid: Natalie Alice, $15.60 straight, $6.40 place, $3.60 show; Chief Evergreen, $11.40 place, $5.40 show; Swap, $3.20 show. Winner trained by G. B. Scallon. Went to post at 5:10. At post ½ minute. Start good. Won handily, place driving.

NATALIE ALICE saved ground when beginning to move up approaching the second turn, swung to the outside approaching the stretch and, wearing down CHIEF EVERGREEN, won drawing out. Latter, cleverly rated in the pacemaking, held on gamely to last eighth where he weakened. SWAP, probably best, was racing close up when forced to take up sharply as WHATWAY swerved in front of him after breaking down, moved up fast when clear on the stretch turn and, closing resolutely, was getting to the leaders.

HOW MANY PENNIES—
HOW MANY PENNIES CAN YOU DROP IN A GLASS OF WHISKEY---- (a 6 ounce Old Fashioned glass) THAT IS FULL TO THE BRIM WITH WHISKEY— BEFORE THE GLASS RUNS OVER?
Solution printed upside-down below.
THERE'S ONLY ONE ANSWER..
KESSLER'S Private Blend BLENDED WHISKEY
KEEP TO KESSLER'S
The Natural Tasting Whiskey
You'll go for its low price!

PUZZLED over which whiskey to buy? Here's your answer—pick a whiskey with a natural whiskey taste—Kessler's Private Blend.

Julius Kessler's 60 years of experience taught him how to produce natural whiskey taste—by blending whiskies which harmonize—which "get along" together naturally. So in Kessler's, you get a whiskey that feels mild and smooth going down. Yet it has all the heft of full 90 proof.

Ask for it today at your favorite package store or bar.

Solution: About 35 pennies if you are careful to let the pennies slide down the side wall of the glass.

KESSLER'S PRIVATE BLEND—A BLENDED WHISKEY. The straight whiskies in this product are one year and three months or more old; 25% straight whiskey, 75% neutral spirits distilled from American grains. 20% straight whiskey one year and three months old, 5% straight whiskey five years old. Copr. 1937, Julius Kessler Distilling Co., Inc., Lawrenceburg, Indiana.

AM. TELEPHONE EARNINGS CLOSE TO 1931 RECORD

2d Quarter Second Best for Period.

Net income of the American Telephone and Telegraph company in the three months ended June 30 nearly equaled the all-time record for second quarter earnings established in 1931, according to the quarterly report to stockholders released yesterday.

Walter S. Gifford.

Net income for the three months was $43,655,142, equal to $2.34 a share on the 18,686,794 shares of stock outstanding. In the comparable 1936 quarter net income was $37,082,551, or $1.99 a share. The record second quarter net income in 1931 was $43,772,789, or $2.36 a share. This year's results were better than the second quarter in either 1929 or 1930.

Earnings for Half Year.

On the basis of the returns reported for the second quarter the company's indicated net income for the first six months of 1937 was $87,890,893, equal to $4.66 a share, compared with $71,525,508, or $3.83 a share, in the corresponding period of 1936.

At the present rate of earnings the company is more than covering its $9 annual dividend rate, which has been maintained without interruption since 1922. Last year the company's earnings covered the $9 rate for the first time since 1930.

President Walter S. Gifford informed stockholders that the Bell system had a gain of 529,000 in telephones in use in the first six months this year, compared with the gain of 374,000 in the corresponding 1936 period. Toll and long distance telephone business increased 8 per cent in the first six months over last year, he said.

Consolidated Earnings Larger.

The results reported by the company for the second quarter include only operating income of American Telephone and dividends received from subsidiary companies. The parent company or not. The consolidated net income accruing to the parent company's share of the undistributed earnings of subsidiaries is not included.

A supplementary statement giving consolidated results for the system as a whole for the three months ended May 31 also was issued. These figures include all earnings of subsidiaries whether paid over to the parent company, for the three months was $50,759,600, equal to $2.72 a share. This compared with $45,246,263, or $2.42 a share, in the parallel 1936 period. Gross income for the period was $64,250,568, against $60,842,958.

Results for 12 Months.

Results for the 12 month periods ended May 31 and June 30 also were included in the statement. Consolidated net income for the 12 months ended May 31 was $197,503,288, equal to $10.57 a share, against $151,710,165, or $8.13 a share, in the preceding year. For the 12 months ended June 30 the parent company's net income was $190,538,672, equal to $10.20 a share, compared with $138,298,643, or $7.41 a share, in the preceding year.

American Telephone paid out $42,045,287 in dividends in the June quarter, leaving a surplus from earnings of $1,609,856. In the June quarter, last year, the company drew on its surplus for $4,935,338 to meet its dividend.

TREASURY BUYS MORE FEDERAL BONDS IN JUNE

Washington, D. C., July 15.—(AP)—The treasury announced today it increased net market purchases of government securities during June. The treasury buys federal securities for the accounts of its various trust funds.

Purchases during June totaled $24,370,400, compared with $3,853,550 in May and $11,856,500 in April. Seeking to steady an erratic government bond market, the treasury made net purchases of $119,553,000 in March.

Secretary Morgenthau said today the treasury would sell another $50,000,000 of discount bills Monday to bolster its cash on hand. A new series of $50,000,000 bill issues was started this week. They are in addition to the regular $50,000,000 weekly refinancing issues.

Milwaukee Railroad Seeks $1,920,000 Loan for Cars

New York, July 15.—[Special.]—The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific railroad has made application to the interstate commerce commisson for authority to sell $1,920,000 of 3¾ per cent equipment trust certificates which will mature in fifteen annual installments, beginning Aug. 1, 1938. Proceeds of the financing will be utilized to purchase 1,000 gondola cars.

1937 Profits Above Those of Year Ago

Interim earnings statements issued yesterday by several corporations showed general improvement over the corresponding 1936 period.

Underwood-Elliott-Fisher company's net income for the quarter ended June 30 was $1,170,977, equal to $1.59 per common share, compared with $657,964, or 91 cents a share in the second quarter last year. Six months' net income was $2,576,409, or $3.51 a share, against $1,486,625, or $2.08 in the first half of 1936.

M. A. Hanna company, coal and iron ore operators, reported June quarter net income of $896,419, before provision for undistributed profits tax, equal to $5.72 a share on the common stock. This compared with $474,054, or 30 cents a share a year ago.

Utility's Earnings Steady.

Detroit Edison company in the 12 months ended June 30, had net income of $10,841,575, equal to $8.52 a share compared with $10,857,300 or $8.53 a share in the preceding 12 months.

Net income for the first six months of 1937 of $678,998 was reported by the Bon Ami company. This compared with net income of $587,753 in the first six months last year. Walter B. Harris was elected a director of the company to fill a vacancy on the board.

International Salt company reported six months net income of $168,130 against $150,625 last year. For the June quarter McAndrew & Forbes company reported net profit of $243,151 against $202,298 last year. For the six months net was $463,285 compared with $402,064.

Reports Profit Gain.

Casco Products corporation, makers of cigaret lighters and auto accessories, reported profit for the first quarter of its fiscal year, which began March 1, was $79,088, against $54,386 in the corresponding period of the preceding year.

Atlas Portland Cement company reported for the 12 months ended June 30 net income of $690,980, equal to $1.07 a share on the common stock. In the preceding 12 months net income was $259,907.33.

Superheater company reported net income of $1,535,076 for the six months ended June 30. This included nonrecurring profit of $425,115 on the sale of reacquired company stock. The profit, exclusive of the nonrecurring item, was equal to $1.69 a share, and compared with $540,235 or 60 cents a share in the first six months of 1936.

Distiller Profit Rises.

Net income of $1,640,683 for the quarter ended May 31 was reported by Hiram Walker-Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., and subsidiaries, distillers. After provision for preference stock dividends the profit was equivalent to $2.10 a share on the common stock. The company had net income of $1,339,129, or $1.85 a share, in the corresponding period last year.

Crown Zellerbach corporation, which absorbed the Crown Willamette Paper company last March, reported a consolidated net profit of $5,435,638 for the fiscal year ended April 30 before deducting surtax of $341,235. After provision for the tax the profit equaled $1.23 a share on the new common stock. Net profit in the preceding year was $4,565,127.

CHICAGO TO BE STOP ON COAST-TO-COAST SLEEPER PLANE RUN

New coast-to-coast sleeper plane service via Chicago will be started by United Air Lines next Tuesday, W. A. Patterson, president, announced yesterday. The east bound flight will be made in 15⅓ hours, and the westbound run in 17⅓ hours. Top speed of the planes is 212 miles per hour.

Two other transcontinental sleeper flights will be added Aug. 1, when the last four of United's 30 new Douglas DC 3 planes are delivered. The planes have the same exterior appearance, but interiors differ. Twelve are regular 21-passenger ships, 10 Skylounge planes carry 14 passengers, and the eight sleepers. Although licensed to carry 24 passengers, the sleepers will carry only 12 persons, making available a lounge for those who do not wish to retire as early as others.

The sleepers will make only three stops between New York and the Pacific Coast—Chicago, Cheyenne, and Salt Lake City. The westbound plane will leave Chicago at 11 p. m. daylight time. On the eastbound flight, passengers will change from sleepers in Chicago at 8:20 a. m. to board Skylounge planes of the same type for the trip to New York. The shift to sleeper planes with berths made up will be made at the first stop after leaving the Pacific coast at dinner time.

Farm Product Price Rise Advances Wholesale Index

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—Sharp advances in the cost of farm products and foods caused a further increase in the general level of wholesale prices during the week ended July 10, the bureau of labor statistics announced today. This brought the index, based on the 1926 average, to 87.7, compared with 87.2 in the preceding week and 80.3 a year ago.

Stocks Rally; Steel Shares Stiffen List

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 15.—With the steel group, particularly U. S. Steel common shares, showing the way, stocks reversed their early reactionary tendencies on the stock exchange today and drove ahead to higher closing levels. While the majority of gains brought quotations only slightly above previous closing prices, they were pretty widely spread, with some larger ones here and there standing out. Rails pushed into the plus column in the closing hour, while utilities were steady to firm.

Volume for the day was approximately 737,060 shares, against 1,038,090 on Wednesday. Traders were reported much pleased with the market's ability to recover quickly and impressively following technical reactions, despite the slowness of trading and a minimum of outside interest.

U. S. Steel Spurts.

The recovery in "Big Steel" was the outstanding feature of today's session. The stock lost a fraction on an opening sale of 1,000 shares, but after a little hesitation, swung upward and continued higher to close at 116, for a net gain of 2⅜ points. Bethlehem was another steel issue to garner more than a point, but the majority of others could only work fractionally higher.

Despite estimates putting freight loadings well above a year ago railway shares were sluggish throughout most of the session, but toward the close came in for a bit of attention. New York Central, with a jump of 1⅛ points, was outstanding in the division.

The American Telephone earnings report had little effect on the stock marketwise. The stock moved in a fractional range and closed slightly lower. Western Union and International Telephone, the latter on good volume, perked up somewhat, each adding a point. Power stocks moved in a narrow mixed range.

Motor Shares Are Firmer.

Motor issues came out of the doldrums to show increases from fractions to 1 point. Chrysler added the latter figure on good buying. General Motors and Hupp Motors also were active and were pushed fractionally higher.

Du Pont, with a rise of 4 points, led the chemical division higher. Douglas added 1½ points in the aviation group, while other issues were mixed in a fractional range. Oils attracted considerable support, particularly Pure Oil and Socony-Vacuum. Increases, where they did appear, were well within a point, however.

Farm equipments were mixed. Allis-Chalmers and Oliver Farm worked higher, while J. I. Case, Deere, and International Harvester were unchanged to lower. Mail order issues continued to reflect increased estimates of rural incomes, but buying was not as active as in recent sessions. Marshall Field, Sears-Roebuck, and Montgomery Ward worked fractionally higher.

U. S. SIGNS PACT TO SELL BRAZIL 60 MILLION GOLD

Step in Program to Strengthen Trade.

Washington, D. C., July 15.—[Special.]—The United States and Brazil today signed a financial agreement at the treasury department involving the sale to the latter nation of gold up to a maximum of $60,000,000. This follows by only a few days a similar deal with China whereby the United States treasury agrees to sell the Chinese gold in exchange for silver.

Arthur De Souza Costa.

Today's agreement was negotiated by a Brazilian financial mission headed by Arthur De Souza Costa, financial minister. The mission has been here several weeks. The agreement complements a commercial understanding designed to give greater efficiency to the reciprocal trade treaty between the two countries.

Terms of Agreement.

The announced terms follow:

"1. The United States undertakes to sell gold to Brazil at such times and in such amounts as the Brazilian government may request, up to a total of $60,000,000.

"2. The United States will make dollar exchange available to the government of Brazil or its fiscal agent, under conditions which safeguard the interests of both countries, for the purpose of promoting exchange equilibrium."

According to the statement the deal is arranged to promote conditions favorable to the maintenance of monetary equilibrium between the two nations and "to facilitate the establishment by the United States of Brazil of a central bank as part of the program of the Brazilian government for improving the financial structure of the nation to meet the needs of its expanding economy."

Announce Trade Plan.

While Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau was making the gold announcement, Secretary of State Hull and the Brazilian minister of finance were making a joint statement regarding trade relations between the two nations.

Joint Brazilian-American committees made up of representatives of trade interests in the two nations will be established in Rio de Janeiro and either New York or Washington, they said, the purpose being to study "the best means indicated for developing trade."

The Brazilian representatives also pledged themselves to take steps to simplify and modify certain administrative customs regulations which are believed by Washington officials to have a detrimental effect on the flow of trade between the two nations.

Secretary Morgenthau said Brazil will purchase gold with United States dollars which it is at liberty to obtain anywhere in the world. It might obtain dollars through its favorable trade balance with this country, he said. When Brazil is provided with the gold, Morgenthau said, the treasury will advance dollars as required, retaining the gold as collateral.

BANK CLEARINGS MAKE FIRST GAIN IN THREE WEEKS

New York, July 15.—(AP)—For the first time in three weeks bank clearings in the week ended Wednesday showed a rise over the corresponding period of 1936, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. Clearings at twenty-two leading cities in the week totaled $5,816,126,000, a gain of 15.8 per cent over the like 1936 period.

At New York the total was $3,553,789,000, a rise of 19 per cent and the largest percentage increase over the 1936 comparative since the week ended March 24. Clearings in the other cities were $2,262,337,000, up 11.2 per cent.

France Supports Currency as Bonds Break in Paris

A sharp break in prices of French government bonds in Paris caused a decline in the French franc in the foreign exchange market yesterday and brought active intervention by the French control fund to support the currency. The French unit closed in New York at 3.88 cents, or 0.00⅜ of a cent below Wednesday's quotation. Exchange experts said that without official support the franc would have incurred a much sharper loss.

In Paris, French government bonds were quoted at the lowest prices since devaluation of the franc. Three per cent rentes closed at 69.25 francs, off 2.50 francs from the preceding day. The 4½ per cent obligations of the government fell 2.40 francs.

Government Borrows More.

The immediate cause of the break in bond prices was the disclosure by the weekly statement of the Bank of France that the government has had to resort to further borrowing. The statement, covering the week ended July 9, showed that the government had obtained an additional 1,747,000,000 francs from the central bank to finance its current needs. The statement also indicated a further shrinkage in the balances of the French stabilization fund on deposit with the bank. The item under which such deposits are carried was 1,594,000,000 francs below the preceding week.

The price of 69.25 francs quoted yesterday on the 3 per cent rentes compares with a high of 73.85 francs reached on July 8, immediately following the installation of the new government.

The Bank of France reported no change from the preceding week in its gold holdings of 48,859,359,303 francs [about $1,883,680,000]. The gold holdings of the Bank of England reached another new high figure of £327,350,000 [about $1,883,680,000] on July 14, compared with £327,290,000 a week earlier.

Foreign currencies, other than the franc, showed little change yesterday in relation to the American dollar. The British pound slipped 3-16 of a cent and was quoted at $4.96 11-16 at the end of the day. German marks and Belgian currency declined slightly, while Canadian dollars were unchanged.

The New York Federal Reserve bank reported there were no engagements of gold yesterday for shipment to this country. The price of gold in London was quoted at the equivalent of $4.81, or 4 cents above the New York shipping parity, compared with Wednesday's price of $34.80.

Gold Imports Received.

Imports of $1,343,600 gold from England and $285,800 from Holland were received at New York yesterday, while at San Francisco $4,327,000 of gold from Japan, $1,181,000 from Australia, and $82,000 from China were reported to have arrived. For the week ended on Wednesday imports of gold here totaled $14,725,000, of which $10,608,000 came from England, $2,517,000 from Canada, $1,128,000 from France, and $472,000 from India. Gold held under earmark here for foreign account was reduced $1,308,000 in the week. At San Francisco $21,463,000 of gold was received.

SEARS AND OTHER COMPANIES RAISE EXECUTIVES' PAY

Washington, D. C., July 15—(AP)—Sears, Roebuck & Co., Stone and Webster, Inc., and the Houdaille-Hershey corporation today reported to the securities commission that pay raises were given their executives in the last year.

Sears said its president, Robert E. Wood, was raised from $86,223 to $90,000 and its chairman, Lessing J. Rosenwald, from $69,159 to $71,250.

Houdaille-Hershey of Detroit, boosted the annual pay of president Claire L. Barnes from $44,833 to $60,000 and Stone and Webster and subsidiaries increased the pay of president George O. Muhlfeld from $40,560 to $50,605.

Other compensations reported to the commission were: Keith-Albee-Orpheum corporation, New York, president Leo Spitz, $26,025; Neisner Brothers, Rochester, N. Y., J. M. Neisner, $36,000; Tennessee corporation, New York, director E. H. Westlake, $29,970; F. L. Jacobs company, Detroit, president Rex C. Jacobs and general manager Clare S. Jacobs, $41,205 each; Lone Star Gas corporation, Dallas, president L. B. Denning, $49,500; Engineers Public Service company, New York, and subsidiaries, director Charles W. Kellogg, $30,955.

Kennecott to Spend Five Millions on New Smelter

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The Kennecott Copper corporation will build a $5,000,000 smelter at Hurley, N. M., for its Nevada Consolidated and Chino properties, it was announced today.

CHICAGO YELLOW CAB CUTS DIVIDEND, DUE TO DRIVERS' STRIKE

Directors of the Chicago Yellow Cab company yesterday reduced the dividend on the company's stock from 50 to 25 cents and reported that operations in the first six months of 1937 resulted in a loss of $29,534.

The deficit resulted chiefly from nonrecurring losses and expenses growing out of the drivers' strike in March. In the first half of 1936 the company earned a profit of $295,487.

Earnings for the second quarter of the year were $66,268, equal to 22 cents a share, compared with $123,825, or 47½ cents a share, in the corresponding period last year. The decline in second quarter income from last year resulted from the added costs accruing under the new wage agreement with drivers, the company said. The agreement eliminated payment of fuel costs by drivers and provided for an increase in commissions.

The directors voted a dividend of 25 cents, payable Sept. 1 to stockholders of record Aug. 20. The regular quarterly dividend rate had been 50 cents heretofore.

National Cylinder Gas Gets Control of Carbo-Oxygen

National Cylinder Gas company, Chicago, yesterday announced acquisition of control of Carbo-Oxygen company. National Cylinder Gas manufactures oxygen, nitrogen, and acetylene and also sells hydrogen and other gases.

WHEAT PRICES FALL WITH RAIN IN NORTHWEST

Expect Spring Crop to Be Benefited.

CHICAGO GRAIN FUTURES

Closing prices on the September delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.25⅜	$1.27¼	$1.05⅝
Corn	1.12⅝	1.12⅜	.87
Oats	.37½	.38	.30¾
Rye	.87	.88⅜	.73⅜
Soy beans [Oct]	1.15½	1.16	.....

Good rains in parts of the American and Canadian northwest, which are expected to be of much benefit to the spring wheat crop, and a break of as much as 4¼ cents a bushel in Liverpool wheat futures caused a sharp decline in North American markets yesterday.

Closing trades in wheat futures in the leading markets ranged from 1½ to 2¾ cents lower a bushel. Kansas City and Winnipeg showed the largest losses, although the latter market was up more than a cent from the low point of the morning.

Additional reports of black rust damage in parts of the Dakotas and Minnesota, and in the province of Manitoba were responsible for fair buying of wheat futures at times during the day.

Traders Sell Persistently.

However, there was persistent selling attributed to professional traders and commission houses, as well as hedging pressure from the southwest.

Weakness in the Liverpool market was attributed to rains in Canada, the Volga district of Russia and in Australia, combined with a slow milling demand for cash grain. No export sales of either American hard winter wheat or Canadian grain could be confirmed.

Trading in wheat futures yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade was said by brokers to have been much lighter than recently, while the range of prices was the narrowest in almost a month. Many operators were said to have taken profits in the last few days on previous purchases and were not disposed to re-enter the market until the effect of the rains on the spring wheat crop can be ascertained.

Reports Damage in Canada.

A Winnipeg grain expert issued a statement saying that 60 per cent of the 24,000,000 acres seeded to spring wheat in the three western Canadian provinces had been permanently damaged. The weather forecast indicated further moisture might be received in that territory overnight.

Light weight cash wheat was in relatively slow demand yesterday in leading markets, especially grain that tested 50 pounds per bushel or lower. Some sales on the Chicago Board of Trade showed a decline of 2 cents compared with the September delivery. The movement of winter

New York Bonds.

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The bond market moved in divergent paths today, United States government issues early in the session moved up 1-32d to 7-32ds of a point and maintained the improved levels to the close. Demand was heavier.

The day's movements in listed corporate loans indicated a high degree of selectivity in buying activities. Rails were mixed. Junior liens of the Wabash declined sharply, with selling apparently based on the receivers' reorganization plan announced late yesterday. The first 5s, however, moved up about 2 points to 93½.

Bonds of International Hydro Electric, Detroit Edison, Bethlehem Steel, American and Foreign Power, Northern Pacific and Youngstown Sheet and Tube finished higher by fractions to around a point. Illinois Central 4¾s declined 1¼ to 67, New Haven 6s were off 2 at 60, and Studebaker 6s off 1½ at 106.

The north China conflict continued to have a depressing effect on Japanese dollar bonds, the 6½s closing at 95¾, off 2½, and the 5½s at 82, off 1¼. Obligations of Poland, Cuba, Columbia and Brazil closed moderately higher.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks moved irregularly upward yesterday in 30,000 share trading. Prima Brewing was bid up to $2 a share, a rise of a half point, following a court decision awarding the company damages against the Harris Trust and Savings bank and the First National bank. Its trading volume of 3,000 shares was second only to that in Armour common, which edged up ⅛ to 12½ in 3,150 share turnover.

Hupp Motors and Chicago corporation advanced fractionally in trading of 2,850 and 2,650 shares, respectively. Jarvis, responding to a dividend increase, was one of the few stocks to move as much as a point. It closed at 26⅝, up ¼. New highs for this year were reached by Joslyn, Ontario manufacturing, A. Stein & Co., and Trane.

Bank Stocks.

Chicago bank stocks were mostly unchanged yesterday, although some dealers quoted Northern Trust $5 a share higher and Chicago Title and Trust and Continental Illinois each $1 higher. Two dealers quoted National Boulevard shares $5 a share lower, but another dealer quoted the stock unchanged.

OPENING QUOTATIONS ADDED

Because of numerous requests from readers opening prices of all stocks are now included in this table. The "dividend yield" column, for many years an exclusive feature in THE TRIBUNE'S stock quotation tables, has been dropped because most corporations have been forced by the new tax on undivided earnings to abandon the old practice of paying a fixed dividend return. Thus, the daily calculation of "dividend yield," where based on incomplete dividend information, has become not only confusing but, in many cases, actually misleading. To compute the yield on a preferred stock or a common stock still on a fixed income basis divide the amount paid in dividends for the year by the closing price of the stock. The table will continue to carry the amount of dividends paid per share.

[The figure in brackets after name of stock is annual dividend rate.]

COTTON

Cotton futures declined $2.25 a bale or nearly ½ cent a pound at the extreme yesterday, the sharpest break witnessed in American markets in many weeks. Houses with Wall street connections which were recently credited with having been heavy buyers were aggressive on the selling side yesterday based on continued favorable crop reports. Foreigners were also reported as having sold freely, while the buying was not aggressive.

Closing trades in American markets were at net losses of 0.32 to 0.45 cent a pound, the latter on October in New Orleans. Liverpool prices were also lower. An official Egyptian report estimated there had been 2,136,000 acres planted for this year's crop, compared with 1,853,000 acres in 1936. Cotton cloths were reported as changing hands in New York at ⅛ to ¼ cent a yard under mill list prices.

Spot cotton closed 0.35 cent a pound lower with New Orleans, 12.45 cents; New York, 12.60 cents; Houston, 12.35 cents, and Galveston at 12.30 cents a pound. Prices follow:

RECLAMATION CONTRACT.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes has announced the award of a reclamation contract amounting to $153,960 to the Bartlett-Hayward division of the Koppers company for work on the Marshall Ford dam of the Colorado river.

LEAD STOCKS HIGHER.

Stocks of refined lead at United States smelters June 1 totaled 189,963 short tons compared with 100,490 tons May 1 and 314,848 tons June 1, 1936, the American Bureau of Metal Statistics reported yesterday.

Commodities

Commodity prices moved lower yesterday under the leadership of cotton, export copper, most grains, and sugar futures. Among the few staples to gain were hide futures, silk, and rubber.

The price of export copper dipped to 13.875 cents in New York, ⅛ cent a pound under the American domestic level, in response to further weakness of copper on the London metal exchange. Copper futures in New York closed irregular, 0.10 cent a pound higher to 0.03 lower. Tin and zinc were easier, but lead firm.

Rubber futures advanced 0.05 to 0.09 cent a pound and crude rubber for immediate delivery closed at 19.15 cents a pound, up 0.04 cent. Hide futures climbed 0.17 to 0.21 cent a pound. Both raw and refined sugar for immediate delivery was unchanged, but domestic sugar futures dipped 0.01 to 0.04 cent a pound.

Silk, which has declined sharply in recent sessions, turned about and climbed 1 to 3 cents a pound in the futures market and more than 2 cents a pound in cash markets.

October eggs declined ¼ cent a dozen to close at 24⅝ cents on the Chicago mercantile exchange. Cash egg prices closed unchanged to ½ cent a dozen lower for current receipts. November butter closed at 31⅞ cents a pound, down ⅛ cent. Cash butter unchanged. Idaho russet potatoes for November delivery fell 5 cents a hundred pounds to a new low mark for the year at $1.60 a hundred pounds.

[Complete reports of grain, cotton, and livestock markets are elsewhere in the financial section.]

LABOR ACT MAY BE BOOMERANG, SAYS ATTORNEY

Describes Weaknesses of New Law.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Some of the terms of the Wagner labor act may in the long run prove a boomerang to organized labor, David R. Clarke, general counsel of the Illinois Manufacturers association, told 300 members of the organization at a meeting yesterday at the Palmer house.

David R. Clarke.

Clarke expressed the opinion that the "check-off" under which employers collect union dues from their workers and turn them over to the union, is plainly a violation of the provision of the Wagner act which forbids employers from lending support of any nature to a labor organization.

View on Section 9-A.

Furthermore, Clarke said, he is convinced that section 9-A of the Wagner act, which permits the bargaining representatives chosen by the majority to represent minority workers as well, is invalid.

The Supreme court's decision upholding the act precludes an attack on constitutionality of section 9-A by employers, but it is only a question of time until the matter is tested by a minority labor group, he said.

"Imagine a situation," he said, "in which a shop is organized 51 per cent C. I. O. and 49 per cent A. F. of L. Do you suppose that in view of the feeling between these two labor groups that the A. F. of L. would permit the C. I. O. to represent it in bargaining?"

Aware of Possibilities.

There is evidence, he said, that some labor leaders are aware of the possibilities inherent in the act and that already they regret many of the provisions which were included.

Clarke comment on the widespread belief among employers that they are not permitted to discuss labor questions with their employés or warn them against unions or union leaders without violating the law.

The act, he said, does not take away the freedom of speech of the employer who is as free as ever to warn his employés against unwise organizational activities or against labor leaders whom he considers a menace. The freedom of choice is left to the worker but the employer is at liberty to voice his opinion at will provided he does not discriminate against union workers.

Why They Want Contracts.

Clarke said that independent steel companies are fully justified in their refusal to enter into written contracts with the C. I. O.

"The unions are not afraid that employers will not live up to the terms they agree to, but they are anxious to obtain written contracts as an effective instrument of extending their organizations," the attorney said. "The written contract is highly valued by organized labor leaders as a means of winning new recruits. It is the form and not the substance of contracts they want."

In broadening the definition of interstate commerce in its Wagner act ruling, the Supreme court opened the way for possible legal action against labor organizations that obstruct commerce, Clarke said. It is possible the triple damage rule of the Sherman act may be used against unions for certain practices that have been employed in the past, he said.

Railroad Retirement Act.

Approximately 1,500,000 American workers fall within the scope of the recently enacted railroad retirement act. These include employés of railroads, express companies, sleeping car companies and their subsidiaries, railroad associations, and railroad labor organizations.

Interesting is the fact that the act does not compel retirement when a specified age is reached. A worker, however, is eligible to retire at 65 when he may receive the maximum annuity payments to which he is entitled. He may retire at 60 if he has completed thirty years of service, with a reduction in his annuity at the rate of one one hundred and eightieth for each month he is less than 65 years of age.

Those working after reaching 65 must continue to pay taxes on their pay, although they will not be credited with additional service. Employés may retire regardless of age because of physical or mental disability after thirty years of service with full annuity privileges.

The amount of annuity is determined by multiplying years of service by certain percentages of the monthly pay up to $300. These percentages are 2 per cent on the first $50; 1½ per cent on the next $100 and 1 per cent on all sums over $150 and up to $300. Under the tax act to provide funds for the annuities, employés and employers each contribute 2¾ per cent of the pay for 1937, 1938, and 1939; 3 per cent for 1940, 1941, and 1942; 3¼ per cent for 1943, 1944, and 1945, 3½ per cent for 1946, 1947, and 1948, and 3¾ per cent after Dec. 31, 1948. All annuities will be distributed directly by the United States treasury. The maximum amount any one may receive under the act will be $120 monthly and the maximum amount of pay on which tax payments are based is $300 monthly.

Business Bits

John Nering, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company, yesterday retired from active service after forty-eight years with the company. Nering, who is 65 years old, started with the company here in 1889 as a telegraph operator, and since 1900 he has been an official. He was the guest of honor at a banquet last night given by company officials and employés, headed by M. K. McGrath, vice president and general manager. Nering is being succeeded by George G. Creal, who has been Postal superintendent at Kansas City for six years. Creal, who is 33 years old, is an alumnus of Northwestern university.

John Nering.

Directors of Northwest Airlines, meeting at St. Paul, Minn., yesterday elected Croil Hunter as president. He has been vice president and general manager for the last four years and will replace L. M. Leffingwell, who resigned recently as president, but will continue as a director.

H. E. Hinds has been appointed assistant mechanical engineer of the Burlington railroad, with headquarters in Chicago.

REPUBLIC STEEL REPORTS MOST OF MEN AT WORK

Cleveland, O., July 15.—(AP)—The Republic Steel corporation reported in a statement today that 37,101 employés were at work in its mines and mills as of July 13. Only the bar mill at Moline, Ill., and the N. & G. Taylor company plant at Cumberland, Md., remain to be opened, the statement said. The two plants employ 550 men.

The present employment of the corporation, the statement said, "represents 74.4 per cent of the average plant and mine employment of 49,898 in April, the last full month of operations before the strike, and reflected an increase of about 8,000 since July 6." Steel strike leaders have disputed the employment figures of the company.

The company said that more than $15,000,000 of construction is under way at various plants, which will bring its steel-making capacity to 6,653,000 tons a year.

Report More Employed.

New York, July 15.—(AP)—Incomplete figures due to strike conditions indicated May employment in the steel industry to be 522,000, compared with 516,000 in April, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated today.

RATIFY PROPOSAL TO END FEDERAL ELECTRIC FIGHT

Stockholders of the Federal Electric company at a meeting in New York on Wednesday ratified the agreement under which the protracted litigation over control of the concern is settled, it was announced here yesterday at the company's offices.

Under the agreement the Commonwealth Subsidiary corporation disposes of its controlling interest in the firm to Barney Johnson & Co., which, in turn, is to sell the stock and notes to Federal Electric. The result of the three way sale is to continue the present management in control of the company.

Roscoe L. Parkinson, former director of Federal Electric, who was one of the chief figures in the litigation, was not a party to the agreement, which was made solely by Barney Johnson & Co. and Federal Electric. Barney Johnson & Co. is understood to have acquired Parkinson's rights through a separate agreement.

ECCLES FAVORS HEAVIER TAX ON ALIEN INVESTORS

Washington, D. C., July 15.—(AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, chairman of the federal reserve board, said today he favors drastic taxation of aliens who have investments in this country.

He told reporters the 10 per cent tax now applicable to earnings of such investors should be increased to about 22½ per cent or 25 per cent. He also advocated a capital gains tax to reach foreign speculators, and said income surtaxes should be applied to both groups.

Eccles also testified that government purchase of the 12 federal reserve members banks, proposed by a congressional bloc headed by Representative Patman [D., Tex.], would save the government no more than $6,000,000 annually.

"Bank ownership is not an important factor," he said, "when it comes to a question of exercising monetary control."

New Owners Plan Merger of C. & O., Pere Marquette

Cleveland, O., July 15.—(AP)—Robert R. Young and Frank F. Kolbe, new owners of the Van Sweringen land and rail empire, said today they were planning a merger of the Pere Marquette and Chesapeake and Ohio railroads in the immediate future. Young and Koble, who, with Allan P. Kirby of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., recently acquired the Van Sweringen properties, again expressed their intentions of eventually merging all their eastern railroads into a single operating unit.

Land in Clearing District Bought by Cosmetics Firm

The Clearing Industrial district yesterday announced that the Lady Esther company, of Evanston, manufacturer of cosmetics, had purchased 132,000 square feet of land at the southeast corner of Harlem avenue and 65th street, in Clearing, and will build a $500,000 one story laboratory and office building, containing 100,000 square feet of floor space. In addition, the company has taken options on land to the south and east for future expansion.

SPINNERS VOTE FIRST DIVIDEND IN SEVEN YEARS

Louisville and Nashville Road Pays $2.50.

The first dividend payments in seven years were declared yesterday by the directors of the Berkshire Fine Spinning Associates, Inc., Boston, on the preferred stock. Two dividends of $1.75 each were declared on the 7 per cent preferred, one payable July 23 and the other payable Sept. 1.

The directors also declared dividends on the new $5 preferred stock, one of $1.25 payable July 23 and the other of $3.75, payable Sept. 1. Most of the old 7 per cent preferred has been converted into the new $5 preferred and common stock under the recapitalization plan.

Rail Will Pay $2.50.

Directors of the Louisville and Nashville railroad declared a dividend of $2.50 on the common stock. A like amount was paid in February. The Simms Petroleum company voted a liquidating dividend of 50 cents a share, payable July 26. On April 30 it paid a liquidating dividend of a like amount.

Niagara Hudson Power declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share each on the 5 per cent first preferred, the 5 per cent second preferred, and on the 5 per cent second preferred B stocks.

International Harvester declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred, payable Sept. 1.

The Sivyer Steel Casting corporation declared a dividend of 50 cents a share on the common. Century Ribbon Mills, Inc., will pay a dividend of 10 cents on the common.

Standard Cap and Seal.

Investors' Guide: May I have information on Standard Cap and Seal Corporation?—Mrs. W. E. W.

Answer: Business of this company consists principally of manufacturing paper hoods and flat disc caps for milk bottles, together with the wires and rings used for holding the hoods in place. The company also makes hand operated and automatic sealing machines to apply the hoods and rings on bottle tops.

Plants are located in Chicago and Jersey City.

With its business dependent on contracts with those selling milk, a necessary article of food, the company has had unusually consistent earnings. Net income declined only moderately from the 1930 record figure of $709,000, or $3.44 per share, to a depression low of $535,000 or $2.60 a share in 1933. From this point net income rose to $575,000 or $2.75 a share in 1934 and $617,000 or $3.95 in 1935.

In 1936, net income was $675,000 or $2.39 per common share. The per share figure is less than in 1935 only because the company placed a plan of recapitalization in effect in December, 1936, by which one-half share of $1.60 dividend convertible preferred and one share of $1 per common was issued in exchange for each share of $5 par common stock previously outstanding. Up to this time, only common stock was outstanding. Present capitalization consists of 106,552 preferred and 213,105 common shares.

In the first quarter of 1937 net income was $180,000 or 64 cents per common share, compared with $169,000 or 59 cents in the first quarter of 1936.

Dividends of 40 cents quarterly are being paid on the new common stock. In addition, 20 cents extra was paid June 1, 1937. Including extras, $2.90 a share was paid in 1936 and $2.80 in each of the preceding three years.

North American Car.

Investors' Guide: Can you give me any information as to whether the North American Car company is paying dividends?—M. M.

Answer: No dividends have been paid on the common stock since Jan. 1, 1931, and none on the preferred since Oct. 1, 1931. Preferred dividend arrears amounted to $34.50 per share on June 30, 1937. The company expects to submit some plan for adjusting the arrears before the end of this year.

RAILROADS' JUNE OPERATING PROFIT SHOWS INCREASE

93 Lines Report Increase of 4.4% Over 1936.

Preliminary figures indicate that June operating revenues of the class 1 railroads will show a moderate gain over June, 1936, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

Preliminary reports from 93 railroads, representing 81.2 per cent of total operating revenues, show that these roads had total operating revenues for the month of $280,287,565, an increase of 4.4 per cent over June, 1936. However, these roads had total operating revenues of $366,106,784 in June, 1930, the decline last June from June, 1930, being 23.4 per cent.

Passenger Gain 11 Per Cent.

Freight revenues of the 93 roads in June totaled $223,161,818, an increase of 3.1 per cent over June, 1936, and passenger revenues totaled $32,246,775, an increase of 11 per cent.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad in May had a net loss of $141,856 against a net loss of $150,990 in May, 1936. For the first five months the net loss was $209,833, against a net loss of $523,958 in the corresponding 1936 period.

The Illinois Central railroad, excluding the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad, had a May net loss of $605,356, against a net loss of $487,490 for May, 1936. The net loss for the first five months of this year was $2,158,502, against a net loss of $1,587,119 in the first five months of 1936.

Subsidiary Shows Loss.

The May net loss of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley was $8,911, against a net income of $53,014 in May, 1936. The five months' net income was $195,752, against a net loss of $334,143 in the first five months of 1936.

The operating revenues of the Lehigh Valley railroad for June were estimated yesterday as being approximately $4,100,000. This was a decline of $147,539 from May, 1937, and a decline of $18,147 from June, 1936. With June expenses at about the same ratio as in May, it is expected that the net loss for June will exceed the $205,873 net loss reported for May. The road had a net income of $308,872 in June, 1936.

WEEK'S BUILDING AWARDS RUN FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

New York, July 15.—(AP)—With private projects continuing to show the largest percentage gains engineering construction awards this week were 39 per cent ahead of the corresponding 1936 week, Engineering News-Record reported today. The total was $59,437,000, against $42,689,000 a year ago.

Contributing to the total were contracts for a $3,000,000 plant for the Bendix Aviation corporation at Bendix, N. J.; $2,000,000 for plant improvements by the Republic Steel company at Gadsden, Ala.; $1,200,000 for coke ovens by the Ford Motor company, River Rouge, Mich., and $7,312,000 for a charity hospital at New Orleans.

	1937.	1936.
Public	35,997,000	31,058,000

CHICAGO, MILWAUKEE, ST. PAUL AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY

HENRY A. SCANDRETT, WALTER J. CUMMINGS and GEORGE I. HAIGHT, Trustees.

REQUEST FOR BIDS.

Pursuant to regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Henry A. Scandrett, Walter J. Cummings and George I. Haight, Trustees of the property of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company, hereby request bids for the purchase of $1,920,000 principal amount of equipment trust certificates, to be known as "Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Equipment Trust Certificates, Series R," which are to be issued by Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, Trustee, of the City of Chicago and State of Illinois, under a proposed Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease to be dated as of August 1, 1937, such certificates to mature in fifteen (15) equal annual installments on the first day of August, 1938, to the first day of August, 1952, both inclusive, and to be entitled to dividends at the rate of 3¾% per annum from August 1, 1937, to the respective dates of maturity, payable on the first days of February and August in each year. Such certificates and the dividends thereon will be unconditionally guaranteed by Henry A. Scandrett, Walter J. Cummings and George I. Haight, as Trustees of the property of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company (hereinafter referred to as the Railroad Trustees), but not individually. The obligations of the Railroad Trustees in respect of the Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease and said guaranty shall constitute only the general obligations of the estate of which they are Trustees. The Equipment Trust Agreement will also contain provisions with respect to the assumption of the obligations of the Railroad Trustees under the Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease and said guaranty, or the prematuring of the principal of the equipment trust certificates in the absence of such assumption, in certain cases in the event of the termination of the trusteeship wherein the Railroad Trustees are trustees or the surrender of the trusteeship estate.

The Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease will cover the following equipment (or deposited cash in lieu thereof):

all of which will be standard gauge equipment, consisting of unused material, except that in the case of certain cars, axles recovered from cars retired will be used. Such used material will be free from all liens and encumbrances. The inclusion of such used material is permitted under the interchange rules of the Association of American Railroads defining a new car, and the value thereof is properly chargeable to investment account under the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

It is expected that said equipment will be constructed by the undersigned Railroad Trustees, in their car shops at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, as builders for and agents of the vendors under the proposed Equipment Trust Agreement, pursuant to a construction contract to be entered into between the undersigned Railroad Trustees and such vendors.

In the event that the cost, as defined in said construction contract, of said equipment above described shall not amount to at least $2,562,000, there will be subjected to the Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease sufficient other new railroad equipment (approved as to character by the Railroad Trustees) so that the cost of all the equipment subjected to said Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease will be at least said sum.

In conformity with regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission each bid must state the name and address of the bidder and, if a corporation, the names and addresses of its officers, directors and general manager and purchasing or selling officer or agent in this transaction and, if a firm, partnership or association, the names and addresses of each member and of the manager, purchasing or selling officer or agent in this transaction. Each bid must be enclosed in a plain envelope securely sealed, bearing no indication of the name of the bidder or the amount of the bid, and shall be marked: "Bid under proposed Contract Serial No. R," and addressed to W. W. K. Sparrow, Officer in Charge of Finance, 736 Union Station Building, Chicago, Illinois. Bids must be filed before noon, Central Standard Time, on the 3rd day of August, 1937, at the above address. Bids will be opened between the hours of 2 P. M. and 3 P. M. Central Standard Time on the 3rd day of August, 1937, by John Dickie, Treasurer, or R. P. Rockefeller, Assistant Treasurer, of the above named Railroad Trustees, and notice of acceptance of the successful bid will be sent to the successful bidder not later than noon Central Standard Time on the 5th day of August, 1937.

Persons desiring to bid may obtain the form of bid by applying to W. W. K. Sparrow at the Chicago address given above or to R. J. Marony at the New York office of the Trustees of the property of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company, 52 Wall Street, New York City, New York, and may examine the description of the equipment and other papers, including the proposed Equipment Trust Agreement and Lease, the proposed construction contract, application to Interstate Commerce Commission, and proposed Purchase Contract Serial No. R, at either of the above addresses where copies are on file.

Bids for only a part of the issue will not be accepted and the undersigned Railroad Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids. A certified check, payable to the order of Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, in New York or Chicago funds, in an amount equal to 2 per cent of the principal amount of the Equipment Trust Certificates, must be furnished with each bid, such checks to be returned to the bidders except the check of the successful bidder, whose certified check will be applied on the purchase of said Certificates. The successful bidder will be required within ten (10) days after receipt of notice of the acceptance of his or its bid to enter into and execute the proposed Purchase Contract Serial No. R. The acceptance of any bid and the proposed Purchase Contract Serial No. R will be subject to the authorization of the issue and sale of said Equipment Trust Certificates by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, Eastern Division, in which are pending proceedings for the reorganization of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company, and to the approval of the validity of the Certificates and of all proceedings for the authorization of the issue and sale thereof by Messrs. Cravath, de Gersdorff, Swaine & Wood, 15 Broad Street, New York, N. Y., counsel for the undersigned Railroad Trustees.

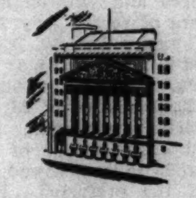
HENRY A. SCANDRETT,
WALTER J. CUMMINGS, and
GEORGE I. HAIGHT,
Trustees of the Property of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company.

Dated, July 13, 1937.

Over 60 columns a day

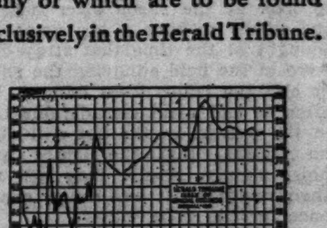
This announcement occupies one newspaper column. Imagine more than 60 like it—side by side. That's the amount of space covered in one edition of the New York Herald Tribune by financial and business news, exclusive of related advertising.

That's a lot of news of any kind. It sums up to one of the biggest and most complete financial sections anywhere... a financial paper within a daily paper. It's gathered by a staff of more than twenty-five who do nothing but dig out news of finance and business...including a permanent Washington financial observer.



That's a lot of men doing one newspaper job...but not more than it takes to collect the infinite variety of financial news demanded by leading bank presidents and vice presidents of New York City and suburbs and members of the Stock Exchange whose favorite newspaper the Herald Tribune is.

That will explain, in part, why its pages are selected regularly for the publication of redemption notices, sinking fund operations, dividends, directors' and stockholders' meetings—many of which are to be found exclusively in the Herald Tribune.



And charts? Tables? All of them. And accurate. Conspicuous among them being the New York Herald Tribune's own Index of General Business made up weekly from 17 base items of finance, distribution and production.

Conclusion: you're a reader who wants to know all about what happened in yesterday's world centers of finance and business—or you're an advertiser who wants to command these centers? The answer to that one today is the Int Telephone May Refinance.

The International Telephone and Telegraph company shortly may retire its $20,882,160 of New York bank loans, probably through new subsidiary financing, financial quarters reported yesterday. These loans, which were renewed for six months when they fell due on May 1, bear 4 per cent interest.

In addition to plans for elimination of the bank loans, the management is studying possible financing in connection with $37,661,100 of convertible debenture 4½ per cent bonds, maturing Jan. 1, 1939, it was reported. A proposal to retire this issue by offering holders their choice of cash or a new bond bearing a lower interest coupon, is said to be under discussion. These bonds are redeemable on sixty days' notice in lots of 10 million dollars or more on any interest date at 102½ and interest.

Reynolds Metals Offers Stock.

R. S. Reynolds, president of the Reynolds Metals company, has announced to stockholders a proposal to offer one new share at $17 for each share now held. The offering involves 64,019 shares and will be made to stockholders of record July 23. The rights will expire Aug. 12, 1937.

The Sharon Steel corporation, Sharon, Pa., has filed a statement covering 20,000 shares of $5 cumulative convertible preferred, no par value, and 57,143 shares of no par value common to be reserved for conversion of the preferred. Proceeds will be used to redeem convertible debentures and for working capital.

Basic Dolomite, Inc., Cleveland, O., has filed a registration statement covering 140,000 shares of common stock.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Sheep Dodge Sun.

July 15, 1937.

HOT July days are making a big change in the habits of sheep on the experimental farm. Instead of going into the fields by day, where they get the full force of the hot sun, the ewes and lambs stay close to the shade. Then around sundown they move out to the pastures to feed through the night.

This is a fine schedule for the ewes. But the lambs apparently don't like it very well. Their trouble is that they lose contact with their mothers. It's dark in the pasture, and possibly some of the lambs lie down for a little catnap. When they wake up the noise starts. Then the lost lambs let go with a chorus of ba-aa-ing that frequently alarms the flockmaster.

Clamor for Mothers.

A few nights ago he went to the pasture around midnight in order to look at the sheep after hearing the lambs making a big noise. He thought at the time that stray dogs were in the field annoying the sheep or else the lambs were hungry. But after he had spent considerable time in the pasture in the hot still night he realized that the lambs were noisy simply because they had lost their mothers. It was a new experience for the little fellows . . . the darkness, the big meadow, and the scattered sheep slowly moving through the dark as they fed across the field.

We were looking at the sheep about 8 o'clock one morning this week. They plainly showed that they didn't like the hot weather and that they had been out all night. There wasn't a ewe or a lamb in the flock that didn't look as if it just wanted to curl up and sleep for a good many hours.

Some of the animals were standing around, their heads down, eyes closed, trying to doze while standing up. Against the barn we saw ewes and lambs stretched out in all sorts of positions . . . all of them sound asleep.

One lazy old ram slowly walked out away from the rest of the flock, ambled around for a few minutes in a tired sort of way and then flopped down for a nap. We made considerable disturbance near this big fellow, but nothing we could do could rouse him from much needed rest after staying up all night to eat grass.

Turkeys Run Wild.

If the turkeys that have gone into the woods don't develop some additional wild traits this summer it'll be no fault of conditions on the farm. The grass is so high and the flowering weeds [as for example the sunflower] and the small trees are so flourishing that the poults and hens have a regular jungle for their home this summer.

As the flockmaster remarked the other day, it's almost impossible to take a census of the poults in the woods because you either can't find all of them or, when found, they can't be counted accurately because of the dense vegetation. Insects are getting more plentiful every day so they get many a meal when they go through the fields and woods.

We saw one old turkey hen just starting out with her gang of poults when we were on the farm the other morning. For some unexplained reason she had brought her family of sixteen into the barnyard the night before. When we saw her she was surrounded by the big poults, all headed for the woods to find insects.

BIG CITY BANKS LEND MORE FOR TRADE PURPOSES

Reduce Security Loans; Reserves Increase.

A larger demand for commercial credit was reflected in the weekly statements of Chicago and New York banks issued yesterday. Commercial loans in the two centers showed an aggregate expansion of 45 million dollars over the preceding week.

Most other types of bank credit in New York declined from the preceding week. Loans to brokers and dealers dropped 60 million dollars and investments in government securities were reduced by 38 millions. Chicago banks increased their government bond investment by 8 millions, but showed slight change in other loans and investments.

Bank Reserves Rise Sharply.

Bank reserves in New York and Chicago and for the country as a whole rose sharply last week as the result of contraction in the amount of money in circulation and a decrease in the federal treasury's deposits with the central banks. The federal funds withdrawn from the central banks found their way into commercial channels and ultimately back to the banks. This process, as well as the return of currency to the banks, serves to swell reserves. The aggregate increase in total reserves held in excess of legal requirements was 80 millions over the preceding week.

Surplus Reserve Nearly Billion.

Surplus reserve now stand at 960 million dollars, compared with the record peak of slightly more than 3 billion dollars reached prior to the reserve board's increase in the required quotas.

American monetary gold supples were swelled 47 million dollars during the week as importations from Europe continued. The inflow of the metal was maintained in heavy volume, although the price of gold in London has been above the New York shipping parity much of the time during the last week.

New Jersey Utility Starts 12 Million Improvement

New York, July 15.—[Special.]—The Public Service Electric and Gas company announced today a $12,000,000 enlargement and improvement program is being launched in the southern part of New Jersey to increase generating and transmission facilities throughout the state. Work will center at the Burlington power station, where a new 100,000 kilowatt turbine generator will be built. The Trenton switching station will be enlarged.

CHICAGO STOCKS

OPENING QUOTATIONS ADDED

Because of numerous requests from readers opening prices of all stocks are now included in this table. The "dividend yield" column, for many years an exclusive feature in THE TRIBUNE'S stock quotation tables, has been dropped because most corporations have been forced by the new tax on undivided earnings to abandon the old practice of paying a fixed dividend return. Thus, the daily calculation of "dividend yield," where based on incomplete dividend information, has become not only confusing but, in many cases, actually misleading. To compute the yield on a preferred stock or a common stock still on a fixed income basis divide the amount paid in dividends for the year by the closing price of the stock. The table will continue to carry the amount of dividends paid per share.

HOGS REBOUND ON ABNORMALLY SMALL RECEIPTS

Only 6,000 Arrive; Week's Totals 56% Under 1936.

The hog market rebounded sharply yesterday on record low Thursday receipts, recovering most of the losses of the preceding two sessions. The upturn occurred despite discouraging news from wholesale pork markets, which are still in the doldrums as a result of the consumers' fight against high meat prices and hot weather throughout most of the country.

Top prices at $12.55 showed an advance of 20 cents, while the average came up 15 cents to $11.40, although there were numerous instances of 25 cent upturns in packing sows.

Upturn in Lard Is Factor.

The recent upswing of lard prices and the decline of lard stocks, which amounted to over 3½ million pounds in Chicago last month, have strengthened the position of the trade for "lard hogs."

Hog receipts were estimated at 6,000, the smallest on record for a Thursday in July, barring the strike period in 1934, and less than half the available supply of the previous Thursday. Eleven markets in the first four days of this week received 130,000 hogs, a decline of 74,000 head, or 56 per cent, from a year ago, which represents a reduction of more than 13,000,000 pounds of pork.

Cattle Dull and Weak.

Desultory buying marked the cattle trade yesterday and prices weakened despite a derth of supplies. Receipts at 3,500 head were smallest for a Thursday since July, 1935, but with packers being forced to grant further concessions of 50 cents to $1 in wholesale beef, there was little incentive to stock up more supplies in their plants at present costs.

The bulk of steers and yearlings sold 75 cents to $1 below a week ago.

Lambs gave ground under pressure again, selling 25 to 50 cents lower for the day and $1.25 to $1.50 under a week ago. Top sales at $10.65 established a new low for the season.

WHEAT PRICES FALL WITH RAIN IN NORTHWEST

Spring Crop Expected to Be Benefited.

wheat in the southwest showed evidence of dwindling yesterday, only about 3,800,000 bushels of cash grain being received at nine markets, compared with 5,100,000 bushels a week ago.

Corn Futures Irregular.

July and September corn futures, which represent grain from the 1936 crop, resisted the weakness in wheat and closed ⅛ cent higher to ¼ cent lower. December corn, however, was 1⅜ cents lower due to favorable weather for the new crop.

Oats were unchanged to ⅛ cent lower, with some buying of the July delivery based on continued good commercial demand for the cash article. Rye declined as much as 2¼ cents in sympathy with wheat and on hedging pressure. Soy bean futures were ¾ cent higher to 1¼ cents a bushel lower.

"ALL TIME LOW" IN CANADA

OTTAWA, July 15.—[Special.]—A total wheat crop of 150,000,000 bushels this year for the three Canadian prairie provinces—an all-time low—was the estimate presented to the dominion cabinet today by Hon. James Gardiner, minister of agriculture, who later outlined to newspaper men the desperate situation in Saskatchewan and Alberta and the plans formulated by the federal government to meet it.

Last year's farm rehabilitation plan, for which parliament voted $1,000,000, will be continued and extended as will be the practice of having western cattle fed and marketed in the east and of moving cattle to better feed areas in the west, with 100 per cent direct relief to the destitute within the drouth area.

Nearly one million people contained within an area of 50,000,000 acres are directly affected by western Canada's worst drouth. The minister of agriculture vehemently opposes forcible acreage reduction.

OTHER CROP REPORTS

Official reports yesterday indicated sufficient rain had been received in parts of northern and southern Alberta in the last few days to eliminate drouth. In the central portions of that province, however, the precipitation was light and of little benefit unless there is further moisture in the immediate future.

More than 4 inches of rain fell in the Edmonton, Alberta, area within 48 hours, and a grain man there estimated it had added probably 2 bushels per acre to the prospective wheat crop in that territory. There were approximately 1,500,000 acres of wheat harvested in the Edmonton district in 1936.

Drouth and heat have ruined the grain crops over large sections of the American and Canadian northwest, according to reports received yesterday from crop experts.

R. O. Cromwell in a report to Lamson Bros. & Co. from Moose Jaw, Sask., estimated probably 95 per cent of the fields between Battleford and Saskatoon, 106 miles, would not be harvested this year, while between Saskatoon and Chamberlain, 110 miles, about 30 to 60 per cent of the fields were worthless for grain production. The remainder of the fields in the latter area promised to return only seed, or about 6 bushels per acre.

A Canadian crop expert yesterday reported that all crops between Glendive, Mont., and Williston, N. D., 225 miles were a failure and the fields were in such poor condition that they would not be cut for feed. Between Williston and Minot, N. D., 70 miles, wheat prospects range from a failure to a prospective 14 bushels per acre.

Between Minot and Devils Lake, N. D., 130 miles, wheat improves but i sinfected with red rust, he says, although not as bad as in 1935. Early maturnig wheat, he said, would probably escape serious rust damage. Durum wheat promises to be a very good crop.

IF YOU HAVE AMBITION,
IF YOU WILL WORK HARD,
IF YOU WANT TO GET OUT OF THE RUT

then we have a real opportunity for you selling an article for the kitchen that has no competition. Nothing else like it on the market. Real chance for promotion as we are expanding nationally and need leaders. No house to house canvassing. Live leads furnished. High cash commission paid in advance. We go out with you and make sales and give you the orders and the money to get you started—in other words we give 100% co-operation. Product manufactured by a company with triple A rating. No deposit required.

Call at our factory—2742 W. 36th-place, Chicago, at 2 p. m. Friday and see this wonderful product demonstrated. A light lunch will be served immediately after the demonstration.

DON'T FORGET, 2 P. M. SHARP, FRIDAY.

A-1 SALESMEN.

We will employ several salesmen to call on grocers, drug and delicatessen stores, taverns, restaurants, clubs and any other place where bottled beverages or perishable food is sold. Unlimited commission income payable twice a week.

The nationally known Koldrink beverage cooler manufactured and sold direct by the Crosley Co. is in great demand. Factory flooded with orders. Only ½ day necessary to learn general fundamentals.

Present salesmen are enjoying large income checks now and at the same time preparing themselves for a permanent future and promotion.

Serious and conscientious men who are looking for a good connection and a good income will be interviewed, and if selected must be ready to start at once. See Mr. Geis.

"I Killed Her," Confesses Missouri Pastor—Recover Bodies of Twenty Killed in Indiana Mine Blast

Preacher Confesses Slaying Woman

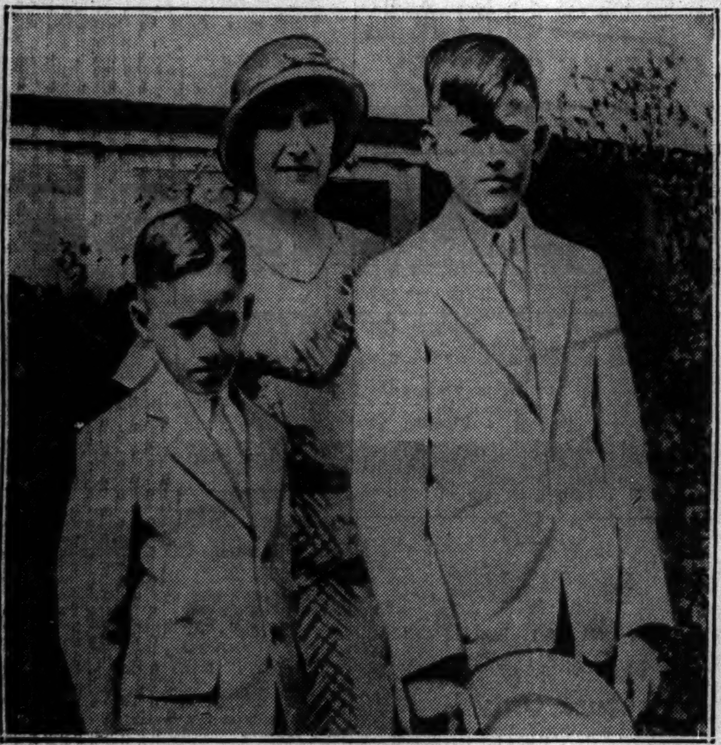
The Rev. C. E. Newton, age 51, in cell at Pittsfield, Ill., after being arrested in the strange death of Mrs. Dennis Kelly of Paris, Mo. The preacher yesterday admitted the slaying after being linked to it by circumstantial evidence. He is also from Paris.



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Mrs. Dennis Kelly, the victim, with her two sons, Francis (left) and Gene. The minister said that he hit her on the head with a hammer and then threw her body into the Mississippi river at the Mark Twain bridge, Hannibal, Mo. Her body was taken from the river above Louisiana, Mo. Mrs. Kelly was a member of the Rev. Mr. Newton's congregation and sided with him in a church dispute.

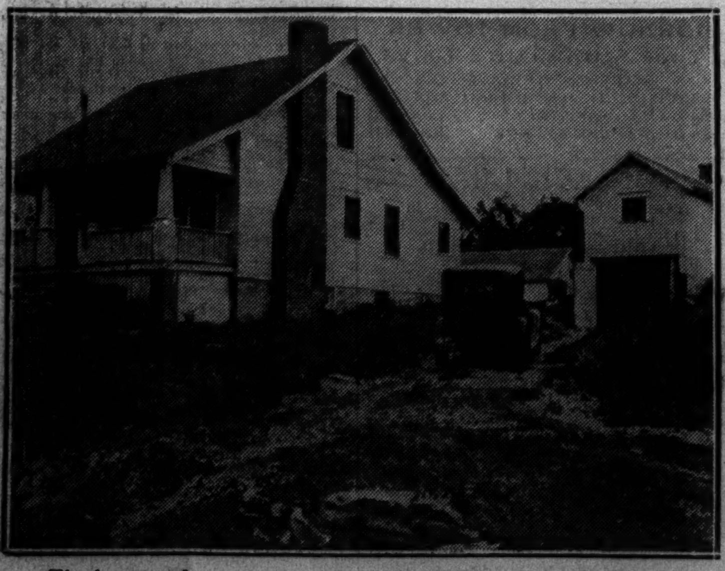
Included in the circumstantial evidence against Newton, before his confession, was this hole, three feet by six feet, in his garage. It was believed that it might have been intended for a grave.



The home and garage of the Rev. Mr. Newton in Paris, Mo., was carefully searched for clews. Strongest evidence against him came from his wife, who broke down his alibi that he was home when the crime was committed, and from his son and foster daughter, who burned slain woman's luggage. HIS FATHER IS SUED FOR "RESCUING" HIM FROM BLONDE—Thomas W. Warner, retired automobile parts manufacturer, was sued for $510,000 in Los Angeles yesterday by Mrs. Pearl Antibus, Hollywood detective, as result of raid on her home to "rescue" Thomas Warner Jr. (left) from Mrs. Jean McDonald (right). (Story on page 20.)

Twenty Killed in Indiana Coal Mine Explosion

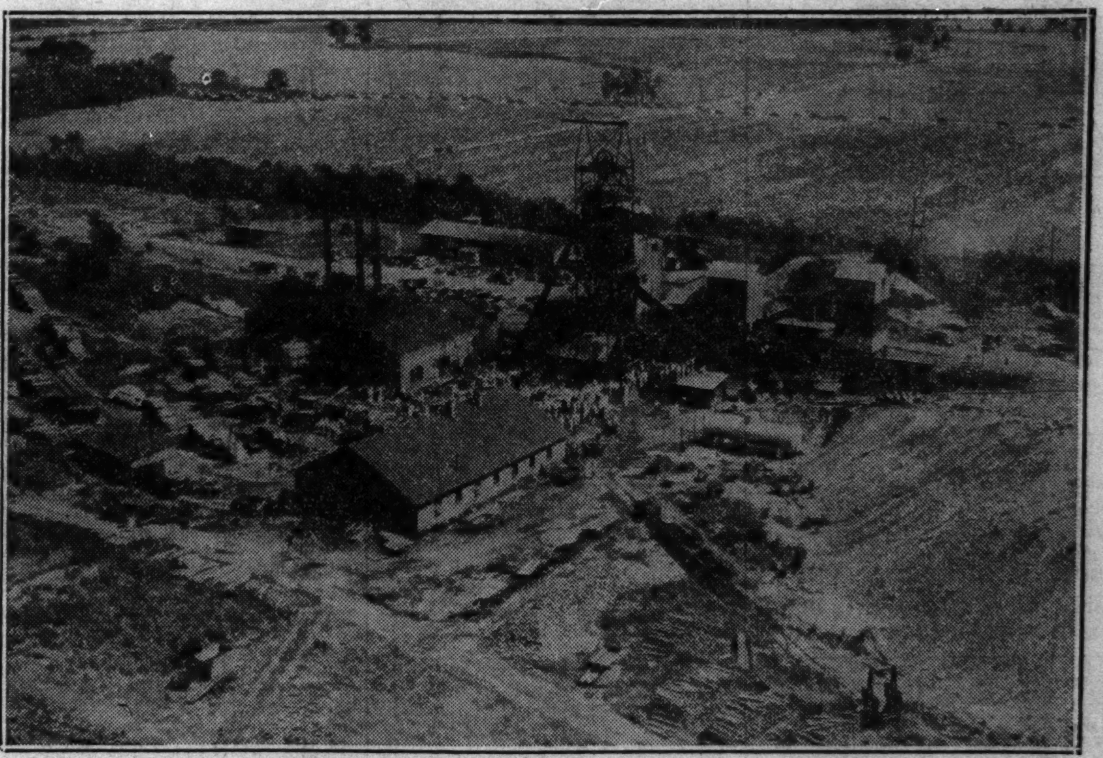
The crowd around the entrance to the Baker mine of the Glendora Coal company, five miles northeast of Sullivan, Ind., yesterday after fire and blast had trapped twenty-nine men in the main pit entrance. Twenty were killed, three were seriously burned, and the other six slightly injured. All the bodies of the victims have been recovered.



This air view of the Baker mine was taken yesterday by a Chicago Tribune photographer while thousands of friends and relatives of the miners and scores of rescue crews were on the scene waiting for the final word about the trapped men.

Anxious relatives of the entombed men gathered at the pit entrance hoping against hope that their loved ones would be saved. This is a camera study of one family group. There were 203 men in the pit at the time of the blast, but all but 29 of them were far away from the fatal passageway. Those not trapped made their way to the surface uninjured. [TRIBUNE Photos: Brought to Chicago by airplane.]
